TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter VI—Solid Fuels Administration for War

[Order 15]

PART 601—ADMINISTRATIVE; GENERAL

ORDER ESTABLISHING SFAW NATIONAL ADVISORY COKE COMMITTEE

On December 31, 1943, the Chairman of the War Production Board delegated to the Solid Fuels Administrator for War authority and discretion to control the distribution of coke by any person to any domestic consumer and the use of coke by any domestic consumer (WPB Directive 33, 9 F.R. 64). On April 28, 1944, the authority and discretion thus delegated over the distribution of coke was extended to the distribution of coke "intended for use by any domestic consumer from any producer to any wholesale or retail dealer, or from one dealer to another dealer, or from any producer, wholesale or retail dealer to any domestic consumer and over the use of coke by any domestic consumer" (Amendment 1 to Directive 33, 9 F.R. 4580).

It would be very helpful in performing the tasks thus delegated by the War Production Board, and in generally carrying out the purposes of Executive Order No. 9332, if, in conformity with the policy of the Solid Fuels Administration for War, an advisory group representative of the coke distribution industry were available to assist the Solid Fuels Administration for War. Accordingly, the following order is issued by the Solid Fuels Administrator for War:

§ 601.61 Establisment and functions of the SFAW National Advisory Coke Committee. A committee designated as the SFAW National Advisory Coke Committee is hereby created to furnish (a) such information and advice as may be requested from time to time by the Solid Fuels Administration for War and (b) any information and advice which the committee believes would help in carrying out the purposes of Executive Order No. 9332, WPB Directive 33 and Amendment 1 thereto. The members of this committee shall serve without compensation.

This order shall become effective immediately.

(E.O. 9332, 8 F.R. 5355; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a), 54 Stat. 676, as amended by 55 Stat. 236 and 56 Stat. 176; WPB Directive 33, 9 F.R. 64; Amdt. 1 to Directive 33, 9 F.R. 4580)

Issued this 17th day of May 1944.

[General Preference Order M-65, as Amended May 18, 1944]

§ 1044.1 General Preference Order M-65—(a) Scope of this order. This order controls deliveries of cadmium from a producer or distributor. No producer or distributor shall deliver cadmium to any person, and no person shall accept delivery of cadmium from any producer or distributor, except as provided in this order. The order also restricts the use which may be made of cadmium or cadmium products. The permitted uses will be found listed below in paragraphs (d) and (e).

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Cadmium" means all grades of metallic cadmium, oxide, or plating salts produced directly from ores, concentrates or other primary materials, or redistilled or remelted from cadmium scrap or any secondary cadmium-bearing material; or cadmium-bearing materials suitable for the manufacture of pigments.

(2) "Cadmium product" means an electroplated coating of cadmium.

(3) "Distributor" means any person regularly engaged in the business of buying cadmium and selling the same in forms suitable for general fabrication or electroplating. It also includes laboratory supply houses to the extent they are engaged in buying and selling cadmium in any form to laboratories.

(c) Deliveries of cadmium. Producers and distributors may deliver cadmium, and persons may accept delivery of cadmium from a producer or distributor in the following cases only:

(1) Small order delivery. Deliveries of cadmium from a producer or distributor may be made and accepted without the necessity of obtaining any specific authorization from the War Production Board if (i) The delivery in question, combined with all other deliveries of cadmium to the purchaser during that calendar month, from whatever source, will not aggregate more than 100 pounds of contained cadmium; (ii) The purchaser has not requested from the War Production Board authorization for that particular month to accept delivery of cadmium in any quantity—see paragraph (c) (5) below (a request to the War Production Board shall be deemed a request within the meaning of this paragraph, regardless of whether it has been granted or denied); (iii) The cadmium purchased will be used only as permitted in paragraphs (d) and (e) of this order and not for resale; (iv) The inventory of the purchaser is not, and will not upon acceptance of the delivery become, in excess of a 30-day supply on the basis of his current method and rate of operation; and (v) The producer or distributor may make deliveries without any specific authorization from the War Production Board unless he knows or has reason to believe, that the delivery will be in violation of this paragraph (c) (1) or that the cadmium delivered is to be used in violation of the restrictions of this or other applicable orders of the War Production Board.

(2) Deliveries to distributors. Deliveries of cadmium may be made to and accepted by distributors.

(3) Deliveries to Metals Reserve Company. Deliveries of cadmium may be made to and accepted by Metals Reserve Company for the sole purpose of stockpiling or redistribution.

(4) Deliveries to laboratories. Deliveries of cadmium may be made to and accepted by laboratories.

NOTE: Subparagraph (3), formerly (4), redesignated May 18, 1944.

(5) WPB Authorization. Other deliveries of cadmium may be made only on specific authorization of the War Production Board and in accordance with an authorization certificate issued by the War Production Board on Form WPB-945. Deliveries so specifically authorized shall take precedence over any preference rating which may be assigned to deliveries on other contract or orders. Authorization certificates will be issued on or about the first of each month for this purpose. An authorization certificate will authorize the holder to accept from a producer or distributor deliveries of specified amounts of cadmium shipped during the month for which the certificate is issued. The producer or distributor may ship on notification from the purchaser of the date and serial number of the authorization certificate. Any person wishing to apply for an authorization certificate should file an application on Form WPB-945 not later than the fifteenth day of the month preceding the month in which the authorization to purchase is desired.

(d) Restrictions on the use of cadmium. No person may use in any fashion any cadmium except for one or more of the following purposes, and then only to the extent necessary to meet applicable specifications or for the proper service performance of the end product, and to maintain a thirty-day supply of the cadmium containing item on the basis of current rate of deliveries for permitted uses. No person who uses cadmium may deliver the cadmium containing item to any person except on receipt by him, directly or through a dealer, from the person who will receive delivery of the cadmium containing item, of a certification substantially in the form prescribed by Priorities Regulation No. 7 that the cadmium containing item to be delivered will be used for one or more of the following purposes:

(1) For the manufacture of pigments for the following:

Luminescent printing ink for military uses
Luminescent paper for military uses
Luminescent plastic for military uses
Signal and illuminating glass ware for safety, religious, military and industrial uses only

Rubber sea buoys
Dental rubber
Artist's colors
X-ray fluoroscopic screens for medical purposes

(2) For the manufacture of silver brazing alloys containing no more than 11% by weight of cadmium to be used for military and industrial purposes to the extent that the use of a less critical material is impracticable except that silver brazing alloys containing up to 19% may be manufactured for applications specifically required by the Armed Services and for identical industrial applications.

(10) For the manufacture of electrolytic testers for storage batteries.

(11) For the manufacture of cadmium impregnated carbon or of cadmium-silver alloys for use as contacts in electric current interruption devices.

(12) For use in laboratories for research, control, analysis, assaying, or educational work.

(13) For the manufacture of cadmium chemicals.

(e) Restrictions on the use of cadmium products. No person may use in any fashion any cadmium product except as permitted in subparagraphs (1) to (22), and then only to the extent necessary to meet applicable specifications or for the proper service performance of the end product:

(1) On functional parts which in service are subjected to frequent and extended periods of alternate immersion in sea water or wet spray of sea water to the extent that other finishes cannot be used for reasons of close tolerance or performance;

(8) On electrical contact parts of aircraft ignition harnesses and propeller hubs;

(9) On parts of electrical equipment to the extent that they, for performance reasons, must be soldered with the use of noncorrosive fluxes and other finishes do not provide required corrosion protection.

(10) On the following parts of electronic equipment when required by the Armed Services, the Maritime Commission and War Shipping Administration:

(i) Surfaces involved in unsoldered butt joints which must remain constant in electrical and radio frequency resistance or both.

(ii) Surfaces which require good conductivity for radio frequency current.

(iii) Non-ferrous parts in contact with aluminum parts for prevention of electrolytic corrosion.

(11) On ferrous nuts, bolts, machine screws and washers for use in aircraft except for self-locking nuts designed for application below 250° F;

(12) On nuts, bolts, machine screws and studs having threads ⅜ inch diameter and smaller and/or having sixteen or more threads per inch for use by the United States Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration and for use by the United States Army in ship construction.

(13) On parts subject to frictional contact at least one of which is a moving part, to the extent that other finishes of required thickness and corrosion protective value cause gouging, seizure or binding.

(14) On parts which in service are subjected to the corrosive action of chlorine except on items which contact chlorine only during laundry operations.

(15) On parts of items classified as secret, to the extent that certification of engineering necessity issued by the Armed Service has been filed with the first request for Allocation for this use on Form WPB–945.

(16) On high carbon steel springs and on parts which of necessity have been assembled with such springs before the plating operation, to the extent that the springs are subject to both alternating stresses of a magnitude approaching the fatigue limit of the steel and to corrosive influences requiring a high degree of corrosion protection, if the springs fall in one of the following categories:

(i) Flat springs of a thickness of 3/32 inch or less;

(ii) Springs made of wire of a diameter of ⅛ inch or less;

(iii) Valve springs for marine Diesel engines; or

(20) On hydraulic fitting coupling sleeves made of copper alloys for use in aircraft.

(21) On electrical contact parts which touch parts of aluminum, magnesium or their alloys.

(22) On torpedo parts.

(f) Certification on purchase orders. No person shall place an order for, deliver or accept delivery of any cadmium or cadmium product, unless the purchaser shall have certified in substantially the form set forth in Priorities Regulation No. 7 that the cadmium products to be delivered will be used for a purpose permitted by this order.

(g) Appeals. Any person may appeal from the provisions of paragraphs (d) or (e) of this order in letter form, in triplicate, and filed with the Field Office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant to which the appeal relates, setting forth essentially the following information where applicable. The reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

PART 1226—GENERAL INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT

EVAPORATIVE COOLERS FOR CIVILIAN USE IN DESERT AREAS

The following direction is issued pursuant to Limitation Order L–38.

Direction regarding desert coolers. It has been determined that production of a limited amount of evaporative coolers ("desert coolers") for the use of certain civilians living in the arid regions of the western part of the country, will be permitted, to the extent that this may be found feasible without causing interference with other more essential programs.

Order L–38 prohibits manufacture of evaporative coolers rated less than 2,000 c. f. m. and restricts manufacture of larger sizes, and permits delivery of the larger sizes subject to certain restrictions. Such production as may be permitted under this direction is in addition to that provided for by Order L–38, but may not be commenced until the particular manufacturer has received a specific authorization to produce a specified number of coolers, and when he has received such authorization, the coolers which he produces may be delivered only for the purposes and under the conditions stated below.

How a prospective producer may apply for an authorization. Any evaporative cooler manufacturer may apply for an authorization to produce some of the coolers contemplated by this direction, by filing with the District Office of the War Production Board for the district in which the manufacturing is to be done, on or before May 29, 1944, by letter in triplicate, an application stating:

(1) The total number of such coolers which he wishes to produce, and

(2) The total number of motors he proposes to use which are available from inventories of used motors or from inventories of new motors in his hands or in the hands of another evaporative cooler manufacturer on April 1, 1944, and obtained for making such kind of coolers, or from inventories of new motors which a Regional Office of the War Production Board has certified as being frozen, idle, or excess stock, and the name and address of the holder and the quantity in such stock, and

(3) The quantity of other materials which he will need to obtain from frozen, idle, or excess materials under Priorities Regulation 13, and

(4) (a) The total number of production workers necessary for assembling these coolers; (b) the total number of employees to be transferred from other operations in his plant, indicating the relation of these employees to his war work. If war contracts are being terminated, cut back, or completed, indicate date, type of production under contract, procuring agency, and number and type of employees involved.

If the prospective manufacturer needs to get any motors or other materials which he is unable to buy because he cannot furnish the necessary ratings or meet other requirements under Priorities Regulation 13, he may apply on Form WPB–1161 for permission to purchase such materials from the frozen, idle, or excess stocks of a holder who qualifies to make a special sale of those materials under that regulation. If he wishes to use frozen, idle or excess motors in his own inventory, his request to use these should be included in his letter of application to produce. This should be filed with his application for an authorization to produce coolers under this direction. No preference rating will be assigned, as it is the intent that only frozen, idle or excess materials should be obtained.

If his application to produce is authorized, in whole or in part, he will be issued an authorization to purchase any frozen, idle, or excess materials needed and known to be available for delivery as a special sale under Priorities Regulation 13, whenever the material is of a kind which requires such an authorization under that Regulation.

How coolers authorized under this direction may be delivered. Any manufacturer who is authorized to produce any evaporative coolers under this direction must not deliver any of them, regardless of their size, except to fill an order approved by the War Production Board on Form WPB–1319. Deliveries will be approved only for use in the arid regions of the West and applications by purchasers on Form WPB–1319 may be filed only with the local offices of the War Production Board in San Francisco or Los Angeles, California or Phoenix, Arizona. No preference rating will be assigned on such forms, as it is not intended that any person supplying such coolers to a user shall replace in his inventory any motors or other materials used in their production; however, a manufacturer who has been authorized to produce them may deliver them either directly to the purchaser who has obtained approval on Form WPB–1319 or through a dealer. Any person purchasing a cooler under an authorization on Form WPB–1319 may use the standard certification permitted by Priorities Regulation 7.

As used in this direction, "evaporator cooler" (sometimes known as a "desert cooler"), means any equipment designed to lower the temperature of air by means of the evaporation of water, and consisting primarily of a housing, a fan powered by a fractional horsepower motor, and an evaporative medium such as wetted excelsior, it does not include an "evaporative condenser" or "air washer", as these terms are commonly used in the industry.

This direction shall apply to the production and delivery of all evaporative coolers produced under it, notwithstanding any inconsistent provisions of Limitation Order L–38.

Issued this 18th day of May 1944.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

MAINTENANCE, REPAIR AND OPERATING SUPPLIES

§ 3175.5 CMP Regulation 5—(a) Purpose and scope. (1) The purpose of this regulation is to provide a uniform procedure for obtaining maintenance, repair and operating supplies, both in the case of controlled materials obtained by use of allotment symbols under the Controlled Materials Plan and in the case of materials or products obtained by preference ratings. Persons requiring maintenance, repair and operating supplies, in any form, in such quantities as are available from warehouses or distributors under CMP Regulation No. 4, or at retail without preference ratings or allotments, may obtain the same without using the procedure provided in this regulation, but subject to all applicable limitations in War Production Board regulations and orders.

(2) The provisions of this regulation shall not apply to any governmental agency (other than Claimant Agencies) or to any institution, as the same are defined in paragraphs (b) (1) and (b) (2) of CMP Regulation No. 5A, regardless of whether it is engaged in the production of any product or in any activity or service listed in any schedule attached to this regulation or not. Procedures for the obtaining of maintenance, repair and operating supplies by such governmental agencies and by such persons and institutions are provided under CMP Regulation No. 5A. This regulation is also inapplicable to certain purchases by Claimant Agencies or for export as more fully provided in paragraph (g).

(3) [Deleted Feb. 26, 1944]

NOTE: Canadians will obtain MRO in the United States under Canadian Order PO 5 B.

(b) Definitions. Maintenance, repair and operating supplies and minor capital additions (which are sometimes collectively referred to as "MRO") have the following meanings in this regulation and in other War Production Board regulations and orders unless otherwise indicated:

(1) "Maintenance" means the minimum upkeep necessary to continue a facility in sound working condition, and "repair" means the restoration of a facility to sound working condition when the same has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, failure of parts or the like: Provided, That neither maintenance nor repair shall include the improvement of any plant, facility or equipment, by replacing material which is still usable, with material of a better kind, quality or design, except as provided in paragraph (b) (3) of this regulation.[1]

(2) "Operating supplies" means any materials or products which are normally carried by a person as operating supplies according to established accounting practice and are not included in his finished product, except that materials included in such product which are normally chargeable to operating expense may be treated as operating supplies. The term also includes such items as hand tools purchased by their employer for sale to his employees for use only in his business, in those cases where they would constitute operating supplies under established accounting practice if issued to employees without charge.[2]

(3) Minor capital additions may be obtained under the procedures provided for in this regulation for obtaining maintenance, repair and operating supplies where the cost of the minor capital addition does not exceed $500 (excluding the purchaser's cost of labor) for any one complete capital addition. The term "one complete capital addition" includes a group of items customarily purchased together and all items which would normally be purchased as part of a single project or plan. No capital addition shall be subdivided for the purpose of coming within this paragraph, and where the capital addition involves construction, authorization to construct must be obtained to the extent required by Conservation Order L-41 or by any other applicable order or regulation of the War Production Board.[3]

(4) Production materials required by a manufacturer for physical incorporation in his products, which products he sells for use as maintenance, repair or operating supplies, may be obtained as provided in CMP Regulation No. 1 and in CMP Regulation No. 3, and such production materials shall not be deemed maintenance, repair or operating supplies, as to such manufacturer.

(c) Controlled materials. (1) Subject to the quantity restrictions contained in paragraph (f) of this regulation, any person engaged in the business of producing any product or conducting any business listed in Schedule I or II, requiring delivery of any controlled material, for maintenance, repair or operating supplies in the conduct of such business,[4] may obtain the same by placing on his delivery order substantially the following certification (or the alternative form of certification provided in CMP Regulation No. 7), signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

CMP allotments symbol MRO—The undersigned certifies, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that the controlled materials covered by this order are required for essential maintenance, repair or operating supplies, to be used for a purpose listed in Schedule I or Schedule II of CMP Regulation No. 5 and that delivery thereof will not result in a violation of the quantity restrictions contained in paragraph (f) of said regulation.

An order bearing such certification shall constitute an authorized controlled material order.

(2) [Deleted Feb. 26, 1944]

(3) [Deleted Feb. 26, 1944]

(d) Preference ratings for maintenance, repair and operating supplies. (1) Subject to the quantity restrictions contained in paragraph (f) of this regulation, orders calling for delivery of maintenance, repair or operating supplies other than controlled materials (regardless of whether such supplies be Class A products, Class B products, or other products or materials) are hereby assigned preference ratings as follows:

(i) AA-1 for maintenance or repair of facilities required for producing any product or conducting any business listed in Schedule I or for necessary operating supplies for such production or business;

(ii) AA-2 for maintenance or repair of facilities required for producing any product or conducting any business listed in Schedule II or for necessary operating supplies for such production or business; and

(iii) AA-5 for necessary maintenance or repair of facilities required for producing any product or conducting any business not listed in Schedule I or Schedule II or for necessary operating supplies for any such purpose.[5]

(2) A preference rating assigned under this paragraph (d) shall be applied only by use of the following certification (or the alternative form of certification provided in CMP Regulation No. 7), signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

Preference rating ------- (specify rating)—MRO. The undersigned certifies, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that the items covered by this order are required for essential maintenance repair or operating supplies; that this order is rated and placed in compliance with CMP Regulation No. 5; and that the delivery requested will not result in a violation of the quantity restrictions contained in paragraph (f) of said regulation.

(3) [Deleted Feb. 26, 1944]

(e) Plants engaged in several activities. If a single plant or operating unit is engaged in several activities which are not all listed on the same schedule (or if some are so listed and others are unlisted), and it is impracticable to apportion requirements for maintenance, repair and operating supplies between such activities, the principal activity alone shall be considered for purposes of determining whether controlled materials may be obtained under paragraph (c) of this regulation and also for determining which preference ratings may be applied under paragraph (d).

(f) Quantity restrictions. A person who uses the MRO rating or symbol assigned by this regulation must not buy any more material and products than is permitted under this paragraph.

(1) General quota. A person must not order for delivery [6] in any calendar quarter MRO (maintenance, repair and operating supplies) costing more than one-fourth of what he spent for MRO in 1942 (or his fiscal year ending nearest to December 31, 1942).

(2) Seasonal quota. A person engaged in a seasonal business must not order MRO for delivery [6] in any calendar quarter in an amount more than the amount he spent for MRO in the corresponding quarter of 1942. A person may choose either the seasonal quota explained in this paragraph or the general quota explained in sub-paragraph (1) above, but he may not afterwards change to the other quota without special authorization by the War Production Board.

(3) Quota for new businesses. In the case of a plant or other operating unit which was not in operation during the base periods mentioned in subparagraphs (1) or (2) above, the person operating the plant may take as a quota the amount he spent for MRO during the first quarter of 1943 (or during the part of the quarter the plant was in operation) reasonably adjusted for seasonal or other variable factors. However, he must first notify the War Production Board, in writing, of the base which he is taking, why he is selecting that base, and what adjustments he has made. In the case of a plant starting operations after February 28, 1943, MRO may be bought under this regulation in the minimum amounts necessary for operation up to $5,000 per quarter. If more than this amount is needed, application may be made to the War Production Board as provided in paragraph (f) (8).

(4) When increased quotas can be used as a base. If a person's quota has been increased by specific authorization of the War Production Board pursuant to application, he may continue to operate on the basis of the increased quota. However, if a substantial part of the increase was to take care of an abnormal situation, as for example, where he required a large amount of special tools and equipment in order to produce a new product, he may not use that increased quota as a base.

(5) How to figure the quota. In figuring his quota, a person must include every expenditure during the base period which he charged to a maintenance, repair or operating supplies account. He must not include any expenditure which was charged to a capital account. In each quarter he must charge against his quota (i) everything he buys for MRO, whether he uses the MRO rating and symbol, or another rating or symbol, or no rating; and (ii) material and products he buys for minor capital additions for which he uses the MRO rating or symbol. (Note, that in deciding whether a single capital addition falls within the cost limits of paragraph (b) (3), the cost of all material and products must be included whether a preference rating or symbol is used or not). In figuring his quota, a person may at his option exclude the cost of his own labor, or the cost of any item on List A or B of Priorities Regulation No. 3, as long as he excludes cost of such items both from the computation of the quota and from charges against the quota.

(6) Records. Each person who is subject to this paragraph (f) must figure his quota and must keep his computation and supporting work sheets in his files for two years after his last purchase under the regulation. He must indicate on his computation any election which he makes under this paragraph (f), and in the case of paragraph (f) (3) "Quota for new businesses" or (f) (4) "When increased quotas can be used as a base", he must indicate the base which he selects. He must also maintain a record of his expenditure for a period of not less than two years.

(7) Treatment of separate plants. A person who has several plants or other operating units which maintain separate records of maintenance, repair and operating supplies shall treat each of them separately for purposes of complying with the provisions of this paragraph (f).

(8) Applications for increased quota. In any case where the quota provided in this paragraph (f) is not enough for necessary operations, a person may apply for a larger quota by letter in triplicate sent to the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Reference: CMP Regulation 5, stating the relevant facts.

(9) Persons who use less than $5,000 a year worth of MRO not limited. The quantity restrictions in this paragraph (f) shall not apply to persons whose aggregate requirements of maintenance, repair and operating supplies do not exceed $5,000 per year.

(10) Further reports and limitations in special cases. The War Production Board may, by further regulations or orders, require specified persons or classes of persons to file applications or reports regarding their requirements of maintenance, repair and operating supplies and may prescribe specific quantitative limits for the same, either larger or smaller than the limits provided above in this paragraph (f).

(g) Special provisions for Claimant Agencies, exports and ship repairs. Maintenance, repair and operating supplies, required either by a Claimant Agency (except for the purposes mentioned in Schedule I or II) or for export, as regular procurement items covered by specific programs, and material required for ship repairs programmed by the Maritime Commission, shall not be obtained under this regulation, but, if they are controlled materials or Class A products, shall be obtained only by the use of allotments in the same manner as production materials under CMP Regulation No. 1, and, if they are other materials or products, shall be obtained only by such preference ratings as may be specifically assigned for the purpose.

(g-1) Use of customer's or tenant's MRO symbol and rating. (1) Any person (such as a service repair shop) engaged in the business of doing maintenance or repair work for others may use the same allotment symbol and preference rating (including any allotment symbol or preference rating assigned for MRO by CMP Regulation 5A or any P or U order) to obtain materials needed in the performance of the work which his customer would be entitled to use if the customer did the work himself. The cost of materials used in the performance of maintenance or repair work shall be treated as expenditures of the customer for the purpose of computing his quantity restrictions under paragraph (f). A person engaged in such business may, instead, request an allotment of controlled materials and a preference rating by applying to the War Production Board on Form CMP-4B, but, if he does so, he must use that method exclusively and may not use a customer's rating or symbol.

(2) A landlord may use his tenant's allotment symbol and rating to obtain maintenance, repair and operating supplies (including controlled materials) for the leased property if the tenant is engaged in the production of a product or in a business listed in Schedule I or II or if the tenant is assigned a rating or symbol for MRO CMP Regulation 5A or by any P or U order; but if the same property is occupied by several tenants and the supplies are not for the exclusive benefit of a single tenant the landlord may only use a tenant's rating if 75 percent or more of the leased property is leased to tenants on Schedule I or II and, in such case, if any are on Schedule II, he can only use the AA-2 rating.

(3) A person who leases equipment to others which he agrees to keep in good order may use either his own or his customer's rating and symbol (regardless of whether the rating is assigned by this regulation or CMP Regulation 5A or any order in the P or U series) to get materials needed to repair and maintain the equipment.

(h) Restrictions on use of MRO symbol, rating, and materials—(1) Use of symbol and rating. No person shall use the MRO symbol or the preference rating assigned to him by this regulation to get anything except materials which he needs for essential maintenance, repair or operating supplies, or minor capital additions as permitted by paragraph (b) (3). If he is assigned different ratings by this regulation for different businesses and it is practicable to segregate his purchases, he must not use a higher rating to get material for a purpose for which he is assigned a lower rating. If it is not practicable for him to segregate his purchases, paragraph (e) explains what rating he may use.

(2) Use of material. If a person has bought material under this regulation for MRO and then finds that he has another use for it, he may use the material for the other purpose if a preference rating or allotment symbol is assigned to him by any certificate or order for that purpose. However, if he uses the material for another use he may not replace it in inventory by use of the rating or symbol assigned by this regulation. If he replaces it, he must use the rating or symbol assigned for the purpose for which the materials were used. Also, if he uses material bought under this regulation for another use, his records must be adequate to show that his purchases of material are substantially proportionate to his authorized uses. For example, a manufacturer has a rating of AA-2 under this regulation for MRO and also has a rating of AA-3 for a construction project. He may take lumber from his MRO inventory which he bought on the AA-2 rating and use it on the construction job, but if he replaces it in his inventory he must use the AA-3 rating for this purpose, so that he will not, in effect, have filled both his MRO and his construction requirements at the AA-2 rating. Exchanges of this kind may be made only where the material is acquired in good faith for use as MRO. The manufacturer may not use the AA–2 ratings to get lumber if he is getting it specifically for use in the construction project.

(i) Inventory restrictions. Nothing in this regulation shall be deemed to authorize any person to receive any delivery of maintenance, repair or operating supplies if acceptance thereof would increase his inventory above a practicable working minimum as provided in § 944.14 of Priorities Regulation No. 1 or would exceed the inventory limitations prescribed for such person by CMP Regulation No. 2, or by any other applicable regulation or order of the War Production Board.

(j) Additional assistance in individual cases. Any person requiring maintenance, repair or operating supplies who is unable to obtain them with the rating assigned to him by this regulation, and any person requiring any controlled material for maintenance, repair or operating supplies who is not listed in Schedule I or II and who is unable to obtain it from a warehouse or distributor under CMP Regulation No. 4 may apply to the nearest local office of War Production Board on Form WPB–541 (formerly PD–1A) for a higher rating, or the right to use the MRO symbol to obtain controlled materials. Application for an increase in the quantity of expenditures for maintenance, repair and operating supplies permitted by paragraph (f) of this regulation shall, however, be filed in the manner specified in subparagraph (8) of paragraph (f).

(k) Effect on other orders and procedures. (1) The preference ratings and allotment symbols assigned by this regulation may be used by any person, unless he is engaged in an activity or business which is covered by an order in the P or U series which specifically provide that the ratings assigned by CMP Regulation No. 5 may not be used.

(3) [Deleted Feb. 26, 1944]

(4) When an order in the "E", "L" or "M" series assigns a specific preference rating to deliveries of any particular material to be used by a particular industry or for a specific purpose, such preference rating shall control and the preference ratings hereby assigned may not be applied.

(5) Nothing in this regulation shall be construed to relieve any person from complying with any applicable priorities regulation or order of the Warr Production Board (including orders in the "E," "L" and "M" series) or with any order of any other competent authority.

(l) Industry reclassification. Any person who is of the opinion that the business activity in which he is engaged should be listed in Schedule I, if it is listed in Schedule II, or should be listed in either Schedule I or Schedule II, if it is not listed in either of such schedules, may apply to have such activity so listed by filing a letter, in triplicate, with the appropriate Industry Division setting forth the relevant facts and the reasons why he considers such request should be granted.

The War Production Board may cause such activity to be listed in one of the schedules attached to this regulation or, in special cases, may permit the applicant to operate under this regulation to the same extent as though his business activity were included in one of such schedules.

(m) Records. Each person acquiring maintenance, repair or operating supplies pursuant to this regulation shall keep and preserve, for a period of not less than two years, accurate and complete records of all such supplies so acquired, and used, which shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(n) Communications. All communications concerning this regulation should be addressed to: War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: CMP Regulation No. 5.

(o) Restriction on use of ratings. The preference rating assigned by this regulation cannot be used to get any of the items shown on List A or B of Priorities Regulation No. 3.

(p) Penalties for misrepresentation. The placing of any order bearing a certification or symbol as provided by this regulation shall constitute a representation, subject to the criminal penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code (18 U. S. C. 80), that the person placing the order is entitled, under the terms of this regulation to use of the symbol or preference rating indicated thereon.

Issued this 18th day of May 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

Interpretation 1

(Note: List A has been supplanted by List B of Priorities Regulation No. 3. Reference should be made to the items listed there.)

Office supplies are not included in List A of CMP Regulation No. 5 and consequently the procedures provided by the regulation may be used to obtain such supplies provided they do not come within the following categories which are specifically mentioned in List A:

Item

2. Printed matter and stationery. This refers only to printed matter and items such as letterheads, envelopes and forms.
3. Paper, paperboard, and products manufactured therefrom; molded pulp products.
5. Office machinery or office equipment.

Safety shoes are included in List A of the regulation and consequently the procedures provided by the regulation may not be used to obtain them. Safety shoes are not included among the items constituting exceptions to item 6 of the list. (Issued April 5, 1943.)

Interpretation 2

A person who is permitted to get controlled materials under paragraph (c) (1) of CMP Regulation No. 5 for maintenance, repair and operating supplies is not entitled to use the MRO symbol for purposes of allotting controlled materials to others. For example, a manufacturer of a product listed in Schedule I or Schedule II of the regulation requires a spring as a repair part. He may use the MRO symbol to place an authorized controlled material order for steel which he will fabricate into the spring which he requires, but if he buys the spring from a spring manufacturer, he may not make an allotment with the MRO symbol to the spring manufacturer. The spring manufacturer receives his allotment direct from the War Production Board as provided in paragraph (k–1) of CMP Regulation No. 1. (Issued April 20, 1943.)

Interpretation 3

Note: Interpretation 3 superseded by subsequent amendments.

Interpretation 4

Note: Interpretation 4 was revoked Nov. 19, 1943.

Interpretation 5

General offices, branch offices, salesrooms, etc.

The ratings and symbol assigned by CMP Regulation No. 5 to a particular business may be used to obtain maintenance, repair and operating supplies for general offices, branch offices, salesrooms and other facilities essential to the conduct of the business. (Issued May 20, 1943.)

Interpretation 6

Common carriers

Persons engaged in "public transportation" are included in Schedule I of CMP Regulation No. 5. This term includes any person who holds himself out to the general public as engaged in transportation, regardless of how he is classified under any Federal or State statute. Any person who would be considered a common carrier under common law is included within the term.

A private or contract carrier is not included. (Issued May 20, 1943.)

Interpretation 7

Manufacture and distribution of food products

(a) "Industrial food manufacturing, processing, packaging, preservation and storage" is included in Schedule I of CMP Regulation No. 5 and persons engaged in such occupation are entitled to use a rating of AA–1 and the MRO symbol in purchasing maintenance, repair and operating supplies needed in connection with the conduct of their business.

(b) Distribution of food products, as distinct from their production, does not constitute industrial food manufacturing or processing under Schedule I and is not included elsewhere in Schedule I or II of the regulation. Persons engaged in selling food products which they do not produce are only entitled to use the AA–5 rating to obtain maintenance, repair and operating supplies for their business.

(c) In those cases where a person is engaged in both producing and distributing food products he may, under paragraph (e) of the regulation, obtain his entire maintenance, repair and operating supply requirements at the rating assigned to the principal activity in which he is engaged where, and only where, it is impracticable to apportion requirements to his several activities. (Issued May 27, 1943.)

Interpretation 8

Capitalized repairs

Products or materials needed for repairs or replacements which are capitalized cannot be obtained under CMP Regulation No. 5 [§ 3175.5] except to the extent permitted by paragraph (b) (3) of the regulation relating to minor capital additions costing less than $500. (Issued July 17, 1943.)

Interpretation 9

Relationship between CMP Regulation No. 5 and Conservation Order L–41

(a) Order L–41 requires War Production Board authorization before beginning any construction work except in those cases where the order expressly states that authorization is not necessary.

(b) CMP Regulation No. 5 (§ 3175.5) may not be used to get materials or products for any construction work of the type which requires authorization under Order L–41, unless the authorization specifically says that CMP Regulation No. 5 may be used.

(c) In those cases where specific War Production Board authorization is not required before beginning construction, and where the materials needed for the construction cost no more than $500, CMP Regulation No. 5 may be used to buy materials and products needed for the construction. (Issued July 29, 1943.)

Interpretation 10

Concrete and aggregates

The term "products for structural use not elsewhere listed" appearing under "Building Materials" on Schedule II of CMP Regulation No. 5 includes light-weight aggregates, ready-mixed concrete and pre-mixed bituminous concrete. (Issued Nov. 9, 1943.)

Interpretation 11

Purchaser's cost of labor for minor capital additions

Paragraph (b) (3) permits the use of the MRO symbol and rating to get minor capital additions which cost not more than $500 "excluding the purchaser's cost of labor". The labor costs which may be disregarded in this connection are the services of the purchaser's own regular employees, additional employees hired for installing new equipment or doing construction, and fees paid to independent contractors who install equipment or do construction where, under normal business practices, the fee is paid primarily for services as distinct from materials. For example, if a purchaser of a piece of machinery costing $500 pays the seller an additional installation fee of $50 which is normally a separate charge, if he hires an independent contractor to install the machinery for $50, the $50 payment may be disregarded even though the seller or independent contractor furnishes a few minor material additions such as wiring or pipe connections, bracing, etc. On the other hand, if the purchaser hires a building contractor to construct an addition to his plant, under circumstances where the contractor would normally charge a single fee including building materials, labor and the contractor's profit, the total fee must be included in the cost and the contractor's labor may not be deducted, since the contractor is paid primarily for the completed addition rather than for the labor of installing property separately purchased. Likewise, if the seller normally makes a single charge including installation, this cost of installation must be included.

Direction 15 explains the rules for buying $500 worth of materials needed for installation or relocation of equipment which is not bought by use of the MRO rating or symbol. In that case, the same principles apply in determining what labor costs are to be included. (Issued March 11, 1944.)

INTERPRETATION 12

INCREASED QUOTAS FOR SEASONAL BUSINESSES

(a) Paragraph (f) (4) of CMP Regulation No. 5 as amended on February 26, 1944, permits the use of a specific quota authorization as an increased quota for all following quarters. Thus if a particular company's quota has been increased by specific authorization during the fourth quarter of 1943 from $100,000 to $125,000 the company has a quota for each succeeding quarter of $125,000.

(b) In the case of a person operating under a seasonal quota under paragraph (f) (2), his quarterly quota varies from quarter to quarter based on the similar quarter of 1942. Consequently, when a seasonal quota has been increased by specific authorization for any one quarter, that increase does not increase all succeeding quarters, but may only be used as an increased quota during the same quarter of the following year. Thus if a company operating on a seasonal basis had a quota during the third quarter of 1943 of $10,000, and during the fourth quarter of 1943 of $50,000 and received an increase of the fourth quarter's quota from $50,000 to $60,000, its quota for the third quarter of 1944 would remain at $10,000, although its fourth quarter quota of 1944 would become $60,000.

(c) Where a company has received succeeding special authorizations increasing a quota, and where it is not on a seasonal basis, the last special authorization determines the company's quota during each following quarter. (Issued April 10, 1944.)

STAVES, HEADING, AND HOOPS

(a) Persons manufacturing wooden staves, heading, and hoops for barrels are included under the item "logging operations, saw mills, veneer mills, plywood mills, planing mills, shingle mills, and dry kilns operated in connection with saw mills" appearing in Schedule I of the regulation. They are, therefore, entitled to use the allotment symbol MRO and the preference rating AA-1 in buying MRO.

(b) Persons who make barrels as such are engaged in manufacturing "containers, all types except fibre containers, gas cylinders and ton containers, and nailed wooden boxes and crates", which appears in Schedule II of CMP Regulation 5. They may use, therefore, the MRO symbol and preference rating AA-2 in buying MRO. A person who makes both staves and barrels must segregate his purchases, unless impracticable to do so as explained in paragraph (e) of the regulation. (Issued April 18, 1944.)

PART 3290—TEXTILE, CLOTHING & LEATHER

[Limitation Order L-99, as Amended April 11, 1944, Amdt. 2]

COTTON TEXTILE PRODUCTION

Section 3290.46 Limitation Order L-99 is amended as follows:

In paragraph (d) renumber subparagraphs 3, 4 and 5 as 4, 5 and 6.

Add a new subparagraph to read:

(3) Each producer must in the week beginning May 21, 1944 and in each subsequent week deliver duck yarns of at least the same poundage as he delivered in the week in 1944 in which he delivered the largest quantity of duck yarns.

Producers who have facilities which can produce additional quantities of duck yarns may receive special directions from the War Production Board to deliver specific amounts to designated weavers.

PINE WOOD CHARCOAL

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

PART 1382—HARDWOOD LUMBER

[RMPR 313]

VENEER LOGS

Maximum Price Regulation 313—Prime Grade Hardwood Logs, is redesignated, Revised Maximum Price Regulation 313—Veneer Logs, and is revised and amended to read as set forth below.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this revised regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith, and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Insofar as this regulation uses specifications and standards which were not, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected; or insofar as their use was not lawfully required by another Government agency, the Administrator has determined, with respect to such standardization, that no practicable alternative exists for securing effective price control with respect to the commodities subject to this regulation.

§ 1382.251 Maximum prices for veneer logs. Under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328, Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 313 (Veneer Logs), which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued:

AUTHORITY: § 1382.251 issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; Pub. Law 151, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871; E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681.

SECTION 1. Over-ceiling prices prohibited. (a) On and after May 23, 1944, regardless of any contract or obligation, no person shall sell or deliver, and no person shall buy or receive any veneer logs, as defined below, at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed by this regulation; and no person shall offer or attempt to do any of these things.

(b) Prices lower than the maximum prices may, of course, be charged or paid.

SEC. 2. Coverage of the regulation—(a) Products and persons covered. The veneer logs prices in this regulation are those selected for, and necessary to, the manufacture of high grade precision veneers which are manufactured to the moisture content, tolerances, grain divergence and grades of Army-Navy Specification AN-NN-P-511b veneer or of grades equivalent to or better than these specifications.

Only those buying plants which manufacture veneers equal to or better than the specifications of AN-NN-P-511b, and which have secured written approval from the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., can purchase veneer logs on the prices in this regulation. The Lumber Branch may require supporting evidence from either the manufacturer or his customers to show that the veneers produced meet the above specifications.

(b) Geographical applicability. This regulation applies to all veneer logs meeting the above specifications produced in the United States east of the 100th Meridian, except in the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Minnesota, Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

SEC. 3. Scaling rules. All logs covered by this regulation must be scaled with the Doyle Log Rule. The diameter of the log shall be measured inside the bark at the small (top) and of the log at the smallest diameter. Fractions of an inch ½ or less shall be dropped; fractions of an inch greater than ½ may be raised to the next higher inch. The footage measurements on this rule must be shown on the invoice or bill as required by section 7.

SEC. 4. Specifications of veneer logs—(a) General requirements. All veneer logs must have the heart well centered, must be reasonably straight and sound, and must be suitable for slicing or rotary cutting. A center rot, dote, or shake in the butt end of the log of up to four inches in diameter will be permitted in logs or blocks 24" and up in diameter, and up to 3" for logs or blocks less than 24" in diameter, without degrading the log.

All logs must be at least 8' in length and must be cut 4" over length to allow for trim. Any log which is not cut sufficiently over length to allow for trim shall be reduced in scale to the next lower standard length.

(b) Veneer log grades—(1) Prime grade. This grade will permit as a minimum those logs which are 90% usable in clear lengths. Defects are allowable in this grade if they are so spaced as to provide not more than two clear sections at least 4'6" in length for those logs to be rotary cut; or, in the case of logs to be sliced, the 90% in clear sections must be in clear flitches at least 8' long; one clear flitch, however, may be 6' long, but other flitches produced from the logs must be clear and at least 8' in length. This grade will not admit defects requiring length dockage in logs 8' in length but length dockage up to 2' is permissible in logs 10' and over.

(2) Select grade. This grade will permit as a minimum those logs which have either:

(i) 3 clear faces;

(ii) 75% of the length clear in one continuous section; or

(iii) 80% usable in clear sections in not more than 3 clear cuttings for those logs to be rotary cut, with no cutting or clear section less than 42" in length. For those logs to be sliced, the 80% in clear sections must be in clear flitches at least 6' long.

SEC. 5. Delivery provisions—(a) Where prices apply. The maximum prices for veneer logs set out below apply either:

(1) Loaded on railroad cars at rail siding of common carrier railroad;

(2) Delivered to a place at which water shipment is to begin, placed in good condition for loading; or

(3) Delivered by truck to the buyer's plant from within 25 miles of the mill. If delivery is made to the mill by truck from a distance greater than 25 miles, the buyer may add not to exceed 10 cents per M' log scale for each mile over 25.

This means that the seller cannot add to the maximum prices any charge for loading logs on rail cars, or for trucking logs to a rail siding, to a place at which water shipment is to begin, or to the buyer's plant from within 25 miles of the plant.

(b) Reduction for non-delivery. If the buyer takes delivery at some place other than on railroad cars, or at a place at which water shipment is to begin, or at his plant, the maximum price must be reduced by the following:

(1) The cost per thousand feet log scale to the buyer of trucking the logs to the nearest rail siding of a common carrier railroad and loading the logs on cars, if delivery of logs to mill is by rail;

(2) The cost per thousand feet log scale of hauling logs to a place where water shipment is to begin, if delivery of logs to mill is made by barge, raft or gunboat; or

(3) The cost per thousand feet log scale of hauling logs to the plant, if delivery of logs to plant is by truck.

SEC. 6. Maximum prices. The maximum prices below apply only to those buying plants who have secured permission under section 2 (a) to use this schedule.

NOTE: The red oak priced in this table is the species which is of soft, even texture, and is referred to by the industry as "cherry-bark", straight-grained, and free from streaks and discolorations.

The Hard Maple, Soft Maple, and Basswood logs priced in this table are for those logs having at least 75% of the diameter in white wood.

The White Oak priced above is for the ordinary white oak used in the manufacture of veneers. For soft, even-textured white oak with a small tight heart, thin sap, straight-grained and free from streaks and discolorations (see section 13 for special pricing provisions).

SEC. 7. What the invoice or billing must contain. (a) All invoices and billings of veneer logs must contain a sufficiently complete description of the logs covered to show whether the price is proper or not, including the species, grade, diameter, gross and net length, net footage of each of the veneer logs purchased or sold, origin and point of delivery, date of sale, and name and address of the buyer and seller.

(b) Any part of the information required on the invoice may be furnished in a tally sheet attached to and made part of the invoice.

(c) An invoice or billing may cover all logs delivered by the seller to a purchaser during a period of not more than two weeks.

(d) Either the buyer or seller may prepare the invoice or billing, but both have the responsibility for correct invoicing or billing.

(e) Failure to invoice properly is just as much in violation of this regulation as charging an excessive price.

(f) The buying plant must file with the nearest OPA District Office a copy of each invoice.

SEC. 8. Use of invoices as records. Each buyer and seller must keep, as a record, one copy of all invoices and billings covering veneer logs purchased or sold. These must be kept for two years, for inspection by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 9. Prohibited practices—(a) General. Any practice which is a device to get the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the dollars-and-cents price is as much a violation of this regulation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying-agreements, trade understandings and the like.

(b) Specific prohibited practices. The following are among the specific practices prohibited:

(1) Up-grading, up-scaling or allowing a greater net scale footage than the actual scale content of the log.

(2) Selling logs on a scale other than Doyle Rule, (except that the Doyle-Scribner Rule may be used).

(3) Charging a purchasing or selling commission based on quantity or value of logs purchased, if the commission plus the purchase price is higher than the maximum price permitted by this regulation.

(4) Increasing the price of logs by not making a good faith effort to collect advances to loggers. An advance to a logger is to be considered part of the price of the logs.

(5) Purchasing veneer logs under this regulation without having actually received authority from the Office of Price Administration under section 2 (a).

(6) Paying prices higher than those set forth herein for logs poorer than the Select Grade.

(c) Adjustable pricing. A price may not be made adjustable to a maximum price which will be in effect sometime after delivery of the logs has been completed. The price may be adjustable to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery.

SEC. 10. Application for adjustment and petitions for amendment—(a) Government contracts. See Procedural Regulation No. 6 [1] for adjustment provisions on certain government contracts or subcontracts.

(b) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation 1 [2] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 11. Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 12. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[3] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of applicable price regulations. A person whose license is suspended, may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 13. Special pricing. For any species or specifications for which a maximum price is not provided, the maximum price shall be the price established by the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., after full facts have been submitted in support of a request for the establishment of a maximum price. The application must contain the name and address of the buyer and seller, the species and grade to be priced, the area from which the logs will be produced and a statement from the buyer that the price can be paid under his end product ceiling price. It must also contain supporting data on the prior existence of a price differential where the price requested is higher than the price for the highest grade of the same species in the regulation. The maximum price may be established by letter or telegram.

This regulation shall become effective May 23, 1944.

NOTE: All of the reporting and record-keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

PART 1529—MARKETING PETROLEUM

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created in certain areas a shortage in the supply of motor fuel and fuel oil for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest to promote the national defense and to provide adequate supplies of motor fuel and fuel oil for military and other essential uses.

§ 1529.3 Petroleum Distribution Order No. 20—(a) Definitions. (1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Motor fuel" means liquid petroleum product, including Diesel fuel, used for the propulsion of motor vehicles or motor boats and includes any individual grade of liquid fuel to which Federal gasoline taxes apply except liquid fuel used for the propulsion of aircraft.

(3) "Fuel oil" means any liquid petroleum product commonly known as fuel oil, including Grades Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6, Bunker "C," Diesel fuel, kerosene, range oil, gas oil, crude petroleum, and any liquid petroleum product used for the same purposes as the above designated grades.

(4) "Supplier" means any person other than a service station or other fixed retail outlet who refines or receives delivery of motor fuel or fuel oil for redelivery to others, and includes, but is not limited to, any secondary supplier.

(5) "Customer" means any person other than a supplier who receives motor fuel or fuel oil from any supplier, and includes a service station or other fixed retail outlet.

(b) Deliveries for specified uses. Each supplier, within the limits of his supply, shall make withdrawal or delivery of motor fuel or fuel oil when such withdrawal or delivery is requested to satisfy, directly or through other suppliers, the requirements of:

(1) The Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, War Shipping Administration, United States Maritime Commission, Foreign Economic Administration, and vessels of the United Nations.

(2) Any person using or supplying motor fuel for non-highway farm uses who presents valid E or R coupons or ration checks, issued pursuant to Ration Order 5C of the Office of Price Administration, to the extent of such uses only.

(3) Any person to whom such supplier is directed to make deliveries of motor fuel or fuel oil pursuant to the provisions of any order or directive of the Petroleum Administration for War, excluding assignments under paragraph (d) hereof.

(c) Deliveries for other uses. (1) After making provision for the deliveries of motor fuel or fuel oil specified in paragraph (b), each supplier shall be obligated to make deliveries of remaining supplies of motor fuel or fuel oil in such manner as will satisfy the current requirements of customers and other suppliers in the same trade area, who regularly received their last ninety (90) days' requirements (during the preceding twelve (12) month period) directly or indirectly from such supplier, or whom such supplier has been assigned to supply under paragraph (d) hereof.

(2) If, after making provision for the deliveries of motor fuel or fuel oil specified in paragraph (b), any supplier is unable to satisfy the current requirements of customers and other suppliers in the same trade area, who regularly received their last ninety (90) days' requirements (during the preceding twelve (12) month period) directly or indirectly from such supplier, or whom such supplier has been assigned to supply under paragraph (d) hereof, such supplier shall apportion all available supplies of motor fuel and fuel oil fairly and equitably in such manner as will satisfy as nearly as practicable the current requirements of such customers and other suppliers in the same trade area, in accordance with the following standards:

(i) Except as provided in subdivisions (ii) and (iii) hereof, no differentiation or discrimination in deliveries shall be made in the same trade area because of trade classification, affiliation, ownership, operation, control, size, purchasing or selling methods, location, accessibility to transportation facilities, imposition of special conditions not imposed on all customers and other suppliers in the same trade area, or for any other such reason.

(ii) After making provision for deliveries of motor fuel or fuel oil to other suppliers, differentiation in deliveries to customers in the same trade area because of the essentiality to the conduct of the war or to the public health or safety of the activities engaged in by such customers shall not be deemed to be discrimination within the meaning of this order: Provided, That such supplier shall not differentiate or discriminate in deliveries to customers engaged in the same activities and that such supplier shall consider all service stations and other fixed retail outlets supplied directly or indirectly by him as being engaged in the same activities; And provided, further, That if the method of distribution herein provided results in inequities among customers served directly by such supplier and customers engaged in the same activities served indirectly by him, such supplier shall make the adjustments necessary to eliminate as far as practicable any such inequities.

(iii) Differentiation in deliveries to customers and other suppliers in the same trade area on the basis of relative inventories expressed in days' supply on hand at such customers' or other suppliers' storage locations shall not be deemed to be discrimination within the meaning of this order.

(iv) If several suppliers are obligated to supply any customer or other supplier with the same grade of motor fuel or fuel oil, each such supplier shall be obligated to satisfy only his proportion of the current requirements of such customer or other supplier on the same percentage basis as he satisfies the current requirements of his undivided accounts engaged in the same activities.

(d) Directed deliveries. If any person is unable to obtain deliveries of motor fuel or fuel oil, because he has no supplier obligated to make deliveries to him under paragraph (c) hereof, or because the supplier who is obligated to make deliveries to such person is unable to make deliveries, such person may appeal to the District Director-in-Charge who shall, if he finds that the facts warrant the relief requested and that such person has made a diligent effort to secure a supplier, assign one or more suppliers to make deliveries to such person and the supplier or suppliers so assigned shall make such deliveries as directed.

(e) Scope. This order shall be applicable in the States of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Tennessee, Wisconsin, Arizona, California, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, or the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii.

(f) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him may appeal to the District Director-in-Charge of the District where compliance would be required, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons why he considers himself entitled to relief. If dissatisfied with the decision of the District Director-in-Charge, such person may appeal to the Deputy Petroleum Administrator for War, Washington, 25, D. C., or to such representative as may be designated.

All correspondence and all appeals filed under paragraph (d) or under this paragraph shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the District Director-in-Charge, Petroleum Administration for War, at:

(1) 1200 Blum Building, 624 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, if the motor fuel or fuel oil is to be delivered or used in the States of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Tennessee, or Wisconsin.

(2) 855 Subway Terminal Building, Los Angeles, California, if the motor fuel or fuel oil is to be delivered or used in the States of Arizona, California, Nevada, Oregon, or Washington, or the Territories of Alaska or Hawaii.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, by any act or omission, falsifies records kept or information furnished in connection with this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment.

Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order may be prohibited from delivering or receiving any material under priority control, or such other action may be taken as is deemed appropriate.

[Docket No. IT-5519]

BONNEVILLE PROJECT, COLUMBIA RIVER, OREG., WASH.

ORDER CONFIRMING AND APPROVING MODIFICATION OF WHOLESALE POWER RATE SCHEDULE E-2

It appearing to the Commission that:

(a) By the aforesaid order of March 28, 1944, the Commission confirmed and approved Wholesale Power Rate Schedule E-2 (hereinafter Schedule E-2) of the Bonneville Project, upon certain conditions including, among others, the following:

(i) Any proposed revision of general rate schedule provisions now pending, which may hereafter be confirmed and approved by the Commission, shall become applicable to Schedule E-2, as of April 1, 1944.

(b) Such condition was prescribed in the order and made part of Schedule E-2 as confirmed and approved because of pending objections of the Superintendent of Light Divisions, Department of Public Utilities, City of Tacoma, Washington, and the Superintendent, Department of Lighting, City of Seattle, Washington, to certain general rate schedule provisions and administrative interpretations thereof by the Bonneville Power Administrator, as set forth in paragraphs (b) and (c) of the order of March 28, 1944.

(c) The withdrawal by the Bonneville Power Administrator of the proposed revisions of rate schedules and general rate schedule provisions constitutes a modification of Schedule E-2 as confirmed and approved by the Commission's order of March 28, 1944, and therefore requires the confirmation and approval of the Commission under the Bonneville Act.

(d) Review and analysis of the statements in the telegram of the Bonneville Power Administrator and the provisions of the March 28, 1944, order indicate that the requested modification of Schedule E-2, as confirmed and approved by the Commission, may be permitted upon the conditions hereinafter specified, without adversely affecting the public interest.

The Commission orders that:

(A) The aforesaid telegram of the Bonneville Power Administrator be accepted as a request for modification of Schedule E-2 as heretofore confirmed and approved, and the aforesaid order of March 28, 1944, be and it hereby is amended to delete paragraph (i) therefrom: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall in any way affect or prejudice any action which may hereafter be taken by the Commission in any matter affecting the Bonneville Project, including the objections heretofore filed by the Superintendent of Light Division, Department of Public Utilities, City of Tacoma, Washington, and the Superintendent, Department of Lighting, City of Seattle, Washington.

(v) The maximum prices established by this subparagraph (6) shall be subject to at least the same extention of cash, quantity, and other discounts, the same absorption of transportation charges and the same rendition of services as the seller extended, absorbed, or rendered on comparable sales to purchasers of the same class during March 1942.

PUTTY

AUTHORIZATION OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Amendment No. 13 to Order No. A–2 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. Manufacturers' maximum prices for specified building materials and consumers' goods other than apparel.

An opinion accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Paragraph (a) (13) is added to read as follows:

(13) Putty—(i) Scope of this subparagraph. This subparagraph permits granting of relief only to a manufacturer of putty whose maximum price or prices for putty cause him substantial hardship and are abnormally low in relation to the maximum prices established for competitive sellers of putty.

(ii) Extent of relief to be granted. No adjustment may be granted under this subparagraph which will cause the applicant's maximum price to exceed the selling prices of competitive sellers, and any adjustment granted shall be additionally limited in accordance with the existing degree of substantial hardship as set forth below: (As used below "over-all profits" means over-all profits adjusted for changes in investment and before deductions of income and excess profit taxes; "base period" means 1936–1939 inclusive or any other period which is determined by the Office of Price Administration to be representative.)

(a) To an amount sufficient to make the adjusted price per unit equal to the total current factory costs per unit (sum of items (1), (2) and (3) under subdivision (iii) (c) below), where applicant's current over-all profits on an annual basis are at least 15 per cent greater than his average annual base period over-all profits.

(b) To an amount sufficient to make the adjusted price per unit equal to the total of current factory costs and general administrative and selling expenses per unit, where applicant's current over-all profits on an annual basis are less than 15 per cent greater, but not less, than his average annual over-all profits during the base period, but not in excess of an amount which will cause his current over-all profits on an annual basis to equal 115 percent of his average annual over-all profits during such base period.

(c) To an amount sufficient to make the adjusted price per unit equal to the total of current factory costs and general administrative and selling expenses per unit, plus a reasonable margin of profit per unit, where applicant's current over-all profits on an annual basis are less than his average annual over-all profits during the base period, but not in excess of an amount which will cause his current over-all profits on an annual basis to equal 115 percent of his average annual over-all profits during such base period.

(iii) Filing of applications. Applications under this subparagraph shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration, Chemicals and Drugs Price Branch, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, and shall include the following information:

(a) Over-all profit and loss statements and over-all balance sheets for the entire business of the applicant for each of the calendar or fiscal years between 1936 and 1939, inclusive, or for any other period which is determined by the Office of Price Administration to be representative; for the most recent full fiscal or calendar year; and for each of the quarters thereafter, prior to the date of filing the application. The filing of these data for the periods including the year 1942 is optional, provided these data are available from the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Should the applicant prefer, this information will be requested by the Office of Price Administration directly from the Bureau of Internal Revenue. If applicant has previously submitted the data for periods after 1942 to the Office of Price Administration, he may so indicate, and in such case this data need not be submitted again.

(b) The total inventory of each raw material used in the manufacture of putty, the value assigned to each inventory, and the method used to determine such value.

(c) Total current costs per unit for putty, including:

(1) Itemization of direct material costs per unit. State method of charging inventories used in determining material costs.

(2) Direct labor cost per unit. Increases in labor costs since October 3, 1942 will be considered by the Office of Price Administration only if the applicant certifies that such increases were approved by the War Labor Board, or that War Labor Board approval was not necessary, if the latter were the case.

(3) Other manufacturing costs per unit directly assignable to the production of putty. This may include indirect labor, factory supplies, repairs and maintenance of building, machinery and equipment, insurance, property taxes, depreciation at normal rates on plant and equipment actually used in manufacture, purchased utilities services, and other items commonly associated with factory operation.

(4) General administrative and selling expenses per unit. This includes executive and administrative salaries, office expense, commissions, advertising, and similar items but not including income or excess profit taxes, charges to war reserves, or reserves for contingencies.

"Other manufacturing costs" and "general administrative and selling expenses" as used in (3) and (4) above of this subdivision (c) may be broken down down in the detail and in accordance with the method, customarily used by the manufacturer, but shall show general administrative and selling expenses separately. The method of allocating such costs and expenses to putty shall be stated.

(d) The names and addresses of the applicant's competitive sellers and, so far as he is able to ascertain, their maximum prices and their current selling prices.

(e) The amount of adjustment desired, and an explanation of how such adjustment conforms to the limitations set forth in subdivision (ii) above.

(iv) Adjustment order. The Price Administrator may by order grant or deny, in whole or in part, any application for adjustment under this subparagraph (13), and may revoke or amend any such order at any time. In connection with any such adjustment the Price Administrator may also adjust the maximum prices for resellers other than resellers at retail, and in appropriate cases may require a compensatory decrease in the maximum prices for another product or products manufactured by applicant.

This amendment shall become effective May 18, 1944.

[Detroit Order G–3 Under MPR 426]

TRANSPORTATION OF FRUITS AND VEGETABLES IN DETROIT, MICH., AREA

Order No. G–3 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 426, as amended. Establishing cheapest method of customary transportation from basing points into secondary markets.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region III of the Office of Price Administration by Article 1, section 8 (a) (7) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 426, as amended, and by him delegated to the Detroit District Director by Delegation Order No. 1–A, Revised, this Order No. G–3 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 426 is hereby issued.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order fixes the freight to be used for sales of certain fresh fruits and vegetables by intermediate sellers with principal places of business in markets outside the area surrounding Detroit, based upon the cheapest method of transportation customarily and generally available from basing points and shipping points to such markets.

SEC. 2. Geographical coverage. This order shall apply to sales in the following part of the Detroit District, viz., the counties of Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw, Monroe, St. Clair, Clinton, Ingham, Eaton, Livingston, Jackson, Hillsdale and Lenawee in the State of Michigan, excepting Warren Township of Macomb County, and excepting the municipalities of Van Dyke, Centerline, Roseville, St. Clair Shores and St. Clair Village of Macomb County, and Huntington Woods, Birmingham, Ferndale, Royal Oak, Berkley, Hazel Park and Clawson of Oakland County.

SEC. 3. Items covered. The items covered by this order are the items listed in Appendix H of Amendment 18 to Maximum Price Regulation No. 426.

SEC. 4. Freight. Section 8 (a) (7) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 426 provides that "freight from basing point to wholesale receiving point" or "freight from shipping point to wholesale receiving point" means the cost per package of transportation by the cheapest customary and generally available means. It is hereby ordered that in determining such cost for all sales where the intermediate seller's principal place of business is located within the geographical coverage of this order, the intermediate seller shall compute the freight the same as if Detroit, Michigan were the "wholesale receiving point" and then add to such computation an amount as follows:

(a) In determining the Column 6 prices for Items 1 and 2 of Table 1, Carrots, 7¢ per L. A. Crate may be added.

(b) In determining the Column 6 prices for Items 1 and 2 of Table 2, Spinach, 4¢ per bushel may be added.

(c) In determining the Column 6 prices for Items 1 and 2 of Table 3, Green Peas, 6¢ per bushel may be added.

(d) In determining the Column 6 prices for Items 1 through 5 of Table 4, Snap Beans, 6¢ per bushel may be added.

(e) In determining the Column 6 prices for Item 1 of Table 5, Eggplant, 10¢ per 1½ bushel; for Item 2, 7¢ per bushel; and for Item 4, 4¢ per package may be added.

(f) In determining the Column 6 prices for Items 1 and 2 of Table 6, Sweet Peppers, 10¢ per 1½ bushel; and for Items 3 and 4, 7¢ per bushel may be added.

(g) In determining the Column 6 prices for Items 1 through 4 of Table 7, Cucumbers, 7¢ per bushel; and for Items 5 through 8, 6¢ per lug may be added.

(h) The above additions may be made both for purposes of sales at the Column 6 maximum prices for the respective items and also for the purpose of computing the other maximum prices which are based on the Column 6 maximum prices of these items.

SEC. 5. Sellers covered. This order is limited to sales by intermediate sellers (a) who meet the definition of "secondary jobber" contained in Appendix H of Maximum Price Regulation No. 426, with regard to the item being priced, and (b) whose principal place of business is located within the geographical coverage set forth in Section 2.

SEC. 6. Definitions. Unless otherwise defined or designated herein, all terms shall have the same meaning as defined in Maximum Price Regulation No. 426, as amended.

This order may be revoked, amended or corrected at any time.

This order shall become effective May 3, 1944.

On sales of more than one such unit, the exact price of 3¾¢ shall be multiplied by the number of units. If the computation results in a fraction of a cent, the total shall be adjusted upward to the next full cent if the fraction is ½¢ or more, and downward to the next lower cent if the fraction is less than ½¢. (e) Geographical applicability. This order applies to all sales and deliveries of raw fluid milk in glass or paper containers within Pocomoke City, Maryland.

(f) This order is subject to revocation or amendment by the Regional Administrator or by the Price Administrator at any time hereafter, either by special order or by price regulation issued hereafter or by supplementary order which may be contrary thereto.

(g) Definitions. (1) "Raw fluid milk" means cow's milk at least satisfying the minimum butterfat content, sanitary and health requirements for fluid milk sold for human consumption in the particular area wherein it is delivered, and standards set by purchasing officers for sales to the Army or Navy. TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

PART 602—GENERAL ORDERS AND DIRECTIVES

[Reg. 17, Amdt. 1]

CONSUMER DECLARATION WITH RESPECT TO CERTAIN SOLID FUELS

Since the issuance of SFAW Regulation No. 17 (9 F.R. 3193), it has become necessary to except reclaimed beehive and run-of-oven beehive coke from the provisions of the regulation applicable to eastern coke; to place additional restrictions upon the use of anthracite or eastern coke for industrial purposes and to clarify other provisions of the regulation. Accordingly, SFAW Regulation No. 17 is hereby amended in the following respects:

1. Paragraphs (c), (i) and (j) (1) of § 602.301 are amended and a new paragraph (o) is added as follows:

(c) "Eastern coke" means all coke except reclaimed beehive and run-of-oven beehive coke delivered by retail dealers to consumers in the District of Columbia and the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, and that portion of Pennsylvania which is east of a straight line drawn from the southern to the northern boundary of Pennsylvania through the western boundary of Gettysburg, in Adams County, and Lock Haven, in Clinton County.

(i) "Industrial process or the production of power" includes without limitation any manufacturing or commercial processing, the generation of electrical energy for resale or otherwise, the ordinary operations of a commercial bakery or laundry. Industrial process or the production of power does not include the ordinary operations of the following, among others: apartment houses, hotels (exclusive of functions as restaurant), schools and office buildings.

(j) (1) the number of tons of solid fuels burned at the premises of a consumer during the period April 1, 1942 to March 31, 1943, inclusive. In the event solid fuels were not burned as the principal fuel in such premises during such period, the number of tons of solid fuels which were burned in other premises similar thereto in the same locality during the same period; or

• • • • •

(o) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or organized group of persons.

2. Section 602.302 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) A retail dealer may deliver and a consumer may receive anthracite or eastern coke without the filing of the Consumer Declaration if the consumer receives, and has customarily received, anthracite or eastern coke in less than a ¼-ton lot, exclusively in bags containing one hundred pounds or less of such solid fuels.

3. Paragraphs (a), (c) and (e) of § 602.304 are amended and a new paragraph (f) is added to said section as follows:

(a) Subject to the provisions of paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section, during the period April 1, 1944 to October 1, 1944, inclusive, no retail dealer may deliver, and no consumer may receive from all sources combined, anthracite or eastern coke or both, in an amount which when added to (1) the consumer's inventory of anthracite and eastern coke as of April 1, 1944, and (2) the tonnage of anthracite and eastern coke received by the consumer after April 1, 1944, exceeds 50 per cent of the consumer's annual requirements for solid fuels. The provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to a consumer who certifies on the Consumer Declaration that his entire annual requirements of solid fuels for the premises covered by said Consumer Declaration will be consumed during the period May 1 to October 1, 1944, or to a consumer whose annual requirements amount to only one railroad car and who customarily receives anthracite or eastern coke in a railroad carlot.

(c) If a consumer uses any other solid fuel in conjunction with or in addition to anthracite or eastern coke, a retail dealer may, subject to other applicable regulations, deliver to the consumer and the consumer may receive during the period April 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive, up to but not more than 100 percent of the consumer's annual solid fuels requirements, after deducting the consumer's inventory as of April 1, 1944; Provided, however, That the deliveries and receipts of anthracite or eastern coke, or both, do not exceed the limitations upon deliveries and receipts of anthracite or eastern coke, or both, as set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section; And provided further, That deliveries of the "Scarcer kinds of solid fuels" shall not exceed the limitations placed upon deliveries of such fuels by SFAW Regulation No. 21, as amended from time to time.

• • • • •

(e) In the practical application of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, a retail dealer may deliver to a consumer whose annual requirements are five tons or less, and such consumer may receive, one load or three tons, whichever is less, of anthracite or eastern coke, if it is necessary to do so in order to assure maximum effective utilization of transportation facilities available to the retail dealer: Provided, however, That the tonnage so delivered shall not, when added to (1) the consumer's inventory of solid fuels as of April 1, 1944, and (2) the tonnage of solid fuels received by the consumer after April 1, 1944, exceed the consumer's annual requirements for solid fuels.

(f) No retail dealer may deliver and no consumer may accept the delivery of anthracite where the following two circumstances co-exist: (1) The consumer has burning equipment which reasonably permits the use of high volatile bituminous coal and (2) the consumer uses anthracite in any part of the United States except the District of Columbia, the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland or Virginia.

4. A new paragraph is added to § 602.305 to read as follows:

(d) In the event that a retail dealer is unable to supply or arrange for another retail dealer to supply solid fuels pursuant to the provisions of paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, to a consumer who has filed a Consumer Declaration with him, such retail dealer shall communicate immediately with the nearest representative or committee designated in § 602.308 of this regulation and such person or committee shall arrange with another retail dealer for the delivery of solid fuel to such consumer.

5. Section 602.306 is amended to read as follows:

§ 602.306 General restrictions upon retail dealer deliveries of anthracite for industrial use or production of power. During the period April 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive, no retail dealer may deliver to any person and no person may acquire, from all sources combined, anthracite for use in an industrial process or for the production of power or for space heating which is incidental thereto in an amount which when added to the anthracite in the possession of or under the control of such person exceeds the consumption requirements of such person for such purpose for a period of 90 days from the date of such delivery.

6. Section 602.307 is amended to read as follows:

§ 602.307 Limitations upon applicability of this regulation. Except for the provisions of §§ 602.306, 602.309, 602.310, 602.311, 602.312, 603.314 and 602.315, this regulation does not apply to deliveries of anthracite, eastern coke or other solid fuels when used in conjunction with or in addition to anthracite or eastern coke, or to the acquisition of such solid fuels by:

Anthracite, for uses specified in paragraph (h) of § 602.307, shall be supplied by the retail dealer from the available tonnage shipped to the retail dealer pursuant to SFAW Regulation No. 18.

This amendment shall become effective 12:01 a. m., June 1, 1944.

[Suspension Order S-553]

REMINGTON RAND, INC.

Remington Rand, Inc., in its General Shaver Division, located at Bridgeport, Connecticut, is in the business of manufacturing electric dry shavers. In April and May, 1942, it produced electric dry shavers having an approximate factory sales value of $286,697.49 in excess of its maximum permitted production for that period, in violation of Limitation Order L-65. In the period from June 1 through July 17, 1942, it produced electric dry shavers having an approximate factory sales value of $286,355.72 in excess of its maximum permitted production for the period, in violation of Order L-65. After June 7, 1943, it produced a substantial number of new electric dry shavers, in violation of the order. In the period from June 17, 1943, to December 1, 1943, it produced approximately 68,000 heads for electric dry shavers other than for repair or replacement parts, in violation of the order, and from August through November, 1943, its production resulted in an inventory averaging approximately 90,000 each month in excess of the amount permitted by the order. The company was familiar with the order, and the violations were wilful.

These violations of Order L-65 have diverted critical material to uses not authorized by the War Production Board, and have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.553 Suspension Order No. S-553. (a) Remington Rand, Inc., its successors and assigns, shall not, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board, produce any heads, motors or cases (for electric dry shavers), or assemble them into new electric dry shavers or rebuilt electric dry shavers (other than in repair or exchange service for individual consumers) so long as the number of such heads (including oversized heads), motors and cases, respectively, in its inventory exceeds the number of heads, motors, and cases which it sold during the preceding four calendar months, at the expiration of which time it may produce such heads, motors or cases and assemble the same only upon application to the War Production Board and allowance of such application.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Remington Rand, Inc., its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on May 18, 1944.

Issued this 16th day of May 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[CMP Reg. 1, Direction 41, as Amended May 19, 1944]

ALLOTMENT PROCEDURE FOR SHIP REPAIR AND CONVERSION

Direction 41 to CMP Regulation No. 1 is amended to read as follows:

(a) What this direction does. This direction explains the procedure for obtaining allotments and a preference rating for ship repair and conversion in private repair yards, dockside repair, and Army and Navy repair yards and other Naval repair establishments. This direction applies to the repair and conversion of all types of vessels and applies regardless of whether the repair is capitalized or not. The direction does not cover facilities or equipment which are a part of the yard where the repairs and conversion are made, as distinct from products and materials which will be incorporated in the ship. Manufacturers of Class B products other than those included in the Bureau of Ships Special Navy Product List are not affected by this direction.

(b) Private repair yards. Private repair yards will apply to the Coordinator of Ship Repair and Conversion for allotments they require for controlled materials and Class A products they will use in ship repair and conversion of all vessels in their yard or at dockside. There are four exceptions explained in paragraph (e). Manufacturers of Class A products sold to private repair yards for ship repair and conversion will obtain allotments from the ship repair yard, except as explained in paragraph (e) below.

(c) Dockside repair (by ship's crew or operators). Controlled materials and A and B products required for repair of ships at dockside by ship's crew or operators will be obtained by the use of the MRO symbol and rating by the ship operator under CMP Regulation No. 5 and Direction 6 to that regulation. This does not apply to private yards doing repair or conversion at dockside as this procedure is explained in paragraph (b). Allotments required for Class A products for ship repair at dockside will be obtained by the manufacturer of the Class A product from the War Production Board by filing form CMP-4B, as explained in paragraph (k-1) of CMP Regulation No. 1.

(d) Army and Navy repair yards. Army and Navy repair yards and all other Naval establishments will allot for all Class A products which they require for ship repair and conversion, except for the special cases explained in paragraph (e) below.

(e) Exceptions. There are four exceptions to the rules stated in paragraphs (b) and (d) where a manufacturer of a Class A product will not obtain an allotment for it from a repair yard:

(1) Bureau of Ships Special Navy Products. In all cases where a manufacturer of a Bureau of Ships Special Navy Product is making that product for ship repair or conversion he will obtain the allotment he requires by filing form CMP-4A with the Bureau of Ships, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.

(2) Sales through distributors. Where a Class A product for use in ship repair or conversion is sold through a distributor, the manufacturer will obtain his allotment from the War Production Board as explained in paragraph (k-1) (1) of CMP Regulation No. 1.

(3) Standard MRO parts. Where a manufacturer makes a Class A product which is sold for maintenance and repair for a number of other uses than ship repair and conversion, and for which he normally filed Form CMP-4B with the War Production Board as provided by paragraph (k-1) (2) of CMP Regulation No. 1, he must include his requirements for Class A products sold for ship repair in the CMP-4B application filed with the War Production Board, instead of getting an allotment from the ship repair yard.

(4) Repair shops. A repairman may get materials in one of two alternate ways, but he may not use both.

(i) He may file a Form CMP-4B for an allotment for all his repair work with the War Production Board, or,

(ii) He may get allotments from repair yards under this direction for the work he does for them, get material for repair for other customers by using their allotment symbol and rating under paragraph (g-1) of CMP Regulation No. 5, and also get material under CMP Regulation No. 9A. If a repairman has already gotten an allotment by filing Form CMP-4B, and wishes to get materials by the second way, he may return his allotment to the War Production Board.

(f) Conversion. As used in this direction, the word conversion refers to such work only when performed in a ship repair yard. Any conversion in other private yards will be handled as new construction.

(g) Information about Bureau of Ships' Special Products list. Information concerning the classification of specific products as Bureau of Ships' Special Navy Products may be obtained from the Bureau of Ships (CMP), Washington, D. C.

(h) Addresses. Applications filed with the Navy under this direction should be addressed to the Bureau of Ships (CMP) Navy Department, Washington, D. C. or, in the case of U. S. Coast Guard contracts, to Headquarters, U. S. Coast Guard, Washington, D. C.; those filed with the Navy or Army Repair Yard should be addressed to the Navy or Army Yard involved; those filed with the War Production Board should be addressed to the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., or to a local Field Office of the War Production Board, if the person has been notified to do so; those filed with the Coordinator should be addressed to the Coordinator of Ship Repair and Conversion. Private repair yards in the Great Lake and North Atlantic area down to and including Savannah, Georgia, send applications to Coordinator of Ship Repair and Conversion, 11 Broadway, New York City; in the South Atlantic and Gulf area to Coordinator of Ship Repair and Conversion, Richards Building, New Orleans, Louisiana; and in the Pacific Coast area to Coordinator of Ship Repair and Conversion, 155 Sansone Street, San Francisco, California.

(i) Return of allotments. Any manufacturer who obtained material for the manufacture of Class A products for ship repair directly from the War Production Board or a Claimant Agency under the provisions of this direction as issued December 29, 1943, and who would now obtain material for such products from a repair yard, should treat the allotment as though it were a special allotment under Direction 22 to CMP Regulation No. 1. If he received the allotment from a Claimant Agency, return as provided by Direction 22 should be made to that Claimant Agency.

(j) Additional allotments. If a subcontractor or Class A product manufacturer has delivered Class A products to any repair yard since April 1, 1944 and he has not applied to the War Production Board for an allotment of material required to produce the A product or already received an allotment from the yard in lieu of applying to the War Production Board for an allotment, he may apply to the repair yard to which the product was delivered, and the repair yard will make an allotment necessary to replace the inventory which the manufacturer used to make the product.

Issued this 19th day of May 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

(2) In the instance of any converted products not named on any of the lists of this order, the following processes and operations shall not be considered as processing:

(i) Cutting, trimming or rewinding to a different size when such is performed as part of any established finishing room procedure and provided the paper or paperboard so processed is not intended for a use which serves to defeat the purpose of the order. (Example: the cutting of plain paper to a given size for use as a tray cover, the manufacture of which is curtailed by this order).

(ii) Punching or corner cutting.

(iii) Super-calendering.

(iv) Laminating.

(v) Coating, friction calendering, flint glazing, plating and embossing.

(vi) Collating and binding.

(vii) Printing, when such contributes to the functional value of the product to such a degree that the product would be incapable of performing the use intended if not printed, (Examples: advertising streamers, posters, menus, programs, timetables, sheet music, patterns, decalcomania transfers, checks), or when such printing is an intermediate process in the manufacture of an article or type of converted paper.

(viii) Printing wrappers (excluding gift wrappings) when printing is the only conversion operation other than cutting or trimming.

(ix) Embossing, corrugating, creping and crinkling for industrial and non-decorative uses.

(f) Alternate method of calculating quotas. As an alternate method of calculating quarterly quotas for any converted product, any person may, after the filing of a notice in writing with the War Production Board, elect to apply the percentages established by paragraphs (d) and (e) (1) of this order to one fourth of his total yearly consumption of pulp, paper and paperboard in such product during 1942. When such election has been made and the required notice in writing has been given to the War Production Board, the method of determining quotas may not thereafter be changed.

(g) Converter's responsibility in determining coverage of this order. It shall be the duty of each converter to determine in the first instance which of his products are included among the converted products referred to in this order. In case of doubt he may apply to the War Production Board in writing describing the product in question, for a specific ruling determining whether or not the same is so included. The War Production Board may of its own motion in any case, by telegram or letter, issue a specific ruling determining whether or not a particular product of a particular converter is so included.

(h) Inventory restrictions. (1) [Deleted Apr. 8, 1944]

(2) No person shall knowingly deliver to any converter and no converter shall accept delivery of, any quantity of pulp, paper or paperboard if the inventory of pulp, paper and paperboard in the hands of the converter accepting delivery is, or will by virtue of such acceptance become, either:

(i) In excess of two carloads, or

(ii) If in excess of two carloads, greater than 30 days' supply, on the basis of either his average rate of consuming pulp, paper or paperboard for the preceding quarter or his average rate of consuming such pulp, paper or paperboard as projected for the then current quarter.

(i) Allocations. The War Production Board may from time to time direct the production and delivery of specific quantities of any converted product included in this order. Such directions will be made to insure the satisfaction of war requirements both direct and indirect and essential civilian requirements and shall take precedence over any preference rating to the extent indicated by the War Production Board.

(j) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(k) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(l) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(m) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Paper Division, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: M–241–a.

LIST E [Deleted Oct. 5, 1943]

WAXED PAPER CONVERSION

"Waxed and oiled paper, all types and grades other than household packages, excluding waxed paper wrappings for direct war use as provided in List A," as that caption appears in List B of General Conservation Order M–241–a, applies to all the kinds of paper so described regardless of whether produced as a result of a separate converting operation, as is commonly the case, or produced as a result of having been oiled or waxed on the paper machine. For the purpose of this order control has been placed on the end product. The method employed in consuming paper in the manufacture of the end product is not a factor of consideration in determining the applicability of the order. (Issued Feb. 15, 1944.)

RETAIL UNITS

This interpretation of General Conservation Order M–241–a applies to the consumption of paper in the manufacture of retail units of wrapping and other papers as dispensed through the variety chain stores, the department stores, the stationery stores and all other retail outlets. These retail units are regarded as within the definition of a "converted product" in Order M–241–a and therefore subject to the restrictions contained in paragraphs (d) or (e) of the order.

All grades and kinds of paper, plain or printed, when converted into retail units for wrapping purposes are subject to the order, although the percentage restriction on consumption need not be separately applied to each of the grades and kinds of paper consumed during the base period. It is permitted to calculate an aggregate quota and to consume any grade or kind of paper, plain or printed, within the quota without regard to the maintenance of the same relationship of grade and kind that prevailed during the base period.

Any person who did not consume paper during the base period of the order in the conversion of such retail units of wrapping and other papers has no basis from which to calculate a quota and, therefore, cannot become a converter.

There is a distinction in the instance of printed wrapping paper as follows:

1. When printed wrapping paper is delivered by the printer in bulk form (not packaged) for further sale or further distribution the printer is the "converter" as defined in the order, and, therefore, subject to the restrictions of paragraph (e); but,

2. If the printer delivers the printed wrapping paper to a person for subsequent conversion into retail units, the final converter is the one subject to the restrictions of paragraph (e) and not the printer.

Since retail units are regarded as a separate and distinct type of "converted product," it is obvious that tonnage from other products cannot be included when calculating a quota for retail units.

Plain wrapping tissue purchased in quires, or flat, when subsequently folded and labeled or otherwise packaged, is deemed to be a retail unit and therefore restricted by paragraph (e).

Quota tonnage which has not been consumed at the end of a calendar quarter may not be carried over to the succeeding calendar quarter. (Issued Feb. 15, 1944.)

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 20 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 16 (c) (1) (ii) is amended as read as follows:

(ii) To the maximum base price for any grade of copper scrap, a special use premium of 1.25 cents per pound may be added: Provided, That the scrap has been prepared to meet the consumer's specifications and is suitable for his direct use without further preparation. However, no special use premium may be added on the sale or delivery of any such copper scrap to a copper refiner, a brass and bronze ingot manufacturer, a ferrous or nonferrous foundry, or a brass mill.

(a) Any consumer qualified to pay the special use premium provided by this paragraph who is unable to obtain any grade of copper scrap by payment of the stated premium of 1.25 cents per pound because of unusual specification requirements may apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a price that he may pay for such material. (7) To the extent possible, a statement by the applicant setting forth the reasons why he cannot obtain the required material by payment of the special use premium established by this regulation, and
(8) The proposed price, f. o. b. point of shipment.

When a maximum price is submitted for approval in this manner, it shall be deemed to be approved unless the Administrator specifically disapproves such price within fifteen days from the date on which receipt of the request for approval is acknowledged. The maximum price for such scrap when once approved shall be the maximum price for all subsequent purchases of such scrap by the buyer to whom such approval is given, unless such approval is specifically withdrawn.

PART 1384—HARDWOOD LUMBER PRODUCTS

SOUTHERN ROTARY CUT BOX GRADE VENEER[2]

This compilation of Maximum Price Regulation 176 included Amendment 9, effective May 18, 1944. The word "Illinois" is added in § 1384.8 (a) (3) (ii) and the table in § 1384.12 (a) is amended by Amendment 9.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the prices of southern rotary cut box grade veneer have risen in a manner inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of southern rotary cut box grade veneer prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of said act. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[3]

Such specifications and standards as are used in this regulation were prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected.

[Above sentence added by Supplementary Order No. 61, 8 F.R. 12552, effective 9-11-43]

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, and in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 1,[4] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 176 is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1384.1 to 1384.13, inclusive, issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; Pub. Law 151, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871 and E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681.

§ 1384.1 Maximum prices for southern rotary cut box grade veneer.—(a) Application of Maximum Price Regulation No. 176. (1) The provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 176 shall apply to the following sales or deliveries of southern rotary cut box grade veneer:

(i) All sales or deliveries of southern rotary cut box grade veneer, either in prime sizes or cut to box-part finished sizes, where such southern rotary cut box grade veneer is shipped from an operation which after October 1, 1941, sold any prime sizes of southern rotary cut box grade veneer.

(ii) All sales or deliveries of southern rotary cut box grade veener, either in prime sizes or cut to box-part finished sizes, where such southern rotary cut box grade veener is shipped from an operation which after October 1, 1941, priced and sold any portion of its southern rotary cut box grade veneer on the basis of board foot or surface foot measure.

(2) Notwithstanding subdivision (1) above, the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 176 shall not apply to the following sales or deliveries of southern rotary cut box grade veneer:

(i) Sales or deliveries of southern rotary cut box grade veneer where shipment is from an operation which after October 1, 1941, did not sell any prime sizes of such southern rotary cut box grade veneer or which after October 1, 1941, did not price and sell any such southern rotary cut box grade veneer on the basis of board foot or surface foot measure.

(ii) Sales or deliveries of southern rotary cut box grade veneer which have been unitized into box parts by stitching or nailing.

(iii) Sales or deliveries of southern rotary cut box grade veneer which is included with sawed lumber in complete (full) box shook package units, each of which is ready to be assembled.

(iv) Shipments pursuant to an order of less than 5,000 board feet of southern rotary cut box grade veneer.

(v) Sales or deliveries of southern rotary cut box grade veneer to a purchaser if prior to July 6, 1942, such lumber had been received by a carrier other than a carrier owned or controlled by the seller for shipment to such purchaser.

(b) Prohibition against sales of southern rotary cut box grade veneer at higher than maximum prices. On and after July 11, 1942, regardless of any contract or agreement, no person shall sell or deliver any southern rotary cut box grade veneer and no person shall buy or receive in the course of business any southern rotary cut box grade veneer at prices higher than the maximum prices established in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 176; and no person subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 176 shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

[§ 1384.1 amended by Am. 1, 7 F.R. 7243, effective 9-17-42 and Am. 7, 9 F.R. 1727, effective 2-19-44]

The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

It is unlawful for any person to charge, receive or pay a commission for the service of procuring, buying, selling or locating box grade veneer, or for any related service (such as "expediting") which does not involve actual physical handling of box grade veneer, if the commission plus the purchase price results in a total payment by the buyer of box grade veneer which is higher than the maximum price of the box grade veneer. For the purposes of this regulation a commission is any compensation, however designated, which is paid for the procurement of box grade veneer. This prohibition has no application to the case of a bona fide employer-employee relationship where the employee serves only one employer, insofar as box grade veneer procurement is concerned, and where the compensation paid by the employer is a fixed salary and is not based directly or indirectly on the quantity, price or value of the box grade veneer in connection with which the service is rendered.

[Above paragraph added by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 2993, effective 3-15-43 and amended by Am. 7]

§ 1384.5 Records and reports. (a) Every seller and purchaser subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 176 making sales or deliveries or purchases of southern rotary cut box grade veneer to the value of $500.00 or more in any one month after July 10, 1942, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for a period of not less than two years a complete and accurate record of each sale or delivery or purchase of southern rotary cut box grade veneer, showing the date of purchase or sale, the name and address of the buyer and seller, the quantities and sizes of such lumber purchased or sold, and the price paid or received.

(b) Every manufacturer of southern rotary cut box grade veneer required by paragraph (a) of this section to keep records of sales shall preserve for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for a period of not less than two years all records available on July 11, 1942, of sales of southern rotary cut box grade veneer made by the manufacturer during October 1941. The records should include the thickness and length of southern rotary cut box grade veneer sold, and, in the case of southern rotary cut box grade veneer which was cut into a box-part finished size by means of a saw or comparable cutting device, the dimension specifications. In the event that a manufacturer does not have such records available on July 11, 1942, the manufacturer should notify the Office of Price Administration on or before August 1, 1942.

(c) Every person required by paragraph (a) of this section to keep records shall keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section and shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration as that Office may from time to time require or permit.

[§ 1384.5 amended by Am. 7, 9 F.R. 1727, effective 2-19-44]

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 176 or any price schedule, regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration or any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest Field, State or Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 7 (7 F.R. 5176) provides that war procurement agencies and governments whose defense is vital to the defense of the United States shall be relieved of liability, civil or criminal, imposed by price regulations issued by the Office of Price Administration.]

§ 1384.6a Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[5] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or schedule. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

[§ 1384.6a added by Supplementary Order No. 72, 8 F.R. 13244, effective 10-1-43]

(b) In treating with petitions for amendment or adjustment, consideration will not be given to log and bolt costs which are higher than the applicable maximum purchase price for logs and bolts established in Maximum Price Regulations 313 (Prime Grade Hardwood Logs)[6] or 348 (Logs and Bolts),[7] or any revision or amendment of these regulations. This rule shall be followed regardless of whether the petitioner gets logs and bolts by purchasing them, logging his own standing timber, contracting for the logging of his own standing timber, or any other means. All petitions in any way based on the cost of logs or bolts must show the actual cost to the petitioner of logs and bolts received at his plant during the three months immediately prior to filing the petition, and the cost which would have been incurred by the petitioner if all of these logs and bolts had been purchased by him at ceiling prices. To figure these ceiling prices the petitioner should refer to the regulation which fixes the maximum prices for purchases and sales of the kinds of logs and bolts received at his plant.

In such cases the application must include the following data:

(1) Profit and loss statements covering over-all company operations for (a) the most recent accounting period of not less than six months immediately preceding August 1943 and (b) the applicable six months base quota period as described in the Conservation Order. § 1384.11 Effective date. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 176 (§§ 1384.1 to 1384.13, inclusive) shall become effective July 11, 1942. [MPR 176 originally issued July 6, 1942]

5/32	63.00	65.55
3/16	62.00	64.50
5/16	62.00	64.50

(b) [Revoked]

[Paragraph (b) revoked by Am. 1, 7 F.R. 7243, effective 9-17-42]

(c) The maximum f. o. b. mill price for 1,000 board feet of southern rotary cut box grade veneer which satisfies the accepted grade requirements for rotary cut egg case veneer, which is cut on a saw or comparable cutting device into standard egg case finished sizes (for cases with a capacity of 30 dozen eggs), and which is shipped to a purchaser direct from the producing mill, shall be the maximum price established in this paragraph (a) of this section plus $8.00. The maximum prices established in this paragraph shall not be applicable to rotary cut egg case veneer where shipment to the purchaser originates from a place other than the producing mill; however, the maximum price shall apply to rotary cut egg case veneer which is shipped to the purchaser direct from the producing mill regardless of whether the seller is the mill operator or another person and regardless of whether the shipment is temporarily halted in transit in order to load the carrier with additional products.

(d) The maximum f. o. b. mill price for 1,000 board feet of southern rotary cut box grade veneer, other than lumber in standard egg case finished sizes (for cases with a capacity of 30 dozen eggs), which is cut into a particular box-part finished size by means of a saw or comparable cutting device shall be the price established in paragraph (a) of this section for southern rotary cut box grade veneer in the length and thickness ordered by the purchaser, plus a differential consisting of the difference between the price charged by the producing mill during the period October 1 to 15, 1941 (1) for southern rotary cut box grade veneer in that length and thickness not cut into box-part finished sizes by means of a saw or comparable cutting device, and (2) for southern rotary cut box grade veneer of the same length and thickness cut by means of a saw or comparable cutting device into box-parts of the particular finished dimensions for which a maximum price is being computed. In case the producing mill cannot compute such a differential, the mill should determine and apply the corresponding differential recognized during October 1 to 15, 1941 by the most closely competitive seller of the same class. The maximum price established by this paragraph for southern rotary cut box grade veneer cut at a particular mill to box-part finished sizes by means of a saw or comparable cutting device shall apply to such lumber produced at that mill regardless of whether the lumber is sold by the mill operator or another person.

(e) A delivered price in excess of the maximum f. o. b. mill prices established in paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) of this section may be charged, consisting of such maximum price plus actual transportation costs paid or incurred by the seller in delivering southern rotary cut box grade veneer to the purchaser; such actual transportation costs must be shown as a separate item in the invoice or billing.

[Paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) amended by Am. 7, 9 F.R. 1727, effective 2-19-44]

(f) The maximum prices established in this section shall not be increased by any charges for the extension of credit or by any decrease in the time customarily allowed for payment, and shall be decreased for prompt payment to the same extent that the sale price would have been decreased on October 1, 1941.

§ 1384.13 Appendix B: Grading rules for southern rotary cut box grade veneer. (a) All stock shall be sound (corky tupelo considered unsound), free from rot, or dote. A reasonable amount of pin wormholes, sound tight knots not exceeding three inches in diameter measuring the small way, shall be no defect. A reasonable discoloration or stain shall be no defect.

[Section heading amended by Am. 7]

(b) All stock shall be machine cut to the specified thickness ordered, standard gears as furnished by the lathe manufacturer to be used.

(c) All stock shall be cut tight, and when shipped shall not contain more than 15% moisture content. Said percentage is to be arrived at by test of an equal number of sap and heart pieces. Stock shall be sufficiently flat to straighten under machines, without splitting.

(d) A trimming allowance of ½" in width and 1" in length, shall be allowed on all lengths 30" and over, one-half inch in length, and one-half inch in width on stock less than 30" long. Cut downs, whether sized before or after drying, shall carry ½" allowance in width.

(e) (1) Only those cutdowns and cutbacks that actually accumulate in working out defects in the logs and rounding the logs used in filling a particular order may be shipped against that order. Such cutdowns and cutbacks shall have the same maximum price as prime size stock in the same length and thickness as the cutdowns and cutbacks.

(2) Standard cutdowns in widths shall run in multiples of 2", the narrowest width to be 4".

(3) Standard cutbacks in lengths shall be 54"—48"—42"—36"—32" and 27".

[Paragraph (e) amended by Am. 1, 7 F.R. 7243, effective 9-17-42]

(f) Checks or splits not longer than one-fourth the length of the piece are not considered defects provided the checks or splits are reasonably straight, do not diverge more than 1" per foot, and do not run over ¼" in width and in all widths.

(g) Specifications on all sizes, both width and length, shall not be specified in fractions of less than ½", except by special arrangement between the seller and the buyer.

(h) Each size is to be bundled separately and to be marked. Each bundle is to contain a uniform number of pieces. Twenty-five pieces of ¼" or 7/32", 30 pieces of 3/16", 35 pieces of 1/8", 40 pieces of 1/5", and 50 pieces of 1/6" are to be the standard number of pieces to each bundle.

NOTE: All record keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget, in accordance with Federal Reports Act of 1942.

The above barge rates have been computed on an API 20° gravity basis. The following conversion factors are to be used in arriving at the barge rate per barrel of the gravity of crude transported. The barge rate shown on the schedule, multiplied by the applicable conversion factor for the gravity of the crude shipped, will give the barge rate for that gravity crude; the difference between this rate and the barge rate shown on the schedule should be deducted from the compensation shown on the schedule and the resulting figure will be the amount of compensation to be paid.

The barge rates shown on this schedule have been computed from the following basing points: Corpus Christi, Houston and Port Arthur, Texas, and Lake Charles, New Orleans and Baton Rouge, Louisiana. Where more than one basing point is designated for a crude producing area, applicant shall use the basing point nearest point of origin of the shipment for the purpose of computing his claim, except in those cases where crude is moved through a more distant basing point because of limited terminal facilities. If the mileage from the actual loading point on the Gulf Intra-Coastal Canal or lower Mississippi River to destination is less than the mileage from the basing point to destination, applicant shall reduce the barge rate by such difference in mileage. If the shipment is not loaded on Gulf Intra-Coastal Canal or at lower Mississippi River points, mileage shall be computed from the point shipment reaches the Canal or River. All mileage deductions for shipments originating on the Gulf Intra-Coastal Canal shall be computed at 4.25 mills per ton mile. All mileage deductions for shipments originating on the Mississippi River shall be computed at 3.75 mills per ton mile.

NOTE: The rates contained in this schedule are based upon barge tariff rates between the points listed which were in effect on April 10, 1944. In the event of any change in such tariff rates, Defense Supplies Corporation reserves the right to make corresponding adjustment in the rates listed above, effective from the date of the tariff change.

READY-MIXED CONCRETE, CONCRETE PRODUCTS AND PRECAST STONE PRODUCTS

MODIFICATION OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Amendment No. 36 to Order No. A–1 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. Manufacturers' maximum prices for specified building materials and consumers' goods other than apparel. Modification of maximum prices for ready-mixed concrete, concrete products and precast stone products.

An opinion accompanying Amendment No. 36 to Order No. A–1 has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Order No. A–1 is amended by adding a new paragraph (a) (29) to read as follows:

(29) Modification of maximum prices for ready-mixed concrete, concrete products, and precast stone products. On and after May 19, 1944, any manufacturer producing a type or kind of ready-mixed concrete, a size or variety of concrete product, or a precast stone product, which was not sold or offered for sale during March 1942, and for which a maximum price has not been established, shall determine his maximum price for such product or products in accordance with the first applicable method set forth below rather than §§ 1499.155 to 1499.158, inclusive, of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

(i) Manufacturer operating a plant producing ready-mixed concrete, concrete products, or precast stone products during the month of March 1942, or prior thereto. The maximum price for ready-mixed concrete, concrete products, and precast stone products sold by a manufacturer operating a plant producing such products during the month of March 1942, or prior thereto, but not selling or offering the particular type or kind of product for sale during that month, whether the sale is to be made f. o. b. the manufacturer's plant or delivered to a destination designated by the purchaser, shall be such that the cost to the purchaser, at the destination designated, is not in excess of what it would have been to such purchaser under normal conditions of sale during the month of March 1942. Such price shall be calculated upon the basis of the price, pricing practices, freight rates, transportation practices, trade practices, terms of sale and allowances, and customary differentials most favorable to purchasers, in effect, published, listed, or quoted by the seller during the month of March 1942.

(ii) Maximum prices for sales by a manufacturer producing new ready-mixed concrete, concrete products, or precast stone products for the first time, or when such products are sold by a new manufacturer—(a) At a permanent plant. The maximum price for a manufacturer's sales out of a permanent plant, whether as a new manufacturer or an established manufacturer producing any particular type of ready-mixed concrete, or new concrete products or new precast stone products for the first time, shall not exceed:

The maximum price of his closest competitor based on the following factors:

(1) Comparable kind, grade, and quality of the commodity being priced;

(2) Class of purchaser;

(3) Class of seller;

The maximum price arrived at under the above paragraph shall be reported to the Office of Price Administration together with a statement giving the name and address of the most closely competitive seller used to establish the maximum price or prices. If, within 20 days after the report is mailed, the Office of Price Administration has not mailed an approval or disapproval of the reported maximum price, the seller may treat the reported price as his ceiling price. The seller may be advised of the approval or disapproval by telephone or telegram before the expiration of 20 days.

If a maximum price cannot be established by a manufacturer under the conditions stated above because of the lack of a competitive seller or a comparable type of sale, or because fixing a price under those conditions will result in hardship to the seller, the maximum price must be fixed under subdivision (c) below. A reported price, which is out of line with the general level of prices under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, will be disapproved and the maximum price must be established under subdivision (c) below.

(b) At a temporary plant. The maximum price for a manufacturer's sales out of a temporary plant shall not exceed:

The maximum price of his closest competitor based on the following factors:

(1) Comparable kind, grade, and quality of the commodity being priced;

(2) Class of purchaser;

(3) Class of seller;

If a maximum price cannot be fixed by a manufacturer under the paragraph above, the maximum price shall be the same as the manufacturer's maximum price for the same product under similar conditions of sale at his own permanent plant but adjusted so as to reflect the actual difference in unit direct labor and materials cost at the site of the temporary plant, plus an allowance to cover the actual or estimated cost of transporting the temporary plant to the site of its operations, the cost of erection and dismantling, and the cost of returning such plant to the manufacturer's permanent storage yard. Such added costs must be spread over the reasonable estimated volume of production at the temporary plant. The reasonableness of all actual or estimated costs included in the proposed price must be clearly established.

The maximum price arrived at under either of the two preceding paragraphs shall be reported to the Office of Price Administration with a statement showing the method by which the price was determined, a description of the commodity produced, the expected volume of sales, the purchaser or class of purchasers to whom the commodity is expected to be sold, the date when production is expected to begin and end. If the maximum price is not determined on a competitive basis, the manufacturer must also report the cost of labor and materials at the permanent plant and the actual or estimated increase or decrease in cost for these items at the temporary location, plus allowances to cover the actual or estimated cost of transporting and erecting the temporary plant at the site of its operations and the cost of dismantling and returning such plant to the manufacturer's permanent storage yard. These allowances must be prorated over the reasonable estimated volume of production at the temporary plant. If within 20 days after the report is mailed, the Office of Price Administration has not mailed an approval or disapproval of the reported maximum price, the manufacturer may treat the reported price as his ceiling price. A reported price, which is out of line with the general level of prices under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, will be disapproved and the maximum price must be established under subdivision (c) below. The manufacturer may be advised of the approval or disapproval by telephone or telegram before the expiration of 20 days.

If a maximum price cannot be established under the conditions stated above because of the lack of a competitive seller or a comparable type of sale, or because fixing a price under those conditions will result in hardship to the seller, the maximum price must be fixed under subdivision (c) below.

(c) Maximum prices which cannot be determined by a manufacturer under subdivisions (a) and (b) must be determined under this subdivision. In the case of any product the maximum price for which cannot be determined by a manufacturer under subdivisions (a) and (b) hereof, the manufacturer shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Building Materials Price Branch, Washington 25, D. C., an application for approval of a proposed maximum price for the particular product showing the information requested below.

Maximum prices to be established for products produced at a permanent plant. The proposed maximum price, the method by which it was determined, a description of the kind, grade and quality of the product, the volume expected to be produced, the purchaser or class of purchasers to whom the commodities are expected to be sold, and:

(1) Detailed actual or estimated breakdown of plant cost into material, labor, and other production costs.

(2) Selling and administrative expenses. The basis used in charging these expenses to cost must be explained.

(3) Mark-up used and the basis of its determination.

(4) Maximum selling price requested.

(5) An estimate of the total production upon which these costs are based.

(6) Such other facts may be submitted as will make clear the basis for the requested maximum price.

Maximum prices to be established for products produced at a temporary plant. The proposed maximum price, the manner in which it was determined, a description of the product, the expected volume of sales, the purchaser or class of purchaser to whom the commodity is expected to be sold, the date when production is expected to begin and end, and:

(1) Detailed actual or estimated breakdown of plant cost into material, labor, and other production costs.

(2) Selling and administrative expenses. The basis used in charging these expenses to cost must be explained.

(3) Mark-up used and the basis of its determination.

(4) As an addition to items (1), (2), and (3), the actual or estimated cost of transporting and erecting the temporary plant at the site of operations and the actual or estimated cost of dismantling and returning the temporary plant to the manufacturer's permanent storage yard. These expenses must be prorated over the reasonably estimated volume of production at the temporary plant.

(5) Maximum selling price requested.

(6) Estimate of the total production upon which costs are based.

(7) Such other facts may be submitted as will make clear the basis for the requested maximum price.

(d) Reporting and waiting requirements. No report need be filed for prices fixed under subdivision (i).

It is required that reports for maximum prices fixed under subdivision (ii) be filed with the Office of Price Administration, Building Materials Price Branch, Washington 25, D. C. An authorized maximum price will not be in effect under subdivisions (ii) (a) and (b) until the manufacturer has been notified of the approval or unless the maximum price is automatically approved by the expiration of the 20 day period. Under subdivision (ii) (c) an authorized maximum price will not be in effect until the Office of Price Administration issues an order to that effect.

However, under subdivision (ii), (a), (b), and (c), above, the manufacturer may offer to sell, sell, deliver, and tentatively collect the maximum price reported to the Office of Price Administration: Provided, That he informs the buyer that the reported price is subject to approval by the Office of Price Administration and he agrees to refund to the purchaser any amount collected which is in excess of the amount which is finally approved by the Office of Price Administration. In the case of offers, sales, or deliveries before an authorized maximum price is in effect, every invoice to the buyer must contain the following statement:

The price billed is subject to approval by OPA and any amount collected above the approved price will be refunded.

All reports of maximum prices must be mailed to the Office of Price Administration, Building Materials Price Branch, Washington 25, D. C.

This Amendment No. 36 shall become effective May 19, 1944.

NOTE: All reporting and record keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(2) The adjusted selling price (not in excess of the maximum price under this Order No. 30).

(d) Notice. On or with the first invoice referred to in paragraph (c) above sent to a purchaser for the first delivery of putty at a price adjusted under this order, or prior thereto, the manufacturer or reseller (other than a reseller at retail) shall furnish such purchaser the following notice:

NOTICE

Unless you are reselling at retail you may on your resale of putty manufactured by Landen Putty Works and listed on the invoice furnished by your supplier, add the increase in your acquisition cost indicated on the invoice to your maximum price established under the General Maximum Price Regulation prior to May 19, 1944 for a like sale of putty manufactured by Landen Putty Works. However, you may do so only if, as required by the Office of Price Administration, you (1) show on all your invoices covering such resales the increase in your maximum price in the same manner as shown on the invoice furnished by your supplier, and (2) include on or with the first such invoice a notice identical to this notice. In no event may a retailer selling putty manufactured by Landen Putty Works increase his maximum price established under the General Maximum Price Regulation.

RETRAINING AND REEMPLOYMENT ADMINISTRATION.

ORGANIZATION AND OPERATION OF VETERANS' INFORMATION SERVICE CENTERS

As men and women are discharged from the armed services and as war production is cut back, many persons will experience serious difficulty in readjusting from war to peace activity. To give the most appropriate assistance to the individual in making this readjustment, it is necessary that information be easily accessible in every community as to services and benefits available.

To accomplish this, the President of the United States, on February 24, 1944, prescribed in Executive Order 9427:

* * * There is hereby established in the Office of War Mobilization a Retraining and Reemployment Administration (hereinafter referred to as the Administration), the functions of which, subject to the general supervision of the Director of War Mobilization, shall be exercised by a Retraining and Reemployment Administrator (hereinafter referred to as the Administrator) to be appointed by the Director of War Mobilization.

With the assistance of a Retraining and Reemployment Policy Board, composed of a representative of the Department of Labor, the Federal Security Agency, the War Manpower Commission, the Selective Service System, the Veterans Administration, the Civil Service Commission, the War Department, the Navy Department, and the War Production Board, it shall be the function of the Administration:

To have general supervision and direction of the activities of all Government agencies relating to the retraining and reemployment of persons discharged or released from the armed services or other war work, including all work directly affected by the cessation of hostilities or the reduction of the war programs; to issue necessary regulations and directions in connection therewith; and to advise with the appropriate committees of the Congress as to the steps taken or to be taken with respect thereto.

To facilitate these processes, the Army and Navy will, at the time of discharge, advise persons who are leaving the services and will provide them with printed information as to their rights and benefits.

The Administrator with the concurrence of the Policy Board, as constituted in the Executive order, directs that all field offices of the United States Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission, the Selective Service System, and the Veterans Administration shall provide full information as to their own programs and as to other existing programs for veterans.

Under the authority of the Administrator of Retraining and Reemployment, there shall be established in each State a Veterans' Service Committee representing the Selective Service System, the War Manpower Commission, and the Veterans Administration. This committee will act as the representative of the Federal government in the State in connection with information to veterans. Each committee will select its own chairman and will add to its membership, or will represent the Federal government on State committees of the same nature, as the situation requires.

This committee will have the following responsibilities:

Each member of the committee shall designate a representative of his agency as a member of the Veterans' Service Committee in each community of the State in which the agency maintains facilities.

Render such assistance as may be required by the Veterans' Service Committee in establishing Veterans' Information Centers in the committees where the need for such centers has been determined.

Act as a central point for and mobilize the efforts of volunteer or other groups in the State in relation to veterans' information activities.

Be the contact point in the State for the Administrator of Retraining and Reemployment in connection with this program.

In order to promote an integrated and balanced program in the community, the Administrator directs that there shall be a Veterans' Service Committee with the following membership: a representative of the Selective Service System, the United States Employment Service, and the Veterans Administration insofar as any one or all of these agencies have representatives available in the community. These representatives shall constitute the Veterans' Service Committee. The committee will elect its own chairman.

A Veterans' Service Committee may enlarge its membership to include representation from local organizations, or they may represent the Federal government on community committees of the same nature. The Federal officials designated by the Administrator shall retain their function and responsibility as the point of contact for the Administration through the State committee with the Federal programs in the community.

The responsibilities of this committee shall be:

To determine the need for a single information service center over and above those existing in the individual agencies of the community.

To act as a central point for and to mobilize the efforts of volunteer or other groups in the community in relation to veterans' information activities.

To be the contact point in that community for the State Veterans' Service Committee in connection with the particular subject matter of this program.

The committe shall, in consultation with the cooperating agencies, determine: First, whether a single information center is necessary; second, whether there is available an appropriate location and necessary facilities in the community.

The function of an information center shall be primarily one of advice and reference. Actual determination of eligibility for benefits or special services must be the function of the appropriate agencies.

Local cooperation is important, since local organizations may render service outside of the scope of the Federal programs and may effectively provide volunteer service and facilities for the center.

If a center establishes services acceptable to veterans, with sound advice as to their problems, the variety and complexity of applications for assistance will be great. Federal programs will by no means meet all of these demands. Advice will be sought as to housing, family programs, special assistance, business or farm problems, and many other matters. Such varied services will demand the assistance of all pertinent community organizations and leaders.

Thus the centers should have available the most skillful interviewers and should have access to the advice of the most influential citizens in the community.

There is no single pattern for the operation of a center which will fit communities of all types and sizes. The organization should be adapted to the volume and nature of applications anticipated and the facilities available in the community. Changes in structure should be effected by the committee as experience indicates.

The committee responsible for the operation of a center may elect an executive secretary who shall be generally responsible for the operation of the center and may, when sufficient staff is available, delegate functions to other appointees. General functions to be performed are procurement of space and supplies, organization of staff, instruction of staff, arrangement of office hours, maintenance of records and the development of working relationships with cooperating organizations.

The space for handling any considerable volume of applicants should include, where possible, a general waiting room with a reference desk and interview facilities which will afford the maximum of privacy.

Efficient operation will require that two types of staff members be available:

1. Specialized staff as designated by the operating agencies.

2. Generalized staff from community organizations or as volunteer workers.

Both types of staff members may need instruction as to methods, procedufes and content of the services available to veterans. The objective of all persons on duty should be to acquire the ability to analyze the problems of the applicant in a tactful manner and refer him to the proper agency for securing service. Specialized personnel should be instructed by the supervisory staffs of the organization in which they are employed. Generalized and volunteer personnel should be instructed through means of discussion groups in which informed persons will explain the areas of responsibilities of each pertinent organization or agency. Such personnel should study and employ for reference the literature concerning Federal and other programs.

In referring applicants to operating agencies for service, interviewers should, if possible, make definite appointments with the person to be seen and provide the applicants with notations of such appointments in writing and ascertain in advance what papers the applicant will need in determining his eligibility or status in order that these may be presented to the service agency.

Basic records of numbers and types of requests, places of reference, and other dispositions, shall be maintained under the supervision of the executive secretary and shall make such reports as may be prescribed by the Administrator and the State committee.

No Federal funds have been appropriated or requested for the establishment or operation of information centers. By amending § 345.12 to read as follows:

§ 345.12 Adjustments—(a) In general. Section 8 (d) of the act provides that if more or less than the correct amount of employer's contribution is paid with respect to any compensation, proper adjustments with respect to the contribution shall, under regulations prescribed by the Board, be made, without interest, in connection with subsequent contribution payments by the same employer.

(2) If less than the correct amount of contributions is paid for any previous calendar quarter because of an error that does not constitute a compensation adjustment as defined in paragraph (b) above, the employer shall adjust the error by (i) reporting the additional amount due and payable by reason of the underpayment as additional contribution on his next report filed after discovery of the error and (ii) paying the amount thereof to the Board at the time such report is filed.

If more than the correct amount of contribution is paid for any previous quarter because of an error that does not constitute a compensation adjustment as defined in paragraph (b) above, the employer shall adjust the error by applying the excess payment as a credit against the contribution due on his next report filed after the discovery of the error.

No underpayment shall be adjusted under this section after the receipt from the Board of formal notice and demand for payment based upon an assessment, but the amount thereof shall be paid to the Board pursuant to such notice and demand.

All records required by these regulations shall be kept at a safe and convenient location accessible to inspection by the board or any of its officers or employees thereto designated. Such records shall be at all times open for inspection by such officers or employees.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter A—General Provisions

PART 903—DELEGATIONS OF AUTHORITY

[Directive 27, Interpretation 2]

LENGTH OF VALIDITY OF RATINGS ASSIGNED ON EXPORT LICENSES

The following interpretation is issued with respect to Directive 27.

A rating assigned by the Foreign Economic Administration, under the authority of Directive 27, by endorsing the required legend on an export license is valid for the life of the export license. This means that the rating must be applied and the material covered by the rating must have been delivered to the holder of the export license before the expiration of the life of the license. Otherwise, the procedure applicable when an individually assigned rating is revoked, provided in § 944.4a of Priorities Regulation 1, will be deemed applicable. On the other hand, if the rating has been applied and the material to which it has been applied has been delivered before the expiration of the life of the export license, its subsequent expiration will not affect the right of the supplier to extend the rating in order to replenish his inventory. Such extension is, of course, subject to the provisions of paragraph (h) (1) of Priorities Regulation 3.

Revocation of an export license on which a rating has been assigned by the Foreign Economic Administration revokes the rating, and § 944.4a of Priorities Regulation 1 is consequently applicable. Extension of the life of an export license, on the other hand, extends the period for which a rating assigned on the export license is valid.

Issued this 20th day of May 1944.

C. E. WILSON,

PART 3201—MINING

[Preference Rating Order P-56, as Amended May 20, 1944]

MINES AND SMELTERS

§ 3201.11 Preference Rating Order P-56—(a) Purpose and scope. This order explains how operators of mines and smelters in the United States and in foreign countries may get the materials and products they need to carry on their operations. The materials covered include not only maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, including controlled materials, but also machinery, other kinds of materials, and equipment. This order does not apply, however, to an operator of a nonessential mine as defined in Limitation Order L-208.

(b) Definitions. (1) "Producer" means a person operating any of the following enterprises, whether in the United States, or any of its territories, or in a foreign country, but does not include any enterprise defined as a "nonessential" mine in Order L-208 or any like enterprise located outside the United States, its territories or possessions: (i) any plant actually engaged in the extraction by surface, open-pit, or underground methods, or in the beneficiation, concentration, or preparation for shipment of the products of mining activity; (ii) any plant wholly engaged in the processing and burning of refractories; (iii) any plant producing any material listed below by smelting or refining processes, and to whom a serial number has been issued under Preference Rating Order P-73, or is hereafter issued as provided in paragraph (c):

Antimony	Nickel
Cobalt	Platinum
Copper	Tin
Iridium	Tungsten
Mercury	Zinc
Molybdenum

(iv) any prospecting enterprise for the discovery, exploration, or development of new or additional mining projects, including the construction of access roads; and (v) mines, concentrating mills, smelters, railroads, power plants, refineries, and appurtenances owned and operated by the companies holding serial numbers under Preference Rating Order P-58 on December 24, 1943.

(2) "District" means a mine supply control district of the Foreign Economic Administration.

(3) "Maintenance, repair, and operating supplies" means material used for the following purposes by producers in the conduct of enterprises described above in paragraph (b) (1): (i) minimum upkeep necessary to continue the working condition of essential property or equipment, and (ii) restoration of essential property or equipment to a sound working condition after wear and tear, damage, destruction or failure of parts, or the like have made the property or equipment unfit or unsafe for service; and supplies which are essential to and consumed or worn out in the conduct of such enterprises. In addition, except as hereinafter noted, the term "maintenance, repair, and operating supplies" includes minor capital additions normally necessary to the operation of the enterprise, but not exceeding in cost $500 (excluding purchaser's cost of labor) for any one complete capital addition. The term "one complete capital addition" includes a group of items customarily purchased together and all items which would normally be purchased as part of a single project or plan. No capital addition shall be subdivided for the purpose of coming within this paragraph.

Producers Holding Serial Numbers

(c) (1) Maintenance, repair, and operating supplies for domestic producers with serial numbers. Producers located within the United States, its territories and possessions (herein called "domestic" producers), holding serial numbers, which may be obtained in the manner specified in paragraph (f), are hereby assigned a preference rating of AA-1 for the purchase of maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, other than controlled materials. This rating may be applied by the producer by placing on his delivery order the endorsement described in paragraph (g). The producer may obtain controlled materials for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies by endorsing his delivery order with the endorsement described in paragraph (g) and inserting the allotment symbol "S-7" therein. An order bearing this endorsement constitutes an authorized controlled material order. No serialized producer shall order for delivery during any calendar quarter, with or without preference ratings, or allotment number, maintenance, repair, or operating supplies in an aggregate amount exceeding 120 percent of his aggregate expenditures for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies during the corresponding calendar quarter of 1943. A producer who has several plants or other operating units which maintain separate records of maintenance, repair, and operating supplies may treat each of them separately for purposes of complying with the provisions of this paragraph (c) (1).

(2) Maintenance, repair, and operating supplies for foreign producers with serial numbers. Producers located outside the United States, its territories and possessions and outside of Canada,[1] (herein called "foreign" producers), holding serial numbers, which may be obtained in the manner specified in paragraph (f), may apply for priorities assistance for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies by filing the foreign mine quota application Form WPB-2937 with the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C.

(3) Machinery and equipment. All producers holding serial numbers, whether domestic, foreign, or Canadian, may apply for priority assistance in obtaining machinery and equipment by filing Form WPB-1319 in accordance with the WPB-1319 instruction pamphlet for items of equipment listed therein. Also, for items of equipment not listed in the instruction pamphlet for which a preference rating is required without authorization on a special form, application should be made on Form WPB-1319. For items of equipment not listed in the WPB-1319 instruction pamphlet, for which orders of the War Production Board require application for specific authorization to be made on a special form, application should be made on such special form. All applications should be filed with the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref. P-56, unless otherwise provided in the WPB-1319 instructions. If necessary, Form WPB-1319 or the special form may be accompanied by a letter explaining any unusual circumstances. No application is necessary in the case of minor capital additions as defined in paragraph (b) (3) unless a special form is required by another order of the War Production Board.

Foreign Producers Operating Under Mine Supply Control Districts

(d) Priorities assistance for certain foreign producers operating under mine supply control districts. To enable a producer not holding a serial number hereunder and located outside the continental United States and within the jurisdiction of a district to obtain priorities assistance, the following procedure is established:

(1) For maintenance, repair, and operating supplies a district may apply for priorities assistance by filing the foreign mine quota application Form WPB-2937 with the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: P-56. A producer not holding a serial number and located in a district may apply for priorities assistance by submitting to such district his purchase orders for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies, together with such information as may be required by the district. Within the limits of the priorities assistance granted to it pursuant to this paragraph (d) (1), such district may authenticate any such purchase order for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies by indicating the appropriate priorities assistance and countersigning the purchase order as follows:

Approved:

Name of district

Signature of authorized official

(2) For other machinery, materials, and equipment, a producer not holding a serial number and located within a district may submit to the War Production Board, Form WPB-1319 or any prescribed special application form, following the procedure specified for serialized producers in paragraph (c) (3), such application to be endorsed with the signed approval of the district within which the applicant is located.

(3) A distributor of maintenance, repair, or operating supplies or of other machinery, materials, or equipment used by producers, who is located outside the United States and within the jurisdiction of a district, may apply for priorities assistance in the same manner as prescribed in paragraphs (d) (1) and (d) (2) for producers not holding serial numbers and located within the jurisdiction of a district.

Other Producers Not Holding Serial Numbers

(e) (1) Priorities assistance for other producers not holding serial numbers. A preference rating of AA-5 is hereby assigned to delivery orders for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies (including minor capital additions as defined in paragraph (b) (3)), other than controlled materials, placed by domestic producers not holding serial numbers (other than operators of nonessential mines as defined in Limitation Order L-208). This rating may be applied by the producer by placing on his delivery order the endorsement described in paragraph (g). The producer may obtain controlled materials for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies by placing on his delivery order the endorsement described in paragraph (g) and inserting the allotment symbol "S-7" therein. An order bearing this endorsement constitutes an authorized controlled material order. No producer who uses the allotment symbol assigned by this order shall order controlled materials for delivery during any calendar quarter in an amount exceeding 120 percent of his aggregate expenditures for controlled materials for use as maintenance, repair, and operating supplies during the corresponding calendar quarter of 1943. Such producers may apply for higher ratings for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies exclusive of minor capital additions by filing Form

[1] Producers located in Canada, whether or not they hold serial numbers issued under this order, may obtain maintenance, repair, and operating supplies in the United States under Canadian order PO5B.

WPB–2910 with the Mining Division of the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: P–56. Such producers may apply for priorities assistance for machinery or equipment and minor capital additions by filing Form WPB–1319 or any prescribed special application form, following the procedure specified for serialized producers in paragraph (c) (3), with the Mining Division of the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: P–56. Foreign producers, not holding serial numbers and not located in a mine supply control district, may apply for priorities assistance for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, exclusive of minor capital additions, by filing Form WPB–2910 with the Mining Division of the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: P–56, and for machinery or equipment, including minor capital additions, by filing Form WPB–1319 or any prescribed special application form, following the procedure specified for serialized producers in paragraph (c) (3), with the Mining Division of the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: P–56.

Serial Numbers

(f) Issuance of serial numbers. Applications for serial numbers may, in the case of producers within the continental limits of the United States, be filed with the appropriate War Production Board Regional Office, Attention: Regional Technical Advisor, Mining Division; or with the appropriate State Coordinator of Mines for transmission to such Regional Advisor; or with the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Serial number application by districts must be filed with the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: P–56. Applications by Canadian and all other foreign producers should also be filed with the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: P–56. In filing such application, the following forms shall be used:

Metal mines	Form WPB–1212
Coal mines	Form WPB–2784
Non-metallic mines	Form WPB–2758
Core or churn drill operators	Form WPB–2952

Smelters and refineries shall apply by letter. In issuing and cancelling serial numbers, the War Production Board will consider the importance to national defense of the present and prospective output of materials to be produced, the consumption of the critical material involved, and the importance to national defense of competing demands for such material, and competing demands for manpower and transportation. Serial numbers issued under Preference Rating Orders P–58 and P–73, and not cancelled prior to December 24, 1943, are hereby confirmed and shall be considered as having been issued under this Order P–56.

Use of Priorities Assistance; All Producers

(g) Application and extension of priorities assistance. The way to use preference ratings is explained in Priorities Regulation No. 3, and the way to use allotments, both in placing authorized controlled material orders and in making allotments, is explained in CMP Regulation No. 1. Instead of using the certification prescribed by those regulations or by any other regulation of the War Production Board, including Priorities Regulation No. 7, the producer may use the following endorsement signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

Allotment number ----------
Preference rating ----------
Order authorized under Preference Rating Order P–56, Serial No. ----------

He shall not add the symbol "MRO" despite the certification instructions in CMP Regulation No. 5 or any other regulation. Requirements of other orders of the War Production Board as to special certifications remain applicable, but the foregoing endorsement shall be added to such certification. The use of the foregoing endorsement by a producer shall constitute a representation by the producer to the seller and to the War Production Board, subject to the penalties of section 35A of the United States Criminal Code (18 U. S. C. 80), that to the best of the producer's knowledge and belief he is authorized under applicable War Production Board orders and regulations to place the delivery order, to receive the item ordered for the purpose for which ordered, and to use the preference rating or allotment symbol for this purpose. Preference ratings assigned under this order for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies may not be used to obtain items on List A or List B of Priorities Regulation No. 3, except where that regulation permits the use of a P–56 rating for a particular item.

(h) Restrictions on receipts and inventories. Notwithstanding the provisions of any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, including CMP Regulation 2, receipts and inventories of producers shall be subject to the following restrictions only: No producer shall receive any delivery of material which will increase his inventory of such material to an amount greater than the minimum necessary to sustain his current level of operations; and the ratio of such inventory to current production shall in no event exceed the ratio of average inventory to average production for the years 1938, 1939, and 1940.

(i) Restrictions on use and resale of material. Notwithstanding § 944.11 of Priorities Regulation No. 1, no producer shall use any material, whether or not obtained pursuant to this order, for any purpose other than that for which priorities assistance was granted to acquire it; nor may he sell any material (including machinery and equipment), which he has used in the conduct of any enterprise described in paragraph (b) (1), whether or not he obtained such material with priorities assistance under this or any other order, except:

(1) To a producer holding a serial number hereunder, or

(2) With the written approval of the War Production Board applied for by letter to the Mining Division, or

(3) With the written approval of a district if he is a non-serialized producer located within such district, or

(4) As permitted by Priorities Regulation No. 13.

Applicability of Other Regulations and Orders

(j) (1) CMP Regulation No. 5 and other regulations of the War Production Board. None of the restrictions contained in CMP Regulation No. 5 shall be applicable to producers, and no producer shall obtain any material under CMP Regulation No. 5. However, privileges under other orders and regulations of the War Production Board granted to persons on Schedules I and II of CMP Regulation No. 5 shall be considered as applicable to producers operating under this order. For example, Order E–5–a on gauges and precision measuring hand tools classifies a person on Schedules I and II of CMP Regulation No. 5 as an "approved user." Producers operating under Order P–56 are in the same position providing that certification clauses and all other provisions of such other orders are complied with.

(2) Restriction on use of priorities assistance. No foreign producer or district shall acquire maintenance, repair, or operating supplies through the use of any preference rating except after having received an approved application on the foreign mine quota application Form WPB–2937, from the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C. No producer shall acquire any machinery or equipment (other than maintenance, repair, and operating supplies) through the use of any preference rating or any specific authorization of the War Production Board except after filing Form WPB–V1319 or any prescribed special application form in the manner above provided, or except after filing a project application.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(k) Records and orders. Each producer and each distributor acquiring maintenance, repair, or operating supplies pursuant to this order shall keep and preserve for a period of not less than two years accurate and complete records of all such materials so acquired and used or disposed of which shall upon request be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(l) Reports. Producers shall file such report forms as may be required from time to time by the War Production Board, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget, pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942. The reporting requirements of this order have received the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(m) Additional assistance and appeals in individual cases. If the sound working condition of a producer is adversely affected by any provisions of this order or by inability to obtain material essential for repair, maintenance, or operating supplies, the producer may apply to the War Production Board for additional assistance by letter, in triplicate, giving the reasons why such assistance is essential. In case of breakdown, imminent breakdown, or other emergency, the application may be made by telegraph or telephone.

(n) Communications. All reports and applications hereunder and all other communications with respect to this order shall, except as otherwise specifically provided, be addressed to the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: P–56.

(o) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 20th day of May 1944.

APPLICABILITY TO CUTTING AND POLISHING OPERATIONS AT THE QUARRY

The term "producer" as defined in Preference Rating Order P–56 includes persons operating a quarry and also persons conducting further cutting and polishing operations at the quarry site, such as the manufacture of building stone and tombstones. These latter operations are included in the phrase "preparation for shipment, of the products of mining activity" appearing in paragraph (b) (1) (i) (§ 3201.11) of the order.

Since paragraph (j) (1) of the order forbids "producers" from obtaining any materials under CMP Regulation 5, producers of tombstones or other stone products at the quarry site may not operate under this regulation but must get priorities assistance exclusively under Order P–56.

The manufacture of tombstones and structural stone at a separate plant away from the quarry is not covered by Order P–56, and priorities assistance for MRO supplies required in such operations may be obtained under CMP Regulation 5. Under CMP Regulation 5, a rating of AA–2 is assigned to persons engaged in the manufacture of structural stone, while persons engaged in the manufacture of tombstones and monuments may use the AA–5 rating which is assigned under that regulation to unlisted business. PART 3302—SERVICE EQUIPMENT

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply for defense, for private account, and for export of the materials used in the manufacture of floor sanding, floor finishing, floor maintenance, and portable rug scrubbing machines, industrial vacuum cleaners, and blowers for cleaning purposes; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3302.26 Limitation Order L–222—(a) What this order does. This order controls the production of floor sanding, floor finishing, floor maintenance, and portable rug scrubbing machines, industrial vacuum cleaners, and blowers designed for cleaning purposes. It also regulates the distribution of some of these machines.

Floor Sanding Machines

(b) What is meant by "floor sanding machines." "Floor sanding machines" are machines designed for the smoothing of floors or decks, by using abrasives, such as sand paper and steel wool. However, floor sanding machines do not include any machines used for smoothing stone or tile floors. The latter are floor finishing machines, and are controlled by a different part of this order.

(c) Production of floor sanding machines is prohibited. No person may produce any floor sanding machines.

(d) Distribution of these machines is not restricted. In the past the War Production Board restricted the distribution of certain sizes of floor sanding machines. Those restrictions are no longer in effect, and it is not necessary to get permission from the War Production Board to sell or deliver floor sanding machines.

Portable Electric Hand Blowers

(e) What is meant by "blowers." As used in this order, "blowers" means combination blowers and exhausters designed for removing dust, reclaimable materials or refuse by either air pressure or suction. These machines consist of a combination of a motor operated air pressure producer, an air impeller line, and a portable tool with attachments. Blowers do not include any machines used solely for the handling of air or other gaseous mixtures.

(f) Production of blowers is limited. A person may produce blowers only to fulfill an authorized production schedule under the Controlled Materials Plan (CMP), as explained in CMP Regulation No. 1. Production will be authorized so that the total production will not exceed the approved War Production Board program and so that the production in any one plant, or labor requirements therefor, will not interfere with war production in that plant or in any other plant located in the same area.

(g) Distribution of blowers is not restricted. In the past the War Production Board restricted the distribution of blowers. Those restrictions are no longer in effect, and it is not necessary to get permission from the War Production Board to sell or deliver blowers.

Industrial Vacuum Cleaners, Portable Rug Scrubbing Machines, and Floor Finishing and Floor Maintenance Machines

(h) What is meant by "industrial vacuum cleaners." "Industrial vacuum cleaners" are machines (either stationary or portable) which consist of a combination of a motor-operated vacuum producer, an air impeller line, and a portable tool with attachments, and which are designed primarily for the collection and removal of dust, oil, and reclaimable materials or refuse by suction, in either the wet or dry state. Industrial vacuum cleaners do not include any vacuum cleaners designed primarily for household use, or any motor-operated vacuum producing units which are part of floor sanding, floor finishing or floor maintenance machines.

(i) What is meant by "portable rug scrubbing machines." "Portable rug scrubbing machines" means motorized portable devices for cleaning rugs, including portable rug shampooing machines. Stationary rug cleaning machines are not restricted by this order but are restricted by Limitation Order L–91.

(j) What is meant by "floor finishing and floor maintenance machines." A "floor finishing or floor maintenance machine" is a motorized or handpowered mechanical device used for grinding, staining, sealing, scraping, oiling, waxing, scrubbing, or polishing floors or decks, or for collecting and removing dust, grime, oil, reclaimable materials or refuse from floors or decks. Some machines do these things separately. In other cases the floors and decks are also washed, sterilized or wiped. Typical floor finishing and floor maintenance machines include terazzo grinders, waxing and polishing machines, wet or dry scrubbers, combination scrubbers with water pick-up, drum type sweepers, and scarifying machines. Floor finishing and floor maintenance machines do not include floor sanding machines, or machines specifically designed for manipulating wet cement.

(k) Delivery of industrial vacuum cleaners, portable rug scrubbing machines, and some floor finishing and floor maintenance machines is restricted. New industrial vacuum cleaners, new portable rug scrubbing machines, new drum type floor finishing and floor maintenance machines making a six-inch path or wider, and new disk type floor finishing and floor maintenance machines making a ten-inch path or wider, may be delivered only under the following circumstances:

Delivery may be made to anyone whose order has been approved by the War Production Board on Form WPB–1843 before May 16, 1944, or on Form WPB–1319.

Delivery may also be made to any manufacturer or dealer who needs an industrial vacuum cleaner or other restricted machine to fill a specific order, or part of a specific order, which has been approved on Form WPB–1843 before May 16, 1944, or on Form WPB–1319.

(l) How to get an order approved for delivery. Those who want to get their orders approved for delivery should apply on Form WPB–1319 to the War Production Board, Service Equipment Division, Washington 25, D. C.: Ref. L–222. The instructions for the use of the form must be carefully followed; otherwise, the application will not be considered by the War Production Board. Copies of this form and the instructions can be obtained from the nearest field office of the War Production Board.

(m) How to use a Form WPB–1843 or a Form WPB–1319 after approval is given. If the War Production Board approves an order on Form WPB–1843 or Form WPB–1319, the form on which approval is given will be returned to the applicant, who must then give the form to the person delivering the equipment before the delivery is made. Only the supplier named in the form may deliver the equipment. Moreover, unless the form is given to the supplier within thirty days after the date on which the delivery was officially approved, the War Production Board's approval of the delivery is automatically withdrawn.

(n) Production of industrial vacuum cleaners, portable rug scrubbing machines, and floor finishing and floor maintenance machines is limited. The production of portable rug scrubbing machines is prohibited. The production of industrial vacuum cleaners and floor finishing and floor maintenance machines is forbidden, except to the following extent: A person may produce industrial vacuum cleaners, and floor finishing and floor maintenace machines, to fill orders approved by the War Production Board. In addition, a person may produce and maintain a stock of new industrial vacuum cleaners and floor finishing and floor maintenance machines of the sizes restricted under paragraph (k) numbering up to 15 percent of the total number of these machines shipped from his factory during the calendar year 1941.

Restricted industrial vacuum cleaners and floor machines produced before 1944 are not to be counted as part of this stock, but must be held as a stock pile to fill orders approved by the War Production Board just for delivery from that supply. A person may not produce a machine to fill an order approved for delivery only from the stock pile, nor may he produce a machine to replace one taken from the stock pile to fill an approved order.

In approving orders, and in processing applications for priorities assistance on Form CMP–4B, the War Production Board will be guided by the policy that the total production of the entire industry must not exceed the approved War Production Board program for these products, and that the production in any one plant, or labor requirements therefor, must not interfere with war production in that plant or in any other plant located in the same area.

General Provisions

(o) Production of supplies and repair parts is not limited. This order does not limit the production of supplies and repair parts for equipment controlled under this order.

(p) Applicability of other orders and regulations. This order, and all transactions affected by it, are subject to all applicable provisions of other orders and regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time.

(q) Reports on Form WPB–3495 by producers of blowers are required monthly. Before the 15th of each month, every person in the business of producing blowers must send to the War Production Board a report on Form WPB–3495. This reporting requirement has the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(r) Miscellaneous reports. Subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942, each person affected by this order must execute and file with the War Production Board whatever reports, information, and answers to questionnaires the War Production Board from time to time requests.

(s) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(t) Appeals. An appeal from this order may be made by filing a letter referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(u) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required by this order, and all communications concerning its provisions should be addressed to: War Production Board, Service Equipment Division, Washington 25, D. C.: Ref. L–222.

Issued this 20th day of May 1944.

NILE E. YEARWOOD

Nile E. Yearwood, of Route #1, Columbia, Tennessee, on or about May 7, 1943, began construction of a residence on premises known as Graymere Farm, Columbia, Tennessee. He had obtained authorization from the War Production Board to commence construction work of an estimated cost of not over $7,000; the estimated cost of the work done amounted to approximately $25,000. This was a violation of the authorization given upon Mr. Yearwood's application and of Conservation Order L–41. Mr. Yearwood was familiar with Order L–41, and with the restrictions upon construction, and his violation was wilful.

This violation of Conservation Order L–41 has diverted scarce materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board, and has hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing: it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.503 Suspension Order No. S–503. (a) Neither Nile E. Yearwood, his successor or assigns, nor any other person, shall do any construction on the premises known as Graymere Farm, Columbia, Tennessee, including putting up or altering the structure, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Nile E. Yearwood, his successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on May 20, 1944.

WILLIAM BRODY

William Brody, of Clearfield, Pennsylvania, purchased, about July 8, 1943, a one-story commercial building, located at 22 North Second Street, Clearfield, Pennsylvania. The building had been partly consumed by fire in December, 1942, and its owner had obtained authority for emergency repairs, which were being carried on when Mr. Brody bought the building. Mr. Brody continued with these repairs, and did additional construction work at an estimated cost of approximately $8,000, without War Production Board approval; this was a violation of Conservation Order L–41, which placed a limit of $200 upon such construction. This violation resulted from Mr. Brody's gross negligence through failure to inquire as to the requirements of Order L–41 after being fairly charged with notice of its existence. As a result of the violation, critical materials were diverted to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing: it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.551 Suspension Order No. S–551. (a) Neither William Brody, his successors or assigns, nor any other person, shall do any construction on the premises at 22 North Second Street, Clearfield, Pennsylvania, including putting up or altering the structure, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve William Brody, his successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on May 20, 1944.

Issued this 13th day of May 1944.

(i) Copper or copper base alloy building material, pipe or tubing may be installed in place when necessary to replace in or on a building, structure or system, like items of copper or copper base alloy.

(ii) Copper or copper base alloy fittings may be installed in place for purposes of repair and maintenance, if at least one end of the fitting is connected to copper or copper base alloy pipe or tubing; and copper or copper base alloy fittings may be connected to a water supply or water distribution system or to any underground gas supply or gas distribution system, if the fittings are to be used both underground and outside of a building.

(iii) Copper or copper base alloy pipe and tubing which were, on January 1, 1944, in the inventory of a plumber, may be connected by the plumber in whose inventory the material was on that date, to a water supply or water distribution system or to any underground gas supply or gas distribution system, if the pipe or tubing are to be used both underground and outside of a building; and copper or copper base alloy pipe and tubing which were, on January 1, 1944, in the inventory of a water or gas utility may be connected by a utility to a water supply or water distribution system or to any underground gas supply or gas distribution system, if the pipe or tubing are to be used both underground and outside of a building.

(iv) Copper or copper base alloy tubing or fittings may be installed in place in a heat exchanger for a cooling tower.

(v) Copper or copper base alloy building material, pipe, tubing and fittings purchased by or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration may be installed in place: Provided, however, That nothing in this order shall supersede any applicable instructions to any officers of the foregoing, including without limitation the directive for War Time Construction dated May 20, 1942, issued by the Chairman of the War Production Board, the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy, or the List of Prohibited Items for Construction Work dated April 1, 1942, issued by the Army and Navy Munitions Board, as amended from time to time.

(vi) Copper or copper base alloy building material, pipe, tubing and fittings may be installed in place, upon the written authorization of the War Production Board, authorizing the specific installation. Applications for such authorization may be made by letter setting forth the reasons why the person applying believes such material should be installed in or connected to a structure or system. If the applicant is applying for authorization to begin construction on Form WPB–617, he may apply for authorization under this order on that Form or in a supplemental letter attached thereto, and need not make a separate application.

[1] This order used also to apply to certain plumbing fixture fittings and trim. The use of copper or copper base alloy in the manufacture of all items of plumbing fixture fittings and trim is prohibited or restricted by Order M–9–c and Order L–42, Schedules V and XII. The change in this order releases for use only finished items. For restrictions on the manufacture and installation of copper and copper base alloy screening, see Conservation Order M–9–c.

(c) Restrictions on delivery. Notwithstanding any contract or agreement to the contrary or the receipt of any CMP order or a preference rating, no person shall deliver, sell or otherwise dispose of any copper or copper base alloy building material, pipe, tubing, or fittings if it is to be used for a purpose prohibited by this order; and no person shall accept delivery or a transfer of, or purchase, such building material, pipe, tubing or fittings unless the person making the delivery, sale or other disposition was permitted to do so. The foregoing shall not prevent:

(1) Delivery, sale or disposal to, or acceptance of delivery or transfer by or purchase by, a brass mill or a person regularly engaged in the business of selling copper or copper base alloy scrap.

(2) Delivery, sale or disposal to, or acceptance of delivery or transfer by or purchase by Defense Supplies Corporation, Metals Reserve Company or any other corporation organized under section 5 (d) of the Reconstruction Finance Act as amended (except Defense Plant Corporation) or any person acting as agent for any such corporation (except Defense Plant Corporation).

(3) Delivery, sale or disposal to, or acceptance of delivery or of transfer by or purchase by, any person upon the written authorization of the War Production Board permitting the specific delivery sale or disposal. Applications for authorization may be made by the person seeking to make delivery, sale or disposal, by letter setting forth the reasons why the person believes such material should be delivered, sold or otherwise disposed of.

(d) Restrictions on sale and use of nails, tacks, screws, nuts, bolts, rivets, washers, and expansion shields. (1) No manufacturer, warehouse, store or outlet, other than a retail store or retail outlet, shall sell or deliver, without the specific authorization in writing of the War Production Board, any copper or copper base alloy nails, tacks, screws, nuts, bolts, rivets, washers or expansion shields except on a preference rating of AA–5 or higher.

(2) No retail store or retail outlet shall sell or deliver, without the specific authorization in writing of the War Production Board, any copper or copper base alloy nails, tacks, screws, nuts, bolts, rivets, washers or expansion shields except on a preference rating of AA–5 or higher. However, each store or outlet may sell such products to fill unrated orders or orders rated lower than AA–5 provided that the total sales of such products after December 31, 1943, to fill unrated orders or rated lower than AA–5, does not exceed $25 in amount.

(3) No person engaged in the business of building or repairing a building, structure, cooling tower or water tower, and no corporation or other organization, shall install in place, without the specific authorization in writing of the War Production Board, any copper or copper base alloy nails, tacks, screws, nuts, bolts, rivets, washers, or expansion shields in a building, structure, cooling tower or water tower.

(4) The foregoing restrictions of this paragraph (d) are not applicable if the items have been placed in packages with builders' finished hardware items, such as locks and hinges, prior to June 24, 1943, for the purpose of attaching or installing the hardware, nor to iron or steel items which are plated or washed with copper.

(5) Application for specific authorization under this paragraph (d) shall be made by letter setting forth the reasons why the person applying believes the nails, tacks, screws, nuts, bolts, rivets, washers and expansion shields should be installed, or be sold or delivered to fill unrated orders or orders rated lower than AA–5.

(e) Communications to the War Production Board. All requests for authorization and communications referring to this order, shall unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Copper Division, Washington 25, D. C. Reference: M–9–c–4.

(f) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[CMP Reg. 5, Interpretation 11 as amended May 22, 1944]

PURCHASER'S COST OF LABOR FOR MINOR CAPITAL ADDITIONS

The following amended interpretation is issued with respect to CMP Regulation 5:

Interpretation No. 11 to CMP Regulation No. 5 is amended to read as follows: (a) Paragraph (b) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 5 permits the use of the MRO symbol and rating to get materials or equipment for a minor capital addition, where the cost of the minor capital addition does not exceed $500 "excluding the purchaser's cost of labor."

(b) This means that the cost of the materials or equipment going into the minor capital addition must not exceed $500. The cost of labor for the manufacture of the materials or equipment must be included in figuring their cost. The cost of labor used in construction or installation of the minor capital addition need not be included.

(c) This applies whether the owner of the plant uses his own employees to do the construction or installation work or hires an independent contractor to supply this construction or installation labor.

(d) It also applies where the owner of the plant gets an independent contractor to furnish the materials and the labor for the job, and where the owner of the plant buys a machine or other article and has the seller do the work of installation.

(e) Direction 15 to CMP Regulation 5 explains the rules for buying $500 worth of materials needed for installation or relocation of equipment which is not bought by use of the MRO rating or symbol. In that case, the same principles apply in determining what labor costs are to be included.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

[CMP Reg. 6, Direction 3]

SPECIAL PROCEDURE FOR ARMY AND NAVY CONSTRUCTION

The following direction is issued pursuant to CMP Regulation 6:

(a) What this direction does. This direction explains how private contractors doing Army and Navy command construction, Engineer Corps construction or Civil Aeronautics Administration Construction obtain controlled materials, Class A products, and other materials and products which they need for the construction work. It also applies to purchases by the Army and Navy when constructing a particular project with their own personnel. This direction applies only to construction of the kinds described in paragraph (f). It does not apply to any other kind of construction.

(b) Allotment symbol and preference rating. The Army or Navy will issue an authorization for construction on Form CMPL-593 Navy (Army). The allotment symbol N–O for Navy construction or W–6 for Army construction and the preference rating assigned on Form CMPL–593 Navy (Army) may be used to order all products, machinery, equipment and material needed to complete the project described in the CMPL–593 Navy (Army). In certain cases, an order of the War Production Board may require specific authorization on a special form or letter before a person may get or use a particular product or material. In such cases, the Bureau or Service indicated in the executed Form will obtain such authorization, including any scheduling authority required under any scheduling order, and will furnish the authorization either on the prescribed form or otherwise to the person engaged in the construction.

(c) Restrictions on construction. Any person engaging in construction which is authorized on form CMPL–593 Navy (Army), must follow the restrictions on construction contained in the ANMB List of Prohibited Items for Construction Work. Authority to deviate from these standards will be obtained from the Army and Navy Munitions Board by the Bureau or Service indicated and will be specifically set forth on Form CMPL–593 Navy (Army) or other appropriate Army or Navy document.

(d) How to order material. (1) The allotment symbol N–O for Navy construction or W–6 for Army construction may be used to order controlled materials and Class A products by (i) the person to whom Form CMPL–593 Navy (Army), is issued, whether a private contractor or an Officer of the Army or Navy, (ii) by manufacturers of Class A products or Class A components of Class A products to be incorporated in the project, (iii) by subcontractors doing all or any part of the construction work.

A builder must not use the allotment symbol or give others the right to use it before he has received an authorization on Form CMPL–593 Navy (Army). A person who has received an authorization on Form CMPL–593 Navy (Army) may give a manufacturer, contractor or subcontractor the right to use the allotment symbol by endorsing the order or contract in the following form, signed manually or in the way explained in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

> Purchase Order or Contract No._____ (identifying project). You are authorized to use the allotment symbol N–O (W–6) to order controlled materials and Class A products needed to fill this order or contract.

A manufacturer, or subcontractor must not use the allotment symbol nor give others the right to use it until he has received an order or contract endorsed with the above statement.

It is not necessary to show the quantities of controlled materials in this statement. Its use shall constitute a representation by the person signing it to the person with whom the order or contract is placed, and to the War Production Board, subject to the penalties of section 35A of the United States Criminal Code, that he has the right to authorize the person with whom the order or contract is placed to use the allotment symbol to fill the order or contract. The standard form described in Priorities Regulation No. 7 cannot be used instead of the above statement.

A person who has the right under this direction to use the allotment symbol N–O or W–6 in ordering controlled materials must endorse the symbol on his order and the form of certification set out in CMP Regulation No. 7, signed manually or in the way explained in Priorities Regulation No. 7. An order so endorsed is an authorized controlled material order (1) if it is a "delivery order" as defined in paragraph (b) (9) of CMP Regulation No. 6, and (ii) if it is in sufficient detail to permit entry on mill schedules, and (iii) if, when placed with a controlled materials producer, it is received at such time in advance as is specified in Schedule III of CMP Regulation No. 1, or at such later time as the controlled materials producer may find it practicable to accept the same.

(2) The preference rating may be used to order all materials other than controlled materials. The builder receiving a CMPL–598 Navy (Army) authorization may use the preference rating on an order by using the certification set forth in Priorities Regulation No. 7 together with the allotment symbol N–O or W–6 for purposes of identification. Whenever the builder or subcontractor orders a Class A product the statement set forth in paragraph (d) (1) above must also be used.

(3) Each person using the allotment symbol or preference rating must maintain at his regular place of business, for a period of two years, records of the right to use the symbol or preference rating, records, kept by purchase order or contract number identifying the project, of the amounts of materials and products ordered with the allotment symbol or preference rating and records adequate to show that the materials and products so ordered were used for the purpose for which the right to use the symbol or rating was granted.

(4) The use of the allotment symbol N–O or W–6 will not be limited to any particular month or quarter and, therefore, no quarterly identification need be shown when using it. Authorized controlled material orders must, however, show the month in which delivery is requested. The allotment symbol and rating may not be used by the builder, contractor or subcontractor in placing orders after the expiration date of the project but delivery after such date may be specified on orders placed before then.

(5) The allotment symbol and preference rating must not be used to order materials in greater quantities, or on earlier dates, than needed for the construction. It may be used not only to order materials needed for the construction but also to replace in inventory materials used for the construction. Attention is called to CMP Regulation No. 2 which places a restriction on inventories of controlled materials.

(e) Relation to WPB Directive 23 and WPB Directive 31. The preference rating assigned on Form CMPL–593 Navy (Army) is assigned in lieu of a preference rating assigned for such construction on Form WPB–542 (formerly PD–3A) under the provisions of WPB Directive 31, and is subject to any review which may be required by WPB Directive 23 from time to time.

(f) Construction covered by this direction.—(1) Command construction within the continental limits of the United States. The following types of projects within the continental limits of the United States ordered built by either the Chief of Staff, U. S. Army, or the Chief of Naval Operations, U. S. Navy: Airfields; military housing; alien housing; facilities for the repair of finished items of munitions; seacoast fortifications; ports and depots; camouflage and other passive defense projects (whether or not owned and operated by the Army or Navy); emergency flood control projects having a value of less than $100,000; military hospitals; maneuver training and staging areas and proving grounds.

(2) Command construction outside of the continental limits of the United States. All construction ordered built by the Chief of Staff, U. S. Army, and built by or under the supervision of the Chief of Engineers or Commanding Generals of Service Commands, U. S. Army, or ordered built by the Chief of Naval Operations, U. S. Navy, and built by or under the supervision of the Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, U. S. Navy, outside the United States, but not including construction within active theatres of operations.

(3) Corps of Engineers construction within the continental limits of the United States. Projects within the continental limits of the United States which (i) have been determined by the War Production Board to be essential, (ii) are built by or under the supervision of the Corps of Engineers (and where appropriate, completed by the Army Air Forces), in accordance with a design directive approved by an authorized representative of the War Production Board, and (iii), will be owned, leased, maintained or operated by or under the direction of the War Department and financed by War Department funds.

(4) Civil Aeronautics Administration Construction, that is (i) projects for the construction of airports financed under the appropriation for "Development of Landing Areas for National Defense" (Public Law 528, 77th Congress, 2d Session) and which:

(a) Have been determined by the War Production Board to be essential.

(b) Are built under the supervision of the Army, Navy, or Civil Aeronautics Administration.

(c) Are built in accordance with specifications of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, U. S. Navy, or the Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army; and

(ii) Projects for the construction of the following airway facilities requested by the Army or Navy and financed from Civil Aeronautics Administration, Army, or Navy appropriations:

(a) Immediate landing fields to be operated by and situated on property owned or leased by the United States government;

(b) Airway lighted aids, that is, automatically operated lighted aids to contact flight operations on a designated flying route between airfields;

(c) Radio facilities, that is, radio transmitting stations producing identifying signals received by aircraft in flight; and

(d) Communication facilities, that is, facilities to collect and disseminate weather reports and maintain two-way communications with aircraft in flight or with other stations.

In approving orders, and in processing applications for priorities assistance on Form CMP–4B, the War Production Board will be guided by the policy that the total production of the entire industry must not exceed the approved War Production Board program for the equipment listed in paragraph (b), and that the production in any one plant, or labor requirements therefor, must not interfere with war production in that plant or in any other plant located in the same area.

(g) Production of equipment in second group is permitted to fill certain kinds of approved orders. A person may assemble equipment listed in paragraph (c) to fill a specific order approved for delivery under paragraph (k), by assembling the equipment from parts completely fabricated before July 1, 1942. There is no restriction on the delivery of secondhand equipment, including rebuilt equipment listed in paragraph (b). The delivery of both new and secondhand equipment listed in paragraph (c) is unrestricted.

(j) Delivery to the United States Army and Navy is permitted. A person may deliver new equipment listed in paragraph (b) to the United States Army or the United States Navy. A person may also deliver this equipment to a prime contractor or subcontractor of the Army or Navy, if the equipment will eventually be delivered to the Army or Navy and will be installed under Army or Navy supervision. The terms "Army" and "Navy", as used in this paragraph, do not include any U. S. Army or Marine Corps Post Exchange, or any U. S. Navy or Coast Guard Ship's Service Department.

(k) Approved deliveries are permitted. A person may deliver new equipment listed in paragraph (b) to anyone whose order has been approved for delivery on Form WPB–924, issued before July 1,

1944, or a Form WPB–1319, or a Form GA–1456.

Form GA–1456 will be used to approve delivery to persons who request such approval when applying for authority to begin construction, and for priority assistance in obtaining materials for construction. Orders approved for delivery on Form GA–1456 should be accompanied by the following certification (in addition to the certification in Priorities Regulation 7):

Delivery approved on Form GA–1456.

Those who want to get their orders approved when construction is not involved should send an application to the War Production Board, Service Equipment Division, Washington 25, D. C.: Ref. L–91. Applications submitted before June 1, 1944, should be on Form WPB–924. Applications submitted after that date should be on Form WPB–1319. If the War Production Board approves an order for delivery on either of those forms, the approved form must be given to the person making the delivery before the equipment may be delivered. Moreover, if the form is not given to this person within thirty days after the date of official approval, the War Production Board's permission to deliver the equipment automatically expires.

(l) Deliveries for resale are permitted. A person may deliver new equipment listed in paragraph (b) to anyone who needs the equipment to fill an order or part of an order approved for delivery under paragraph (k). A person may also deliver this equipment to anyone who is acquiring the equipment only for resale within the United States (48 States and the District of Columbia). In the latter case the person delivering the equipment must continue to count it as part of his inventory under paragraph (f) until the equipment is redelivered to the United States Army, the United States Navy, or a person whose order has been approved for delivery under paragraph (k).

(m) Use of equipment by manufacturers or dealers is restricted. No person who produces equipment for sale or acquires new equipment listed in paragraph (b) for resale may put that equipment into use, unless the War Production Board gives him written permission to do so.

(n) Emergency repair loans are sometimes permitted. The War Production Board will consider written or telegraphic requests for permission to lend equipment listed in paragraph (b) to someone whose own equipment is undergoing emergency repairs. If the War Production Board gives permission in writing, a person may deliver equipment to another person for use while the latter's equipment is being repaired. When the repairs are finished, the borrowed equipment must be returned to the person who lent it. Equipment listed in paragraph (b) is still considered new equipment even though it has been used for repair loans of the sort contemplated by this paragraph, and is still subject to the restrictions of paragraph (i) after it has been returned to the person who lent it.

(o) Use of metal parts for rebuilding equipment is restricted. A person may use metal parts, including cast iron, for rebuilding equipment listed in paragraph (b) or paragraph (c) only to the following extent:

A person rebuilding equipment for the United States Army, the United States Navy, the United States Maritime Commission, or the War Shipping Administration, may use metal parts to the extent necessary to meet their specifications. These agencies do not include any U. S. Army or Marine Corps Post Exchange, any U. S. Navy or Coast Guard Ship's Service Department, or any War Shipping Administration Training Organization Ship's Service activity.

A person may also use metal parts in rebuilding a piece of equipment if their total weight will be less than 40 per cent of the total weight of the piece of equipment rebuilt, after the job is finished. A person may use additional metal parts for rebuilding a piece of equipment to the extent specifically authorized by the War Production Board in writing.

(p) Reports on Form WPB–923 are required monthly. Before the fifteenth of each month every person in the business of producing equipment listed in paragraph (b) or (c), and every person in the business of selling new equipment listed in paragraph (b) must send to the War Production Board a report on Form WPB–923. This reporting requirement has the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(q) Miscellaneous reports. Subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942, each person affected by this order must execute and file with the War Production Board whatever reports, information, and answers to questionnaires the War Production Board from time to time requests.

(r) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time, with the exception of Priorities Regulation No. 17.

(s) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(t) Appeals. Any appeal from this order shall be made by filing a letter, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(u) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required by this order, and all communications concerning its provisions should be addressed to: War Production Board, Service Equipment Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L–91.

Issued this 22d day of May 1944.

PART 3302—SERVICE EQUIPMENT

[General Limitation Order L–91, Interpretation 1, as Amended May 22, 1944]

LAUNDRY, DRY CLEANING AND TAILORS' PRESSES

The following amended interpretation is issued pursuant to General Limitation Order L–91:

General Limitation Order L–91 restricts the production and distribution of certain kinds of laundry equipment, dry cleaning equipment, and tailors' pressing equipment. The first group of such equipment listed in paragraph (b) includes "presses". All presses of the types commonly known as laundry, dry cleaning or tailors' presses are controlled by Order L–91, including those produced or delivered for purposes other than laundering, dry cleaning or tailoring. For example, all pants top presses, pants leg presses, off pressing machines with bucks 38 inches long or longer, and 38 inch to 45 inch utility presses, are restricted by Order L–91 regardless of whether they are being produced and delivered to dry cleaning plants or to clothing manufacturers. On the other hand, Order L–91 is inapplicable to the following types of presses, since they are not commonly known as laundry, dry cleaning, or tailors' presses:

Back and blade presses.
Canvas front presses.
Coat front presses.
Collar presses.
Double bosom presses of the type used by shirt manufacturers.
Edge presses.
Fuse ply presses of the type used by shirt manufacturers.
Knit goods presses.
Off pressing machines, except those with bucks 38 inches long or longer.
Pocket presses.
Seam opening and under pressing presses.
Shoulder presses.
Side and back presses.
Sleeve and shrinking presses.
Vest presses.
Vest back presses.
Vest front presses.
Vest, neck and shoulder presses.

ARTICLE I—SCOPE AND PROHIBITIONS OF THE REGULATION

SECTION 1. To what commodities, services, persons, and geographical area this regulation applies—(a) Commodities. Except for the specific exclusions contained in section 2, this regulation applies to all coated or combined fabrics. When used in this regulation the term:

(1) "Coated fabric" means any knitted or woven fabric coated with a continuous film (for example, rubber, synthetic rubber, pyroxylin, cellulose ester, cellulose ether, synthetic resin or oxidizable oil). For the purpose of this regulation, the term "coated fabric" also includes artificial leather made from nonwoven fibrous products, and oilcloth, bookcloth, window shade cloth, and tire cords.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 1, 9 F.R. 577, effective 1–19–44.]

(2) "Combined fabric" means two or more fabrics joined together with an adhesive.

(3) "Knitted or woven fabric" includes knitted or woven fabrics composed of cotton, wool, silk, glass, synthetic fibers, or any mixture of such fibers.

(b) Services. Except for the specific exclusions contained in section 2, this regulation applies to any service performed on a fabric owned by another which transforms the fabric into a coated or combined fabric.

(c) Persons. This regulation applies to any manufacturer or wholesaler of coated or combined fabrics. A person may be a manufacturer as to certain fabrics and a wholesaler as to others, depending upon the functions that he performs with respect to the fabric in question. When used in this regulation, the term:

(1) "Manufacturer" means any producer, converter, job coater or job combiner.

(2) "Producer" means any person who sells a coated or combined fabric on which he, himself, has performed the coating or combining service.

(3) "Converter" means any person who sells a coated or combined fabric on which a job coater or job combiner has performed the coating or combining service on his account.

(4) "Job coater" means any person who performs a coating service on a fabric owned by another.

(5) "Job combiner" means any person who combines, by means of an adhesive, two or more fabrics, one or more of which is owned by another.

(6) "Wholesaler" means a person, other than a manufacturer, who sells coated or combined fabrics to resellers of such fabrics or to an industrial or commercial user, the United States, any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(d) Geographical area. This regulation applies in the 48 States of the United States and in the District of Columbia, but not in the territories and possessions of the United States.

SEC. 2. Exclusions—(a) Commodities. This regulation does not apply to the following commodities:

(1) Surgical adhesive tape.

(2) Paraffin-coated fabrics used as a substitute for glass.

(3) Any fabric covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 39[3] (Woven Decorative Fabrics) or Maximum Price Regulation No. 358[4] (Insulation Cambrics and Separator Cloth).

(4) Floor coverings or roofing materials.

(5) Sized, back filled, water repellent treated, bleached, napped, dyed, printed or mercerized fabrics (unless they are also coated), except those listed in paragraph (a) (1) of section 1.

(6) Finished products made of coated or combined fabrics.

(7) Cable wrapping tape materials.

(8) Barrage balloon cloth.

[Subparagraphs (5) amended and subparagraphs (6), (7) and (8) added by Am. 1, 9 F.R. 577, effective 1–19–44.]

(b) Services. This regulation does not apply to the following services:

(1) Processing services involved in sizing, back-filling or applying water repellent treatment to fabrics (unless as a part of the same service the fabric is also coated).

(2) Processing services involved in bleaching, napping, dyeing, printing or mercerizing fabrics.

(c) Secret contracts. This regulation does not apply to the sale, delivery or supply of any fabric or service sold or supplied pursuant to a contract or subcontract that is officially classified as "secret" and certified as such to the Office of Price Administration by the United States, the government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Lend-Lease Act, or any agency of any of the foregoing. Such certification shall set forth the date of the secret contract or subcontract and its number or other designation. The certifying government agency shall notify the seller or supplier and the Office of Price Administration whenever such contract or subcontract ceases to be secret. This exception shall not apply after the certifying government agency notifies the seller or supplier that such contract or subcontract has ceased to be secret.

(d) Contracts certified as developmental by a governmental agency—(1) Exclusion. If the seller or supplier files a report pursuant to subparagraph (2), the sale, delivery or supply by him of any fabric or service covered by this regulation and sold or supplied pursuant to a contract or subcontract certified in writing to the Office of Price Administration by the United States, the government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Lend-Lease Act, or any agency of any of the foregoing as being developmental shall not be subject to the provisions of this regulation. For the purposes of this subparagraph, a contract is deemed to be "developmental" during the period required for the selection of a product by the purchaser or for the accumulation of sufficient production experience by the manufacturer or supplier to permit a fair estimate of the manufacturing costs, or both. If the Office of Price Administration determines after consultation with the appropriate governmental agency that the period necessary for development has expired, and in writing so notifies such agency and the seller or supplier, this regulation shall apply to all subsequent sales, deliveries or supply of such fabric or service.

(2) Report for developmental contracts. Within ten days after entering into any such developmental contract or subcontract the seller or supplier shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., containing a description of the fabrics or services which are the subject of the contract, a summary of the terms of the contract or subcontract, including all pricing provisions and an estimate of the expected duration of such developmental work. For any such contract or subcontract in effect on November 1, 1943, such report shall be filed prior to December 1, 1943.

SEC. 3. Relationship to other regulations—(a) Regulations superseded. Except as otherwise provided by this regulation, this regulation supersedes any other regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration with respect to sales, deliveries or transfers covered by this regulation. Specifically, but not exclusively, the following regulations are superseded by this regulation: The General Maximum Price Regulation [5]; Maximum Price Regulation No. 128 [6] (Processing Piece Goods); Maximum Price Regulation No. 157 [7] (Sales and Fabrication of Textiles, Apparel and Related Articles for Military Purposes); and Maximum Price Regulation No. 220 [8] (Certain Rubber Commodities).

(b) Applicability of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation. [9] The maximum price at which a person may make any export sales or sales to exporters of any coated or combined fabrics covered by this regulation shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation or any revisions thereto. When used in this paragraph the terms "export sale" and "exporter" have the meanings given to them by section 11 of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.

SEC. 4. Prohibition against dealing in fabrics and services at higher than maximum prices. (a) On and after November 1, 1943, regardless of the terms of any contract or other obligation (except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section):

(1) No person shall sell or deliver any fabric or service covered by this regulation at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this regulation.

(2) No person in the course of business shall buy or receive any fabric or service covered by this regulation at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this regulation. If the purchaser receives from the seller or supplier a written statement that the price does not exceed the maximum price fixed by this regulation, the purchaser shall be deemed to have complied with this subparagraph.

(3) No person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the acts prohibited by subparagraphs (1) or (2).

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) (2) of this section shall not be applicable to any war procurement agency or any contracting officer thereof, and with respect to purchases made in his official capacity, any such contracting officer or any paying finance officer shall be relieved of any and every liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this regulation or by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(c) Nothing in this regulation shall be deemed to prohibit the fulfillment of any contract entered into before November 1, 1943, for the sale of any fabric, or the supplying of a service which does not involve the use of synthetic rubber, if the price under such contract was permissible under the maximum price regulation or price schedule which was applicable to the transaction on October 31, 1943.

SEC. 5. Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

ARTICLE II—MAXIMUM PRICES AND TERMS OF SALE

SEC. 6. Base periods—(a) Fabrics or services sold or supplied to a governmental agency or used in products covered by Maximum Price Regulation 403. [10] April, 1943, is the base period for:

(1) Fabrics or services which are sold or supplied to the United States, the government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Lend-Lease Act, or any agency of any of the foregoing; and

(2) Fabrics which are used in the production of a commodity covered by Maximum Price Regulation 403 (Certain Rubber Commodities Purchased for Governmental Use) and services rendered on such fabrics. If the seller or supplier is unable to determine whether a particular fabric will be used in the production of a commodity covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 403, the fabric and services rendered thereon shall have March, 1942, as their base period.

(3) Fabrics which are used in the production of combat vehicles or airplanes specifically designed for military use and services rendered on such fabrics.

[Subparagraph (3) added by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 1321, effective 2-5-44]

(b) Fabrics and services not covered by paragraph (a). The base period for fabrics and services not covered by paragraph (a) of this section shall be March, 1942.

SEC. 7. Maximum manufacturers' prices for fabrics and services which are the same as those dealt in by the manufacturer during the base period—(a) Applicability of this section—(1) Coverage. This section is applicable to the following:

(i) Any fabric or service which is the same as a fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during the base period;

(ii) Any fabric or service which is the same as a fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during the base period, except for a variation in width, coating compound, weight of coating, color or a similar variant, and for which the manufacturer had an established differential during the base period;

(iii) Any fabric or service listed in paragraph (a) of section 6 which is the same as a fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during the period, May 1, 1942, to March 31, 1943, inclusive; and

(iv) Any fabric or service listed in paragraph (a) of section 6 which is the same as a fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during the period, May 1, 1942, to March 31, 1943, inclusive, except for a variation in width, coating compound, weight of coating, color or a similar variant, and for which the manufacturer had an established differential during such period.

(2) Definition of "same as". The fabric or service being priced shall be deemed to be the same as the fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during the base period, and, in the case of those fabrics or services whose base period is April, 1943, the fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during the period May 1, 1942, to March 31, 1943, inclusive:

(i) If it is identical to a fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during such period;

(ii) If it differs from a fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during such period, only by reason of the changes made necessary by the substitution of buna-S (GR-S) or butyl (GR-I) for natural rubber; or

(iii) If it has the same use as a fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during such period, and if its factory costs do not differ from the factory costs of that fabric or service by more than 3 percent. The manufacturer shall determine the factory costs of both commodities or services in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (d) of the next section (section 8).

(b) Maximum prices. The maximum manufacturer's price of any fabric or service covered by this section shall be determined as follows: The manufacturer shall first determine the base price. This base price shall be determined in accordance with the next paragraph (c). The manufacturer shall then add to or subtract from the base price the differentials set forth in paragraphs (d), (e), and (f), below, wherever applicable. These differentials reflect the decreased cost of synthetic and substitute rubber, the increase or decrease in cost resulting from the purchase of materials from a war procurement agency, and the decrease in costs resulting from the removal of the federal excise tax on rubber products. The manufacturer shall then determine the maximum price by deducting from the resultant price all discounts and allowances, including trade, quantity and cash discounts, if any, which he had in effect to a purchaser of the same class during the base period.

(c) Base price—(1) When the manufacturer does not use a list price. The base price where a manufacturer did not use a list price during the base period for the fabric or service in question is the first applicable of the following prices:

(i) The highest price at which the manufacturer during the base period delivered, or if no delivery was made, at which he offered to deliver during that month a fabric or service which is the same as the fabric or service being priced, to a purchaser of the same class.

(ii) The highest price at which the manufacturer during the base period delivered, or if no delivery was made, at which he offered to deliver during that month a fabric or service, which is the same as the fabric or service being priced, to a purchaser of a different class, adjusted to reflect the manufacturer's base period differential between the two classes of purchasers.

(iii) The highest price at which the manufacturer during the base period delivered, or if no delivery was made, at which he offered to deliver during that month a fabric or service, which is the same as the fabric or service being priced, except for a variation in width, coating compound, weight of coating, color, or other similar variant, adjusted to reflect the manufacturer's base period differential between the variations in the fabric or service. This price must also be adjusted to reflect the manufacturer's base period differentials between classes of purchasers.

(iv) In the case of a fabric or service whose base period is April, 1943, which cannot be priced by (i) to (iii), inclusive, the first applicable of the prices set forth in (i) to (iii), inclusive, except that the period May 1, 1942, to March 31, 1943, inclusive, shall be substituted for the base period and the applicable price shall be the last price at which the fabric or service was delivered or offered for delivery during such period.

(2) When the manufacturer uses a list price. Where the manufacturer used a list price during the base period for the fabric or service in question, the base price shall be determined as provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, except that the phrase "list price" shall be substituted for the word "price".

(d) Differential for synthetic or substitute rubber—(1) Applicability. This paragraph is applicable to all fabrics or services which contain the same type of synthetic or substitute rubber that they contained during the base period. However, this paragraph is applicable to such fabrics or services only if the price of the synthetic or substitute rubber contained in the fabric or involved in the supply of the service was lower on August 1, 1943, than it was on March 31, 1942, in the case of those fabrics or services whose base period is March, 1942, or on January 1, 1943, in the case of those fabrics or services whose base period is April, 1943.

(2) Differential where the manufacturer compounds the synthetic or substitute rubber. The differential for synthetic or substitute rubber which must be subtracted from the base price in the case where the manufacturer compounds the synthetic or substitute rubber contained in the fabric or involved in the supply of the service shall be determined as follows: The manufacturer shall first determine the amount of each type of synthetic or substitute rubber required to produce the fabric or supply the service. The manufacturer shall then multiply this amount by the difference between the price of the synthetic or substitute rubber in effect to him on August 1, 1943, and the price for that material in effect to him (i) on March 31, 1942, in the case of those fabrics or services whose base period is March, 1942, or (ii) on January 1, 1943, in the case of those fabrics or services whose base period is April, 1943. The resulting figure is the differential.

(3) Differential where the manufacturer does not compound the synthetic or substitute rubber. The differential for synthetic or substitute rubber which must be subtracted from the base price in the case where the manufacturer did not compound the synthetic or substitute rubber contained in the fabric or involved in the supply of the service shall be determined as follows: The manufacturer shall first determine the price of the material purchased by him which contains synthetic or substitute rubber in accordance with paragraph (d) (2) (i) of the next section (section 8). The manufacturer shall then deduct from that price the first price, not to exceed the applicable maximum price, at which the material or part containing the synthetic or substitute rubber was sold to him after October 31, 1943. The resulting figure is the differential.

(4) Special cases. (i) If the manufacturer customarily sold several widths, styles, or compounds of the fabric at the same price to the same class of purchasers, he shall use the same differential for all widths, styles or compounds that he sold at the same price to the same class of purchasers. This differential shall be calculated in the manner just set forth, except that in applying that method the manufacturer shall use the method he customarily used during the base period to arrive at a uniform price. If the manufacturer had no such customary method, he shall use as a basis for calculating the differential the width, style, or compound of the fabric of which he sold the largest quantity during the period January 1, to July 1, 1943, inclusive.

(ii) If the manufacturer during the base period had established price differentials between various widths, coating compounds, weights of coating, colors or other similar variants, he shall continue that practice. This shall be done by deducting the differential from the base price (determined under paragraph (c) of this section 7) of that width, coating compound, etc., which he used during the base period as a basis for calculating the prices of other widths, coating compounds, etc. The manufacturer shall then apply his base period differential for the variant in question to the resultant price. If the manufacturer had no customary width, coating compound, etc., which he used as a basis for determining the prices of other widths, coating compounds, etc., he shall use as a basis for determining the maximum price that width, coating compound, etc. of which he sold the largest quantity during the period January 1, to July 1, 1943, inclusive.

(iii) In the case of a fabric or service whose base period is April, 1943, if the manufacturer during the period January 1 to April 30, 1943, inclusive, reduced the price of the fabric or service being priced in order to reflect the decreased cost of synthetic or substitute rubber occurring after January 1, 1943, he may subtract the amount by which he reduced his selling price to reflect that decreased cost from the differential determined under the applicable provisions of subparagraph (2) or (3). If the amount by which the manufacturer reduced his selling price during the period January 1, to April 30, 1943, inclusive, to reflect the decreased cost of synthetic or substitute rubber exceeds the differential required to be deducted by the applicable provisions of subparagraph (2) or (3), the manufacturer's maximum price shall be the base price determined in accordance with paragraph (c).

[Subparagraph (4) added by Am. 1, 9 F.R. 577, effective 1-19-44]

(e) Differential for fabrics or services involving the use of materials purchased from a war procurement agency. The differential which must be added to or subtracted from the base price of any fabric or service which involves the use of any materials purchased from a war procurement agency shall be determined as follows: The manufacturer shall multiply the estimated quantity of the material required to produce the fabric or supply the service being priced by the difference between the price of the material which he used during the base period, determined in accordance with paragraph (d) (2) (i) of the next section (section 8) and the price he pays the war procurement agency for the material. When used in this paragraph the term "war procurement agency" means the War Department, the Department of the Navy, the United States Maritime Commission, the Lend-Lease Section of the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(f) Deduction of the amount of the federal excise tax. If during March, 1942, in the case of fabrics or services whose base period is March, 1942, the manufacturer did not bill the federal excise tax on rubber products separately, he shall deduct the amount of such tax from the price determined in accordance with the provisions of the above paragraphs (b) to (e), inclusive.

SEC. 7a. Maximum manufacturers' prices for job coating or combining services which are the same as those performed on the manufacturers' own fabric during the base period—(a) Applicability. This section covers any job coating or combining service performed by a manufacturer on a customer's fabric, which is the same as a job coating or combining service which he performed on his own fabric during the base period, but which he did not perform on fabrics owned by others during the base period. "Same as" is defined in section 7 (a) (2).

(b) Maximum prices. The maximum manufacturer's price of a service covered by this section shall be determined as follows:

(1) The manufacturer shall first determine the maximum price of the coated or combined fabric which he sold during the base period and on which he performed the same coating or combining service as that being priced. This maximum price shall be determined in accordance with section 7.

(2) The manufacturer shall find the total of the following:

(i) The cost of the cloth used in the production of the coated or combined fabric he sold during the base period. The cost shall be determined in accordance with section 8 (d) (2).

(ii) The value of the cloth specified as the manufacturer's working allowance in the contract for the coating or combining service being priced. This value shall be computed by multiplying the percentage amount of cloth specified as working allowance by the price of the cloth in effect to the manufacturer during the base period. For example, if such price of the cloth is 25 cents per yard and the working allowance is 3 percent the amount to be deducted for working allowance per yard would be .03 x $.25 or $.0075.

(3) The maximum price for the service being priced shall be the difference between the amount obtained in subparagraph (1) and the total amount obtained in subparagraph (2).

(c) Reports of maximum prices. The manufacturer shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within ten days after he begins to perform any service required to be priced under this section. He may not accept payment for any services priced under this section until the price reported has been approved in writing by the Office of Price Administration or until fifteen days have elapsed after the mailing of the report without the Office of Price Administration objecting to the maximum price reported. Within this fifteen-day period the price so reported shall be subject to adjustment by the Office of Price Administration. Subsequent to this fifteen-day period, such price shall be subject to adjustment (not to apply retroactively) at any time upon the written order of the Office of Price Administration. The report to the Office of Price Administration shall contain the following information:

(1) A description of the service being priced and the coated or combined fabric used as a basis for pricing.

(2) The maximum price of the coated or combined fabric used as a basis for pricing, the cost (as defined in section 8 (d) (2)) of the cloth used in its production, the date on which the cost price of the cloth used was in effect in the manufacturer's plant, and the value of the cloth specified as the working allowance provided for in the service being priced.

(3) The computed maximum price for the service.

[Sec. 7a added by Am. 3, effective 5-24-44]

SEC. 8. Maximum manufacturers' prices for fabrics and services which are not the same as those dealt in by the manufacturer during the base period—(a) Applicability of this section. This section is applicable to any fabric or service covered by this regulation which is not the same (as defined in paragraph (a) (2) of section 7) as a fabric or service delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply by the manufacturer during the base period, and whose factory costs do not differ from the factory costs of the fabric or service with which it is being compared by more than 25 percent. The manufacturer may also compute his maximum price under this section if the factory costs of the fabric or service being priced exceed the factory costs of the fabric or service with which it is being compared by more than 25 percent. Factory costs shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (d) of this section. The fabric or service with which the fabric or service being priced shall be compared shall be selected in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (e) of this section.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 3, effective 5-24-44]

(b) How the manufacturer calculates his maximum price. The maximum manufacturer's price of a fabric or service covered by this section shall be determined as follows:

(1) The manufacturer shall first determine the factory costs of the fabric or service being priced in accordance with paragraph (d) of this section.

(2) The manufacturer shall then select the fabric or service he must use in determining the maximum price of the fabric or service being priced. The method for selecting this fabric or service is explained in paragraph (e) of this section.

(3) The manufacturer shall then subtract the factory costs of that fabric or service from its maximum list price, or if the fabric or service has no maximum list price, from its maximum price to the class of purchasers to which the present sale is being made. The maximum price shall be determined in accordance with section 7 and factory costs shall be determined in accordance with paragraph (d) of this section.

(4) The manufacturer shall then add the amount obtained in the preceding subparagraph (3) to the factory costs of the fabric or service being priced.

(5) If the price determined under subparagraph (4) above was obtained by using a list price, the manufacturer shall then determine the maximum price by deducting from the price determined under subparagraph (4) all discounts, allowances and any other deductions from the list price that he had in effect to a purchaser of the same class during the base period. If the price determined under subparagraph (4) was obtained by using a price in effect to a purchaser of the same class, the price determined under subparagraph (4) is the maximum price.

[Subparagraphs (3) and (4) amended and subparagraph (5) added by Am. 1, 9 F.R. 577, effective 1-19-44.]

(c) Recomputation of the maximum price. If a fabric or service covered by this section is produced or supplied by the manufacturer for a period of 2 months without being modified, the maximum price of such fabric or service shall be redetermined by substituting actual labor hours and actual quantity of materials for the estimated labor hours and the estimated quantity of materials used in the original computation of the maximum price. This adjustment in the maximum price of the fabric or service shall be made between 60 and 75 days after the manufacturer begins production or supply of the fabric or service. If the manufacturer's production experience during the first 2 months of production is inadequate to accurately determine his costs, he may request and receive approval from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for a further period for recomputation. This request must be made at the time of first recomputation.

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 1, 9 F.R. 577, effective 1-19-44 and by Am. 3, effective 5-24-44]

(d) Computation of factory costs. The factory costs of a fabric or service for manufacturers, other than converters, shall be the sum total of direct labor costs, direct materials costs including waste, and factory overhead costs. The factory costs of a fabric for converters shall be the sum total of direct materials costs including waste, and the amount paid by the converter for the coating or combining services. The direct labor costs shall be determined by multiplying the estimated number of hours of each type of labor required in the manufacture or supply of the fabric or service by the wage rates determined in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph. The direct materials costs shall be determined by multiplying the estimated quantity of each type of material required in the manufacture or supply of the fabric or service by the materials prices determined in accordance with subparagraph (2) of this paragraph. Waste shall be determined by applying the same methods as were used or would have been used by the manufacturer in similar production during the base period, adjusted to reflect the actual quantity of waste in the production or supply of the fabric or service being priced. The charge for coating or combining services shall be the price charged the converter by the job coater or combiner, not to exceed the maximum price established by this regulation for such service. Factory overhead costs shall be determined in the manner set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(1) Wage rates—(i) Fabrics and services with a March, 1942, base period. The wage rates applicable to any fabric or service, for which the applicable base period is March, 1942, shall be the basic wage rates in effect in the manufacturer's plant during March, 1942, for each class of labor involved in the production or supply of the fabric or service. If such manufacturer did not employ a given class of labor during March, 1942, he shall use the wage rates paid during March, 1942, by the nearest employer operating under comparable conditions who employed that class of labor during that period.

(ii) Fabrics and services with an April, 1943, base period. The wage rates applicable to any fabric or service, for which the applicable base period is April 1943, shall be the wage rates in effect in the manufacturer's plant on October 3, 1942, for each class of labor involved in the production or supply of the fabric or service. If the manufacturer did not employ a given class of labor on October 3, 1942, he shall use the wage rate paid on October 3, 1942, by the nearest employer operating under comparable conditions who employed that class of labor on that date. If after October 3, 1942, and before May 1, 1943, the manufacturer voluntarily or involuntarily granted a wage increase, which was approved by the National War Labor Board, the manufacturer shall use that higher wage rate instead of the rate in effect in his plant on October 3, 1942. Also, if the manufacturer's establishment is exempted by the National War Labor Board, he shall use the wage rates in effect in his plant on April 30, 1943. For the purposes of this subparagraph, the wage rates in effect in the manufacturer's plant shall include an allowance for eight hours of overtime a week.

(2) Materials prices—(i) All materials, except synthetic or substitute rubber. Except as provided in subdivision (iii), this subdivision is applicable to any material, except synthetic or substitute rubber. The price for any material covered by this subdivision shall be the highest price in effect to the manufacturer, or if no price was in effect to the manufacturer, the highest price in effect to a purchaser of the same class, during the base period, or the maximum price set by the Office of Price Administration, whichever is the lower. If there was no price for the material in effect to the manufacturer or a purchaser of the same class during the base period, the price for the material shall be the first price at which the material was offered for sale to the manufacturer after the last day of the base period, or the maximum price set by the Office of Price Administration, whichever is the lower.

(ii) Synthetic and substitute rubber. This subdivision is applicable to any synthetic or substitute rubber. The price for such material shall be the highest price for the material in effect to the manufacturer, or, if no price was in effect to the manufacturer, the highest price in effect to a purchaser of the same class, on August 1, 1943, or the maximum price set by the Office of Price Administration, whichever is the lower. If there was no price for the material in effect to the manufacturer or a purchaser of the same class on August 1, 1943, the price for the material shall be the first price at which the material was offered for sale to the manufacturer after August 1, 1943, or the maximum price set by the Office of Price Administration, whichever is the lower.

(iii) Materials purchased from a war procurement agency. The price for any material purchased from a war procurement agency shall be the actual cost of the material to the manufacturer. The term "war procurement agency" is defined in paragraph (e) of section 7.

(3) Factory overhead costs. Factory overhead costs shall be determined by using the methods and rates which were in effect in the manufacturer's plant during the base period, for operations similar to those employed in the manufacture or supply of the fabric or service being priced. It shall include only those costs which the manufacturer during the base period used in calculating factory overhead costs. In no case shall factory overhead costs include allowances for selling or general administrative expenses.

(e) Method of selecting the fabric or service to be used in determining the maximum price. In determining the maximum price, the manufacturer shall use the first applicable of the following fabrics or services covered by this regulation which he delivered or offered for delivery during the base period.

(1) The fabric or service which would be the same as the fabric or service being priced but for changes in specifications that have taken place since the last day of the base period.

(2) The fabric or service having the same use as the fabric or service being priced. If there is more than one such fabric or service, the manufacturer shall use that one of those fabrics or services whose factory costs are nearest to the factory costs of the fabric or service being priced. Factory costs shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (d) of this section.

(3) The fabric manufactured or the service supplied by the same process as the fabric or service being priced. If there is more than one such fabric or service, the manufacturer shall use that one of those fabrics or services whose factory costs are nearest to the factory costs of the fabric or service being priced. Factory costs shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (d) of this section.

(4) The fabric or service whose factory costs are nearest to the factory costs of the fabric or service being priced. Factory costs shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (d) of this section.

(f) Reports of maximum prices—(1) Report of price computed under para- graph (b). If after October 31, 1943, a manufacturer receives total orders exceeding $1,000, in the case of a fabric, or exceeding $500 in the case of a service, for a fabric or service that must be priced under this section, he shall file a report. This report shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within ten days after the manufacturer has received a sufficient dollar volume of orders to necessitate the filing of the report. This report shall contain the information required by the form set forth in Appendix A and shall be made on a copy of that form. The manufacturer may not accept payment for any further orders of the fabric or service until the price so reported has been approved in writing by the Office of Price Administration or until fifteen days have elapsed after the mailing of the report without the Office of Price Administration objecting to the proposed maximum price. Within this fifteen day period the price so reported shall be subject to adjustment by the Office of Price Administration. Subsequent to this fifteen day period, this price will be subject to adjustment (not to apply retroactively) at any time upon the written order of the Office of Price Administration. However, the report required by this paragraph does not have to be filed if (i) the fabric or service being priced has the same use as a fabric or service which the manufacturer delivered or supplied or offered for delivery or supply during the base period, (ii) if it differs from the base period fabric or service by reason of the substitution of materials which would result in a higher maximum price, and (iii) if the manufacturer does not sell the fabric or service at a price higher than the price he charged during the base period for the base period fabric or service that he must use in computing the maximum price of the fabric or service being priced.

(2) Report where recomputation results in a higher price. If the recomputation required by paragraph (c) results in a higher maximum price and if on any subsequent order the manufacturer elects to charge a higher price than the maximum price resulting from the first computation, he must file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., within ten days after entering into a contract at such increased price. This report shall contain the information required by the form set forth in Appendix A and shall be made on a copy of that form. The manufacturer may not receive payment for the fabric or service at this increased price until that price has been approved in writing by the Office of Price Administration or until fifteen days have elapsed after the mailing of the report without the Office of Price Administration objecting to the increased price. Within this fifteen day period the price so reported shall be subject to adjustment by the Office of Price Administration. Subsequent to this fifteen day period, such price shall be subject to adjustment (not to apply retroactively) at any time upon the written order of the Office of Price Administration.

[Paragraph (f) amended by Am. 1, 9 F.R. 577, effective 1-19-44.]

SEC. 8a. Maximum manufacturers' prices for rejects and seconds—(a) Fabrics whose base period is April, 1943. The maximum manufacturers' price for the sale of any fabric which is a government second and whose base period is April, 1943, shall be 75% of the contract price for the sale of the government fabric. The maximum price of any fabric which is rejected only because it fails to meet government specifications shall be 90% of the contract price for the perfect fabric. If the manufacturer does not have a contract price for a reject or second covered by this paragraph (a), he shall substitute the total of his charge for the coating and the price he must pay for the piece goods (not in excess of the applicable maximum price) for the contract price in determining his maximum price.

(b) Fabrics whose base period is March 1942. The maximum manufacturers' price for the sale of other than first quality fabrics (including seconds, jobs and shorts) whose base period is March 1942, shall be determined as follows: The manufacturer shall deduct from the maximum price for the first quality fabric all discounts and allowances which he had in effect during March 1942, for other than first quality fabrics.

SEC. 8b. Maximum manufacturers' prices for coated or combined fabrics made from odd lots of cloths—(a) Applicability. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this regulation, this section is applicable to a coated or combined fabric which is identical with a coated or combined fabric which the manufacturer has priced under sections 7 or 8, except for the substitution of an odd lot of cloth. An odd lot of cloth shall mean a quality or type of cloth not ordinarily used by the manufacturer, and which he is able to buy only in limited quantities.

(b) Maximum prices. The maximum price of a coated or combined fabric priced under this section shall be the maximum price as established under sections 7 or 8, of the coated or combined fabric used as a basis for pricing, plus or minus, as the case may be, the difference in the costs of the cloths used in producing the two fabrics. The fabric used as a basis for pricing shall be a fabric priced under sections 7 or 8 which is identical with the fabric being priced except for the substitution of odd cloth. The costs of the cloths shall be determined in accordance with section 8 (d) (2).

(c) Reports of maximum prices. The manufacturer shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within ten days after he has sold or delivered any fabric priced under this section. He may not accept payment for any fabric priced under this section until the price reported has been approved in writing by the Office of Price Administration or until fifteen days have elapsed after the mailing of the report without the Office of Price Administration objecting to the maximum price reported. Within this fifteen-day period the price so reported shall be subject to adjustment by the Office of Price Administration. Subsequent to this fifteen-day period, such price shall be subject to adjustment (not to apply retroactively) at any time upon the written order of the Office of Price Administration. The report to the Office of Price Administration shall contain the following information:

(1) A description of the coated or combined fabric being priced, including the number of yards involved, and of the fabric used as a basis for pricing.

(2) The maximum price of the coated or combined fabric used as a basis for pricing and a statement of the section of this regulation under which this maximum price was determined.

(3) The cost of the cloths used in the coated or combined fabric used as a basis for pricing and in the fabric being priced. The cost of the cloths shall be determined in accordance with section 8 (d) (2). The dates on which the prices of the cloths used were in effect in the manufacturer's plant must be reported.

[Sec. 8b added by Am. 3, effective 5-24-44]

SEC. 9. Maximum wholesale prices—(a) How the wholesaler determines the maximum price. The maximum price for a sale at wholesale of any fabric covered by this regulation shall be determined by dividing the purchase price determined in accordance with the next paragraph (b) by the percentage determined in accordance with paragraph (c) below.

(b) How the wholesaler determines his purchase price. The purchase price which the wholesaler must use in determining the maximum price shall be determined as follows:

(1) The wholesaler shall first determine the net invoiced cost before cash discounts of the fabric, if available, not to exceed the applicable maximum price; or

(2) If actual cost is not available, the net invoiced cost before cash discounts of the fabric as estimated by the wholesaler's supplier: Provided, That the wholesaler has no reason to believe that the price so estimated exceeds the maximum price.

(3) If the cost determined under subparagraph (1) of (2) above is not on a delivered basis, the wholesaler shall add the actual cost of transportation to his place of business.

(c) How the wholesaler determines the percentage which must be used in determining the maximum price. The percentage which the wholesaler must use in determining the maximum price shall be determined as follows:

(1) The wholesaler shall first determine what fabric he must use in determining the percentage. That fabric shall be the first applicable of the following fabrics which he delivered or offered for delivery during the base period:

(i) The fabric which is the same as the fabric being priced.

(ii) The fabric which has the same use as the fabric being priced. If there is more than one fabric which has the same use as the fabric being priced, the wholesaler shall use that one of those fabrics whose purchase price is nearest to the purchase price of the fabric being priced. The purchase price of both fabrics shall be determined in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section.

(iii) The fabric whose purchase price is the nearest to the purchase price of the fabric being priced. The purchase price of both fabrics shall be determined in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section.

(2) The wholesaler shall then determine the highest price at which he, during the base period delivered, or if no delivery was made, at which he offered to deliver that fabric during the base period to a purchaser of the same class.

(3) The wholesaler shall then determine the percentage by dividing the purchase price in effect to him on the date on which he established that selling price by the selling price. The purchase price shall be determined in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section.

SEC. 10. Maximum prices for sales or supply of fabrics or services covered by this regulation that cannot be priced under sections 7, 8 or 9—(a) Maximum price. The maximum price for any fabric or service which cannot be priced under sections 7, 8 or 9 of this regulation shall be a price, in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation, specifically authorized by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Method of establishing a maximum price. The seller of any fabric or service covered by this section shall file an application for a maximum price with the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., prior to first offering the fabric or service for sale, or on or before November 15, 1943, whichever is the later date. This application shall contain:

(1) A description in detail of the fabric or service (including the manufacturing processes).

(2) A statement of the facts which make it necessary to price the fabric or service under this section.

(3) If the seller is a manufacturer, he shall submit detailed cost estimate sheets for the fabric or service, following the seller's usual accounting procedures, using (i) costs, methods and rates in effect on the date of application, and (ii) if he was in production during the base period, costs, methods and rates in effect during that period. If the seller is a wholesaler, he shall submit the cost of the fabric to him, plus the actual cost of transportation, if any.

(4) A proposed pricing method and the price for the fabric or service determined in accordance with this method, and

(5) A statement of the reasons why the seller believes that the use of this method will result in prices in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation.

After receipt of this application, the Office of Price Administration will establish in writing a maximum price or a method of determining the maximum price for some or all of the fabrics or services covered by this regulation and sold by the applicant, which cannot be priced under sections 7, 8 or 9. The applicant shall not receive payment for such fabric or service until he receives this authorization.

SEC. 11. Fractions of a cent. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this regulation, maximum prices determined under this regulation shall be adjusted to the nearest fraction of a cent that the manufacturer or wholesaler customarily used during the base period in pricing fabrics or services in the same line.

SEC. 12. Federal and state taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to the sale, delivery or processing of fabrics, or the supplying of services, imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for the fabric or service: If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased. The tax on the transportation of all property imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any fabric or service, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price.

SEC. 13. Terms and conditions of sale—(a) Discounts and allowances. Except for such changes as result from the application of the pricing methods contained in sections 7, 8 or 9 no seller shall change the allowances, discounts or other price differentials which he had in effect during the base period, for the same or similar fabrics or services, unless such change results in a lower net price.

(b) Transportation charges. No seller shall require any purchaser, and no purchaser is permitted, to pay a larger proportion of the transportation costs incurred in the delivery of fabrics or the supplying of services than the seller required purchasers of the same class to pay on deliveries of the same or similar fabrics or services during the base period. Where the seller during the base period quoted prices on an f. o. b. basis, he may determine his delivered maximum price by adding transportation costs to his f. o. b. maximum price. Where the seller during the base period quoted prices on a delivered basis, he may determine his f. o. b. maximum price by deducting transportation costs from his delivered maximum price. Transportation costs shall be determined by the method used by the manufacturer during the base period.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 1, 9 F.R. 577, effective 1-19-44.]

(c) Credit charges. Charges for the extension of credit may be added to the maximum prices established by the regulation if: (1) The seller during the base period required payment of a separately stated additional charge for the extension of credit by purchasers of the same class on sales or supply of fabrics or services; (2) the amount charged for the extension of credit is not in excess of the charge in effect during the base period for the extension of credit involving the same amount and term on sales or supply of fabrics or services; and (3) such charges are quoted and billed separately. No seller may require as a condition of sale that the purchaser must buy on credit.

SEC. 14. Transfers of business or stock in trade. If the business, assets or stock in trade are sold or otherwise transferred after March 31, 1942, and the transferee carries on the business, or continues to deal in the same type of fabrics or services, in an establishment separate from any other establishment previously owned or operated by him, the maximum prices of the transferee shall be the same as those to which his transferor would have been subject if no such transfer had taken place, and his obligation to keep records sufficient to verify such prices shall be the same. The transferor shall either preserve and make available, or turn over, to the transferee all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the record provisions of this regulation.

ARTICLE III—MISCELLANEOUS

SEC. 15. Applications for adjustment—(a) Application by a seller of fabrics—(1) Who may receive an adjustment. The maximum price for fabrics established by this regulation may be adjusted only in the case of an essential supplier of an essential fabric. An "essential fabric" is one which contributes to the effective prosecution of the war. An "essential supplier" is one whose output or supply of the fabric cannot be reasonably expected to be replaced at prices lower than the proposed adjusted maximum price. In addition, any person who has entered into or proposes to enter into a war contract (as defined in subparagraph (5)) or a subcontract thereunder is an essential supplier of an essential fabric.

(2) When adjustment may be granted—(i) In general. The Office of Price Administration, any regional office, or such other offices as may be authorized by order issued by the appropriate regional office, may adjust the maximum price in the case of an essential supplier of an essential fabric upon the basis of information submitted by the supplier or of other information. It may make that adjustment whenever it finds that the maximum price of a fabric is at such a level that (taking into account the costs thereof, the profits position of the supplier and the nature of his business) production or supply of the fabric is impeded or threatened and that the adjustment would not cause an increase in the cost of living.

(ii) Factors which may be considered. (a) The following factors are relevant to the consideration of whether production or supply of the fabric is impeded or threatened:

(1) Whether, and by what amount, the maximum price is below or above (i) the total unit costs, less selling and administrative expenses properly allocable to the internal management of the business in the case of a manufacturer and (ii) the current price being charged the seller in the case of any other seller.

(2) Whether, and by what amount, the maximum price is above total unit costs.

(3) Whether, and by what amount, the seller's current over-all profits, before income and excess profit taxes, are greater or less than his average over-all profits during the normal base period, increased by 7% of the additional capital investment contributed entirely by the seller, or its stockholders, since the normal base period. Capital investment will be construed as including accumulated profits.

(4) Whether the proposed price is higher than the price prevailing in the industry.

(5) Whether the seller's sales of the fabric represent only a very small part of his total sales.

(6) Whether the seller previously sold the same type of fabric at a price which was below its total unit costs.

(b) The following factors are relevant to consideration of whether the adjustment would cause an increase in the cost of living:

(1) Whether the fabric or a commodity produced therefrom is of a type sold to civilian consumers other than industrial consumers.

(2) If such is the case, whether the increase in price allowed by the adjustment would be absorbed prior to sale to a non-industrial consumer.

(3) Whether, if the applicant did not produce or supply the fabric, his output or supply would be replaced by the same or a substitute fabric only at prices equal to or higher than the proposed adjusted maximum price.

(3) How the seller proceeds in applying for an adjustment—(i) In general. An application for adjustment under this paragraph (a) shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, and shall be made on a copy of Form OPA 696–515 set out in paragraph (a) of Appendix B. If the seller's total sales of all fabrics and services in the calendar year 1942, or in the fiscal year ending in 1942, exceeded $500,000, the application shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C. If the seller's total sales of all fabrics and services during that period did not exceed $500,000, the application shall be filed with the regional office of the Office of Price Administration located in the same region in which the seller's business is located.

(ii) Application based on proposed wage or salary increase to be authorized by the National War Labor Board. A seller who believes that the conditions for an adjustment set forth in this paragraph (a) would exist if the National War Labor Board should grant a pending application for wage or salary increase may file an application for adjustment under this paragraph. Applications for adjustment of maximum prices based on wage or salary increases requiring the approval of the National War Labor Board must also comply with Supplementary Order No. 28,[11] which requires, among other things, that an application for adjustment in such case be filed within 15 days after an application for a wage or salary adjustment has been filed with the National War Labor Board, or, in a disputed wage proceeding, within 15 days after the employer receives notification that the National War Labor Board has taken jurisdiction of the dispute.

(4) Prices for deliveries made pending disposition of the application. A seller who has filed an application under this paragraph (a) may contract or agree that deliveries made during the pendency of the application shall be at a specific price which is higher than the existing maximum price which the seller wants to have adjusted. But no payment in excess of that existing maximum price may be received until the application is finally disposed of, and at that time the price received may not exceed the maximum price as determined by the Office of Price Administration.

A seller who wishes to enter into such arrangement must specifically state to the buyer the following:

(i) The maximum price for the fabric;

(ii) The fact that an appropriate application for an adjustment of that maximum price has been filed with the Office of Price Administration; and

(iii) The fact that the specific price quoted by the seller is subject to the approval of the Office of Price Administration.

(5) Definitions—(i) Normal base period. The term "normal base period" means the period 1936–1939. If the applicant shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Office of Price Administration either (a) that his entire industry was operating during the greater part of such period at an unusually depressed level or (b) that because of unusual conditions prevailing during that period, the seller was operating during that period at an unusually depressed level in comparison to other sellers in the industry, and in addition that some other period prior to January 1, 1941, represents a proper "normal base period" such other period may be considered. The mere fact that the rate of production or supply has increased since 1936–1939 will not be deemed evidence that the seller was operating at an "unusually depressed level" during that period. If the seller was not in business prior to January 1, 1941, he shall state that fact in his application.

(ii) Over-all profits. The term "over-all profits" means net profit resulting from the operation of all divisions of the seller, before the creation of any reserves, except ordinary reserves for depreciation and bad debts, and before income and excess profit taxes. In the case of a subsidiary wholly owned by a parent corporation, the term "over-all profits" means the consolidated net profit before the creation of any reserves, except ordinary reserves for depreciation and bad debts, and before income and excess profit taxes.

(iii) Subcontract. The term "subcontract" means any purchase order or agreement to perform all or any part of the work, or to make or furnish any commodity required for the performance of another contract or subcontract.

(iv) Total unit costs. (a) In the case of a manufacturer, the term "total unit costs" means the direct unit cost of labor, materials, and subcontracted services, plus a proportion of factory overhead, administrative and other expenses, based on actual operating experience, properly allocable to the production of the fabric, but does not include provisions for income or excess profit taxes. In evaluating total unit costs, the Office of Price Administration will determine whether the allocation of factory overhead, administrative and other expenses is based on a representative period of continuous, normal production.

(b) In the case of a seller, other than a manufacturer, "total unit costs" means the current price the seller is paying for the fabric plus the handling and administrative expense, normally applicable to the handling of the fabric, properly allocable to the supplier's total cost of doing business, but does not include provisions for income or excess profits taxes.

(v) War contract. The term "war contract" means any contract with the United States, or any agency thereof, or with the government, or any agency thereof, of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States, under the terms of the Lend-Lease Act, for the sale of any fabric purchased (a) for the ultimate use of the armed forces of the United States or for lend-lease purposes, or (b) by any government (or agency thereof) of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Lend-Lease Act, or (c) for use in the production or manufacture of any fabric described in (a) or (b).

(b) Application by a supplier of coating or combining services. Paragraph (a) applies, insofar as practicable, to adjustments of the maximum price of suppliers of coating or combining services and to applications for such adjustments. However, the application for adjustment shall be made on a copy of Form OPA 696–516 set out in paragraph (b) of Appendix B.

(c) Application by a seller of a fabric or a supplier of a service based upon an appropriate decrease of other prices—(1) Who may receive an adjustment under this paragraph. Adjustments under this paragraph will be granted only in the case of an essential supplier of an essential fabric or service. The meaning of these terms is explained in paragraph (a) (1) of this section.

(2) When adjustment may be granted. The Office of Price Administration, any regional office, or such other offices as may be authorized by order issued by the appropriate regional office, may make an adjustment of the maximum price in any case in which the seller or supplier agrees to make and (simultaneously with any increase in the maximum price that may be authorized under this paragraph (c)) makes a reduction in the selling price of other fabrics or services which will equal or exceed the total dollar amount of the adjustment granted under this paragraph.

(3) What an application under this paragraph must show. An application for price adjustment under this paragraph (c) shall contain information indicating that if the proposed adjustment is granted, the gross dollar amount of sales of the fabrics or services affected by the adjustment will not be greater than it would have been in the absence of the adjustment. In any case where such an adjustment is granted, the Office of Price Administration will require appropriate reports relating to the fabrics or services affected.

(4) How the seller or supplier proceeds in applying for an adjustment. An application for adjustment under this paragraph (c) shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[12] If the seller's or supplier's total sales of all fabrics and services for the calendar year 1942, or for the fiscal year ending in 1942, exceeded $500,000, the application shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C. If the seller's total sales of all fabrics and services during that period did not exceed $500,000, the application shall be filed with the regional office of the Office of Price Administration located in the same region in which the seller's or supplier's business is located.

(d) Application by a seller or a supplier under a combination of paragraphs (a) and (c) or (b) and (c). A seller or a supplier who desires to apply for an adjustment under paragraph (c) may, at the time he applies under that paragraph, also apply under paragraphs (a) or (b), if the facts of his case entitle him to do so. In such case, the office considering his application will give the adjustment available under paragraphs (a) or (b) before applying paragraph (c).

(e) Procedural Regulation No. 6[13] superseded. No applicaton for adjustment filed after October 31, 1943, under Procedural Regulation No. 6 with respect to fabrics or services covered by this regulation will be granted.

SEC. 16. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

SEC. 17. Adjustable pricing. If the seller or supplier wishes, he may agree with the buyer to charge a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this regulation if that higher price becomes the legal maximum price by the time delivery is made. But he must never charge a price which is higher than the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. Where the seller or supplier has filed an application for adjustment under section 15, he may, in accordance with the provisions of that section, deliver at a price which will be adjusted upwards in accordance with the action taken by the Office of Price Administration on his application. In all other cases, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, the seller or supplier must not deliver at a price which is to be adjusted upward in accordance with the action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. This authorization will be given only where: (1) a request for a change in the applicable price is pending; (2) authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production; and (3) it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 18. Records. To aid in the enforcement of this regulation, every seller subject to this regulation is required to keep certain records for inspection by the Office of Price Administration, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall remain in effect. These records are described in two paragraphs as follows:

(a) Records of sales. Every manufacturer and wholesaler subject to this regulation shall keep accurate records of every sale of fabrics or services. These records shall show:

(1) The date thereof.

(2) The name and address of the purchaser.

(3) The quantity of each kind, type, and grade of fabric or service sold.

(4) The price received.

(b) Records of the bases on which maximum prices are determined. Every manufacturer subject to this regulation shall keep accurate records of the following:

(1) The prices charged during the base period for each kind, type and grade of fabric delivered or offered for delivery during the base period, and for each kind, type and grade of service supplied or offered for supply during the base period, including records of customary discounts, allowances and trade practices with respect to each class of purchaser.

(2) Records of base period differentials between different widths, coating compounds, weight of coating, color, or similar variants in effect for fabrics or services during the base period, which were in use during that month in determining the price of one width, etc., in respect to the price of another width, etc.

(3) Labor rates in effect to him during the base period.

(4) Materials prices and waste and factory overhead rates in effect to him during the base period.

(5) Cost estimate sheets and other data showing the calculation of prices for all fabrics or services covered by this regulation for which the maximum price must be determined in accordance with the provisions of sections 8 or 10 of this regulation.

SEC. 19. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[14] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 20. Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase of or relating to a fabric or service covered by this regulation alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or service or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

SEC. 21. Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 22. Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation, the term:

(1) "Purchaser of the same class" and "class of purchaser" refer to the practice adopted by the seller in setting different prices for fabrics or services for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers (for example, manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, retailer, government agency, public institution, individual consumer) or for purchasers located in different areas, or for different quantities or grades or under different conditions of sale.

(2) "Natural rubber" means all forms and types of crude rubber, natural latex, reclaimed rubber and scrap rubber.

(3) "Rubber" means substitute rubber and all forms and types of rubber including natural and synthetic rubber.

(4) "Substitute rubber" means a substance made in whole or in part by a chemical process or from natural gums, resins or oils which in physical properties sufficiently resembles natural or synthetic rubber to replace either of them for particular uses, including uses where only some and not all of the physical characteristics of natural or synthetic rubber are needed, and which serves the same use as natural or synthetic rubber in the particular application in which it is applied. Substitute rubber includes balata.

(5) "Synthetic rubber" means a material obtained by chemical synthesis, possessing the approximate physical properties of natural rubber, when compared in either the vulcanized or unvulcanized condition, which can be vulcanized with sulphur or other chemicals with the application of heat, and which, when vulcanized, is capable of rapid elastic recovery after being stretched to at least twice its length at temperatures ranging from 0° F. to 150° F. at any humidity.

(6) "List price" means a price to which discounts or allowances (other than cash discounts) are applied in order to arrive at prices to different classes of purchasers. The term "list price" includes prices quoted through the medium of a schedule or price list.

[Subparagraph (6) added by Am. 1, 9 F.R. 577, effective 1-19-44]

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to other terms used herein.

Item of cost	Article used as a basis for pricing	Article being priced	Date price or rate in effect
a. Direct labor	$ (March, 1942, labor rates must be used in these calculations for fabrics or services whose base period is March, 1942. For fabrics or services whose base period is April, 1943, October 3, 1942, labor rates must be used unless a wage increase has been approved up to April 30, 1943, by the National War Labor Board, in which case such rates shall be used, but if your establishment is exempted by the National War Labor Board use April 30, 1943, labor rates.)	$
b. Direct materials: Rubber (if any)	$ (August 1, 1943, prices must be used in your calculations. If OPA has established lower maximum prices, such prices must be used.)	$
Other materials	$ (Base period prices must be used in your calculations. If there was no base period price, you must use the first price after the base period. If OPA has established lower maximum prices, such prices must be used.)	$
c. Waste	$ (Apply the same methods you used in the base period, adjusted to reflect the actual quantity of waste. If included under materials costs, do not fill in.)	$
d. Factory overhead	$ (Factory overhead must be computed in exactly the same manner, using the same elements of costs and same rates in effect in your plant during the base period, for similar operations. Factory overhead shall not include any selling or administrative expenses.)	$
e. Total factory costs	$	$

5. Computation of maximum prices:

Class of purchaser (a)	Fabric or service used as a basis for pricing: Maximum price (b)	Fabric or service used as a basis for pricing: Factory costs (c)	Margin (d)	Fabric or service being priced: Factory costs (e)	Fabric or service being priced: Maximum price (f)

(If you used a list price and discount system during the base period, only state the maximum list price. In such case, also indicate all applicable discounts and allowances and the classes of purchasers to which those discounts and allowances are applicable. These discounts and allowances need not be shown if you have already reported them to this office. If you did not use a list price and discount system during the base period, you must compute the maximum price to each class of purchaser. The margin (d) is found by subtracting the factory costs of the fabric or service used as a basis for pricing (c) from its maximum price (b). This dollar margin is then added to the factory cost (e) of the fabric or service being priced.)

6. Method by which factory overhead was computed:

(State the method employed, including the rates used and the bases to which the rates were applied. These need not be shown if you have already reported them to this Office.)

[MPR 402,[1] Amdt. 1]

WESTERN RED CEDAR LUMBER

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 402 is amended in the following respects:

1. In section 5 (b), immediately after the phrase "the maximum price when cash is paid is $29.40," the following sentence is inserted: "If the seller was not in business in August 1941, the discount for cash is 2 percent."

2. In section 7 (d) the word "three" is deleted; subparagraph (2) is deleted; and subparagraph (3) is redesignated "(2)".

3. In section 7, paragraph (g) "California mills" is deleted, and in its place a new paragraph (g) is added, to read as follows:

(g) Government bill of lading. Where shipment is made on government bill of lading, the maximum price payable to the seller may be computed by determining what would be the maximum delivered price on the basis of estimated weights and commercial rates and subtracting therefrom the commercial rate times the actual weights.

4. In section 8, at the end of the paragraph, the following sentence is added: "Any other species of lumber irrespective of the number of items, or red cedar shingles irrespective of grades and sizes, shall count as a single classification."

5. In section 15 (b), a subparagraph (13) is added, to read as follows:

(13) Applying additions permitted by the footnotes to the tables in Article V unless the order in writing expressly requires the working, grade, size, length, or condition for which the additions are permitted.

6. Section 15 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) Combination grades. Lumber sold on combination grades may not be sold above the maximum price for the lowest priced grade actually named in the combination. For example, the maximum price for lumber sold as No. 2 and better is the maximum price fixed for No. 2. It is permissible to quote with higher and/or lower grades developing, but when the lumber is shipped, the quantities falling in each grade must be tallied separately on a board foot basis, separately identified by grade and separately invoiced at prices not in excess of ceiling prices for the respective grades.

7. Article V—Price Tables and General Notes is amended in its entirety, to read as follows:

ARTICLE V—PRICE TABLES AND GENERAL NOTES

The maximum prices for Western Red Cedar lumber, f. o. b. mill for one thousand feet board measure or other measure where so designated, shall be as follows:

GENERAL NOTES

1. All grade and size terms and "paragraph" references and measuring terms appearing in this regulation refer to, and have the meaning given in, the Standard Grading and Dressing Rules No. 12, issued by the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, effective March 1, 1943.
2. The reference "N. B." and "O. B." as employed in siding schedules is descriptive of the manner in which lengths are bundled. "N. B." or new bundling is as defined in paragraph 734 of Standard Grading and Dressing Rules No. 12. "O. B." or old bundling contemplates lengths 3 feet and longer in multiples of one foot, with each length bundled separately. Random length shipments of "N. B." and "O. B." includes 33⅓% of 7' and shorter lengths.
3. No. 4 covers the down-fall which otherwise would be wasted. May be rough or surfaced. Defects include splits, check, shake, skips, rot, stain, worm holes, knot holes, wane and other defects which in combination will not impair the lumber for the purpose intended.
4. No lumber is sold on less than 1" count. All lumber is priced per 1000 feet, board measure, except downspouts, pickets, battens, lath, mouldings and lattice which are priced as designated.
5. Ripping and/or resawing not otherwise provided add $1.00 per m'bm; for diagonal or tapered add $5.00 per m'bm, and product of strip to be shipped.
6. For bundled where not provided add $1.00 per m'bm; on standard bundled items, where not bundled deduct $1.00 per m'bm.
7. Prices in all tables applying to items covered by American Lumber Standards apply to any standard working when finished A. L. S. size.
8. Shims: Shims are boards that are too thin to be surfaced to standard thickness but of sufficient thickness to surface bit and miss to 7/16", 1/2", 9/16", 5/8" or 11/16" or may be rough if full thickness.

"Local transportation services" means and is limited to, the actual distance traversed from the railroad siding in, or point of entrance to, the city, town, village, or hamlet in which the physical premises of the purchaser are located, to such physical premises.

(8) The maximum prices in Table A of paragraph (a) are for cheeses covered by the definitions set forth below which definitions are for the purpose of establishing standards of identity for specific pricing; Provided, however, The prescribed moisture and milk fat standards shall become effective 90 days after May 27, 1944.

(i) Limburger cheese. The food product commonly known as Limburger cheese, a soft smear ripened cheese with a strong and characteristic odor and taste, is prepared from cow's milk by the following process:

Milk may or may not be pasteurized. It may be standardized to adjust the fat content by removing a portion of the fat, by the adding of skim milk, or by adding cream. The milk is warmed, when necessary, and subjected to the action of harmless lactic acid forming bacteria present in such milk or which may be added. Sufficient rennet is then added to cause setting to a semi-solid mass. The mass is so cut, stirred, and heated as to promote separation of whey and curd. The final cooking temperature is about 96° F. When the curd is sufficiently firm about one-half of the whey is removed. The curd and whey remaining in the vat is stirred and immediately dipped into forms or molds. (Another method requires draining practically all of the whey and the addition of salt brine to the curd in the vat before dipping.) The forms containing the cheese are usually turned at regular intervals during the first day, and a slight pressure may or may not be applied to the cheese. The cheeses may or may not be cut before being placed on a salting table where they are rubbed with dry salt two or three times during the first 48 hours. The cheeses are then placed in a curing room at a temperature of about 60° F. having a relative humidity of about 95 percent. To develop and control the proper rind smear each cheese is washed in a weak brine solution about every other day until proper color and smear are obtained, which usually requires about 12 days. The cheese is wrapped in parchment, wax and foil, and placed in a cold room for further curing or until shipped. The cheese contains not more than 48 percent of moisture and its solids contain not less than 50 percent of milk fat.

(ii) Brick cheese. The food product commonly known as Brick cheese is prepared from cow's milk by the following process:

Milk may or may not be pasteurized. It may be standardized to adjust the fat content by removing a portion of the fat, by adding skim milk, or by adding cream. The milk is warmed, when necessary, and subjected to the action of harmless lactic acid forming bacteria which may be present in the milk or which may be added. Sufficient rennet or other suitable coagulant is added to cause setting to a semi-solid mass. This mass is so cut, stirred, and heated as to promote separation of the whey and curd. The final cooking temperature is about 108° F. When the curd is sufficiently firm about one-half of the whey is removed. The whey and curd remaining in the vat is again stirred and immediately dipped into forms or molds. (Another method requires draining practically all of the whey and the addition of salt brine to the curd in the vat before dipping.) The forms containing the cheese are then turned at regular intervals during the first day and a slight pressure may or may not be applied to the cheese. The cheeses are then salted. They may be dry salted or immersed in brine. They are then placed on shelves in a curing room having a temperature of about 65° F. and a relative humidity of about 85 percent. The cheeses are then washed frequently in a weak brine solution over a period of about 12 days. The cheeses are usually paraffined or waxed, wrapped in parchment or suitable moisture resistant wrapper and then with an overwrap of suitable paper and packed in boxes for further holding or for shipment. The cheese contains not more than 43 percent of moisture and its solids contain not less than 50 percent of milk fat.

The term Brick cheese includes a pasteurized cured Brick cheese made by approximately the same process, including, but not limited to Beer Kaese cheese and cheese sold under such names as Bier Kase, Lager Kase, Baummeister, Milltown Bar and Beer Cheese, which cheese contains not more than 43 percent of moisture and its solids contain not less than 50 percent of milk fat.

(iii) Munster cheese. The food product commonly known as Munster cheese, also known as Muenster cheese is prepared from cow's milk by the following process:

Milk may or may not be pasteurized. It may be standardized to adjust the fat content by removing a portion of the fat, by adding skim milk, or by adding cream. The milk may be warmed, when necessary, and subjected to the action of harmless lactic acid forming bacteria which may be present in the milk or which may be added. Sufficient rennet is added to cause setting to a semi-solid mass. The mass is cut into small cubes and stirred gently for a few minutes and then allowed to settle. The final cooking temperature is usually higher than the setting temperature. When the curd is sufficiently firm and there is a slight development of acid the whey is removed and the curd is dipped into perforated round or oblong hoops or forms.

The forms containing the cheese are turned several times at regular intervals during the first day. It is then taken out of the hoop and rubbed with dry salt about 3 days in succession, or it can be brine salted. The cheese is then transferred to the ripening cellar which should have a uniform temperature of about 55° F. and a relative humidity of about 75 percent. During the ripening period the cheese is usually kept on shelves and turned about twice a week. The rind of the cheese is usually colored by dipping in a vegetable coloring matter or by applying the color to the surface of the cheese. It is then wrapped in parchment or moisture resistant material and packed in boxes. The cheese contains not more than 44 percent of moisture and its solids contain not less than 50 percent of milk fat.

(d) Reference to other maximum price regulations governing sales of cheese:

(1) Sales at retail shall be priced under the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation Nos. 422 [3] and 423.[4]

This amendment shall become effective May 27, 1944, except as provided in paragraphs (a) (1) (ii) and (c) (8).

(2) No sale of a quantity in excess of 5 pounds shall be considered a sale at retail.

(j) Maximum prices for "cut" cheese items. (1) Whenever any "cheese item" prior to its sale or delivery is cut or sliced into pieces, cuts, or slices, the maximum price for the sale of any such pieces, cuts, or slices shall be the same as the maximum price for that "cheese item" from which the pieces, cuts, or slices are made.

Any cheese item sold f. o. b. any point shall be considered "delivered" at that point.

(3) Place. "Place" means any city, town, village or hamlet within the United States.

(4) Retailer distributing warehouse. "A retailer distributing warehouse" is a place where cheese is received and held for disposition to retail stores. Chain store warehouses and retailer owned cooperative warehouses are included in the meaning of "retailer distributing warehouse".

(5) Transportation factor. A "transportation factor" means the lowest published railroad carlot freight rate per pound gross weight from Plymouth, Wisconsin, to the place of delivery multiplied by 1.15. In calculating transportation charges referred to in the foregoing paragraphs, the 3% transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall be included.

(6) The maximum prices in this section are for cheese covered by the definitions set forth below. The definition for skim milk cheese is for the purpose of establishing standards of identity for specific pricing.

(i) "Colby cheese", means "Colby cheese" as defined in the "Standards of Identity for Cheddar cheese, cheese, washed curd cheese, soaked curd cheese, Colby cheese" promulgated by the Food and Drug Administration and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of January 9, 1941, Page 196. It contains not more than 40% of moisture and its solids contain not less than 50% of milk fat.

(ii) "Washed or soaked curd cheese", means "washed curd cheese, soaked curd cheese" as defined in the "Standards of Identity for Cheddar cheese, cheese, washed curd cheese, soaked curd cheese, Colby cheese" promulgated by the Food and Drug Administration and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of January 9, 1941, Page 196. It contains not more than 42% of moisture and its solids contain not less than 50% of milk fat.

(iii) "Skim milk cheese", means all cheese (including but not limited to Scarmorze cheese and Cacio Cavallo cheese) made from cows' milk by the Cheddar, washed curd, soaked curd, Colby, Monterey or Provolone processes described in subdivisions (a), (b) and (c) below, or by any minor variations of such processes and in any style, form and size, containing either more moisture or less milk fat, or, more moisture and less milk fat than moisture of 41% or milk fat of 50% in the water free substance: Provided, however, The following cheeses and cheese products are excluded from the provisions of this definition:

Processed cheese of all kinds.
Cheese foods and spreads.
Monterey cheese containing not more than 44% moisture and not less than 50% milk fat.
High moisture Jack cheese containing not more than 50% moisture and not less than 50% milk fat.
Provolone, Salami, Provolette and Provolone (Giant) cheese containing not more than 45% moisture and not less than 45% milk fat.
Baker's cheese.
Pot cheese.
Smearcase cheese.
Hand cheese.
Farmer's cheese.
Creamed cottage cheese, cottage cheese, cream cheese, Neufchatel cheese and all other cheese for which "Standards of Identity" have been promulgated by the Food and Drug Administration, or which are specifically priced in this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 289, or which may be specifically excepted from the provisions of this section, in writing, by the Office of Price Administration.

(a) The Cheddar, washed curd, soaked curd or Colby cheese process is as described in the "Standards of Identity for Cheddar cheese, cheese, washed curd cheese, soaked curd cheese, Colby cheese" promulgated by the Food and Drug Administration and published in the Federal Register of January 9, 1941, pages 195 and 196.

(b) The Monterey cheese process is as follows:

"Milk may or may not be pasteurized. It may be standardized to adjust the fat content by removing a portion of the fat, by adding skim milk, or by adding cream. The milk is warmed, when necessary, and subjected to the action of harmless lactic acid forming bacteria which may be present in the milk or which may be added. Sufficient rennet is added to cause setting to a semi-solid mass. This mass is so cut, stirred, and heated as to promote acid development and separation of the whey and curd. The final cooking temperature is about 110° F. About seventy minutes after heat is applied the whey is removed and the curd cooled by circulating cold water through the jacket of the vat or directly into the curd. The curd is then salted and placed in suitable forms of different sizes and shapes for pressing. The cheese is pressed for about 16 hours and then placed on shelves in the curing room at a temperature of about 60° F."

(c) The Provolone cheese process is as follows:

"Milk may or may not be pasteurized. It may be standardized by removing a portion of the fat or by adding skim milk. The milk is warmed, when necessary, and subjected to the action of harmless lactic acid forming bacteria which may be present in the milk or which may be added. A special rennet paste is used to set the milk to a semi-solid mass. This mass is so cut, stirred, and heated as to promote acid development and the separation of whey and curd. The final cooking temperature is about 125° F. When the curd is of the proper consistency it is molded into loaves which vary greatly in sizes and shapes, by dipping in hot water, then kneading and pulling until smooth and free from lumps and brittleness. It is then salted in brine and smoked. The cheese may be hung in warehouses or packed in specially constructed wooden crates for curing."

(m) Reference to other maximum price regulations governing sales of cheese:

(1) Except as provided in paragraph (i), sales at retail shall be priced under the provisions of Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 422[3] and 423.

This amendment shall become effective May 27, 1944, except that the effective date for skim milk cheese (other than skim milk cheese containing no milk fat) manufactured prior to the above effective date shall be 90 days after the effective date of this amendment, and for such 90 day period either the price for the cheese item established under the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 280,[4] or, the prices established in this section for Colby cheese, whichever is lower, shall govern.

SECTION 1. Explanation of this regulation. This regulation establishes maximum prices that may be paid by a dealer, manufacturer or other purchaser for Maryland tobacco. It also establishes maximum prices that may be charged for sales of that tobacco.

"Maryland tobacco" means United States Type No. 32 tobacco (as specified in Regulatory Announcement No. 118 of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture) of the 1943 crop, and of previous crops purchased or delivered after May 20, 1944.

SEC. 2. Compliance with this regulation—(a) No buying or selling above maximum prices. On and after May 20, 1944 regardless of any contract, lease or other obligation, no dealer or other purchaser shall buy or receive, or agree, offer, solicit or attempt to buy or receive, and no person, for whose sales of Maryland tobacco maximum prices are established by this regulation, shall sell or deliver, or agree, offer, solicit or attempt to sell or deliver any Maryland tobacco at prices higher than the appropriate maximum price established by this regulation. However, lower prices may be charged, paid, offered and received.

(b) Evasion—(1) In general. The price limitations in this regulation shall not be evaded, directly or indirectly, whether by commission, service, transportation or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege; or by tying agreement, by any change in manner of packing, or any business practice or trade understanding, or in any other way.

(2) Specific practices which are evasions. Specifically but not exclusively, the following practices are evasions:

(i) In the case of a dealer, making a separate charge for warehousing or for services in the purchase of Maryland tobacco on direct order or otherwise where no practice of separate charge has previously existed.

(ii) In the case of a dealer, reduction or elimination by the dealer of his customary discounts or initial credit terms allowed on his most recent sales of the 1941 crop to the same purchaser, or if he made no sales of the 1941 crop to the purchaser, reduction or elimination of his customary discounts or initial credit terms allowed on his most recent sales of the 1941 crop to purchasers of the same class, except where accompanied by a compensating reduction in his maximum price.

"Initial credit terms" means terms fixing the time for payment of the purchase price agreed to by the dealer and buyer at or prior to delivery of the tobacco.

(c) Penalties for violations. Any person violating a provision of this regulation is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(d) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[1] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, apply to all sellers (except growers) of Maryland tobacco. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 3. General pricing provisions—(a) Maximum prices for dealer's sales of Maryland tobacco purchased on the loose leaf or hogshead markets or otherwise—(1) Tobacco purchased on direct order. For Maryland tobacco purchased on the loose leaf or hogshead markets or otherwise on direct order by dealers, the dealer's maximum price shall be an amount figured as follows:

(i) Divide his highest selling price per pound on his similar sales of the 1941 crop to purchasers of the same class by his purchase price per pound of the tobacco thus sold.

NOTE: Definitions of "selling price" and "purchase price" follow subparagraph (2) below.

(2) Tobacco purchased other than on direct order. For a dealer's sales of Maryland tobacco purchased on the loose leaf or hogshead markets or otherwise (other than on direct order) the dealer's maximum price shall be an amount figured as follows:

(i) The dealer shall ascertain his average purchase price per pound for his purchases of the 1941 crop by dividing the purchase price he paid for that crop by the number of pounds he purchased thereof.

(ii) The dealer shall ascertain his average selling price per pound for his sales of stemmed tobacco of the 1941 crop by dividing his total selling price for stemmed tobacco of that crop by the size, containing either more moisture or number of pounds of stemmed tobacco of that crop he sold.

(iii) The dealer shall ascertain his average selling price per pound for his sales of unstemmed tobacco of the 1941 crop by dividing his total selling price for unstemmed tobacco of that crop by the number of pounds of unstemmed tobacco of that crop he sold.

(v) The dealer shall then multiply his weighted average purchase price per pound farm weight of the Maryland tobacco being priced by the appropriate markup factor obtained at (iv) according to whether the tobacco being priced is to be sold as stemmed or unstemmed tobacco. The resulting figure is the dealer's maximum price.

"Selling price" means the net amount paid to the dealer for the tobacco plus any discount allowed to the purchaser for prompt payment but exclusive of any transportation expense paid by the dealer for the account of the purchaser. In figuring a selling price under subparagraph (1), amounts paid to the dealer for tobacco purchased other than on direct order shall not be included. In figuring a selling price under subparagraph (2), amounts paid to the dealer for tobacco purchased on direct order shall not be included.

"Purchase price" means the price actually paid by the dealer in his purchase on the loose leaf or hogshead markets plus any discounts allowed to him for prompt payment but exclusive of any transportation expenses paid by him. In figuring a purchase price under subparagraph (1), amounts paid by the dealer for tobacco purchased other than on direct order shall not be included. In figuring a purchase price under subparagraph (2), amounts paid by the dealer for tobacco purchased on direct order shall not be included.

"Weighted average purchase price" means the total purchase price paid by the dealer for the Maryland tobacco being priced, divided by the total number of pounds of such tobacco purchased.

(b) Maximum prices for Maryland tobacco. The maximum prices which may be charged, demanded, offered, paid or received for Maryland tobacco purchased on and after May 20, 1944, on the loose leaf or hogshead markets or otherwise (except tobacco purchased from dealers in sales for which maximum prices are established under paragraphs (a) (1) and (2) above) shall not exceed $62.00 per hundredweight.

(c) Dealers unable to determine maximum prices under paragraph (a). If a dealer is unable to determine a maximum price under paragraph (a) above for a particular sale of Maryland tobacco purchased by him on the loose leaf or hogshead markets, he shall apply by letter to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. (d) Trade practices. The markups authorized herein are gross markups which shall not be exceeded regardless of the number of sellers handling a textile product. No seller shall change his customary allowances, discounts or other price differentials or his customary alteration charges unless such change results in a lower net price.

(e) Prohibited practices. It shall be unlawful for any seller to improperly classify a textile product for the purpose of evading the appropriate pricing provision herein. It shall be unlawful for any seller to revise any maximum price fixed on a textile product and entered in his textile reference book except as otherwise provided in paragraph (h) (2).

(2) The maximum price charged by each seller and entered in his textile reference book shall in no instance be altered except that should the seller have erroneously computed the price for an item entered in such book, the seller's local War Price and Rationing Board may, after having received a written statement of the fact from the seller, if satisfied that the entry was the result of a miscalculation, authorize such seller to change the entry to correspond with the maximum price which he is authorized to charge in accordance with this regulation.

(4) Alternative method for determining current allowable inventories for coal and wood or gas heating stoves, or coal and wood, oil or gas cooking stoves. (i) A dealer or distributor whose sales of coal and wood or gas heating stoves, or coal and wood, oil or gas cooking stoves in 1941 or 1942 were within the range for such types of stoves, as shown in Table IV (set forth in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph (4)), may, instead of applying for an increase in his allowable inventory for those types of stoves under paragraph (b) (1) of this section, apply to his Board for an increase equal to the amount by which the allowable inventory for those types of stoves shown in Table IV exceeds his present allowable inventory for those types. [Order 120]

STANDARD AND HIGH FREQUENCY BROADCAST STATIONS

MECHANICAL RECORDS; PROPOSED AMENDMENT

At a meeting of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of May 1944;

Whereas the Commission is of the opinion that public interest, convenience and necessity may be served by amending § 3.407 of the rules and regulations to read as follows:

§ 3.407 Mechanical records. (a) No recorded program consisting of a speech, news events, news commentator, forum, panel discussion, special event, or any other recorded program in which the element of time is of special significance and a presentation of which would create, whether intentionally or otherwise, the impression or belief on the part of the radio audience that the event or program being broadcast is in fact occurring simultaneously with the broadcast, shall be broadcast without an appropriate announcement being made at the beginning and conclusion of the broadcast that it is a recorded program. The identifying announcement shall accurately describe the type of mechanical record used.

(b) Any other program consisting of a mechanical record or series of mechanical records need not be announced as provided in paragraph (a), but the licensee shall not attempt affirmatively to create the impression that the program being so broadcast consists of live talent. At least once each hour the licensee shall announce which of the programs other than those specified in paragraph (a), presented during the previous hour, were broadcast by means of mechanical records.

And, whereas, the Commission is of the opinion that it will best conduce to the proper dispatch of business and to the ends of justice that all interested persons be given an opportunity to file statements or briefs showing why the above proposal should not be adopted, or why it should not be adopted in the form proposed by this order;

Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered, That any person desiring to do so may, on or before the 16th day of June, 1944, file statements or briefs as to why the above proposed amendment to § 3.407 should not be adopted or why it should not be adopted in the form proposed by this order. Requests for oral argument, if made with briefs or statements, will be considered.

By the Commission.

MISSOURI WESTERN GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

Notice is hereby given that on May 2, 1944, the Missouri Western Gas Company a Delaware corporation having its principal place of business in Butler, Missouri, filed with the Federal Power Commission an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, to authorize the construction and operation of the facilities hereinafter described.

The proposed construction consists of a 3½-inch and 4-inch pipe line approximately 21 miles in length, extending from and connected with Panhadle Eastern Pipe Line Company's measuring station 1½ miles north of Harrisonville, Missouri, along U. S. Highway No. 71 to the 4-inch transmission pipe line of the Applicant at Adrian, Missouri, and one regulator station.

It appears from the application that the operation of the above described facilities will make available to the Misscuri Western Gas Company natural gas from the Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company, which will permit the Applicant to continue to render natural gas service in the town of Adrian, Amoret and Butler in Bates County, Missouri.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should, on or before the 6th day of June 1944, file with the Federal Power Commission a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act.

EXHIBIT B

William Luedtke, did make the following statement this 7th day of March 1944:

I am former national secretary of the German American Bund. With reference to the so-called "Nordland Ball Fund", which was raised and deposited with the Court in Newton, New Jersey, this fund was raised by loans and contributions. The money was raised as an activity of the German American Bund. The loans and contributions were turned over to Gustav Elmer by the local unit leaders and by individual contributors and lenders. The fund was raised under the supervision of Gerhard Wilhelm Kunze and Elmer. The receipts, if I recall correctly, were made up at Bund headquarters at 85th Street by Elmer. These loans were to the German American Bund and it was to the Bund that the contributors and leaders looked for repayment.

WM. LUEDTKE.

SOLID FUELS IN DESIGNATED COUNTIES OF MARYLAND

Order No. G-41 under §§ 1340.260 and 1340.259 (a) (1) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122. Solid fuels sold and delivered by dealers. Solid fuels delivered by dealers in Howard, Carroll, Harford, and Cecil Counties, and in designated portions of Baltimore and Anne Arundel Counties, State of Maryland, Coal Area II.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration by §§ 1340.260 and 1340.259 (a) (1) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, it is ordered:

(a) What this order does—(1) Dealers' maximum prices: Area covered. If you are a dealer in solid fuels, this order fixes the maximum prices which you may charge, and if you are a purchaser in the course of trade or business, this order fixes the maximum prices which you may pay, for certain sizes and quantities of "Pennsylvania anthracite" and "Virginia anthracite", and for certain sizes, quantities and types of bituminous coal delivered to or at any point in the zones comprising State of Maryland, Coal Area II. That area consists of five zones, as follows:

Zone 1. Zone 1 includes Anne Arundel County, except election district 5.

Zone 2. Zone 2 includes Howard County.

Zone 3. Zone 3 includes Carroll County and electiton districts 4, 5 and 6 of Baltimore County.

Zone 4. Zone 4 includes Harford County and election districts 7, 8, 10 and 11 of Baltimore County.

Zone 5. Zone 5 includes Cecil County.

(2) Schedules of prices, charges and discounts. The applicable prices, authorized charges, and required discounts, from which you shall determine the maximum prices for designated kinds, sizes and quantities of coal delivered within Zones 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 are set forth in Schedules I, II, III, IV and V, respectively.

(3) To what sales this order applies. If you are a dealer in solid fuels, you are bound by the prices, charges and discounts, and by all other provisions of this order for all deliveries within Zones 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5.

You shall determine the maximum price for "direct-delivery" sales, as hereinafter defined, by reference to the appropriate schedule of this order covering the zone to which delivery is made, whether or not you are located in one of the five zones.

You shall determine your maximum price for a "yard" sale, as hereinafter defined, by reference to the appropriate schedule of this order covering the zone in which the purchaser takes physical possession or custody of the solid fuel.

(b) What this order prohibits. Regardless of any contract or other obligations, you shall not:

(1) Sell or, in the course of trade or business, buy solid fuels of the kinds, sizes, and in the quantities set forth in the schedules herein, at prices higher than the maximum prices computed as set forth in paragraph (c) of this order, although you may charge, pay or offer less than maximum prices.

(2) Obtain any price higher than the applicable maximum price by:

(i) Changing the discounts authorized herein, or

(ii) Charging for any service which is not expressly requested by the buyer, or

(iii) Charging for any service for which a charge is not specifically authorized by this order, or

(iv) Charging a price for any service higher than the Schedule price for such service, or

(v) Using any tying agreement or requiring that the buyer purchase anything in addition to the fuel requested by him, except that a dealer may comply with requirements or standards with respect to deliveries which have been or may be issued by an agency of the United States Government.

(vi) Using any other device by which a higher price than the applicable maximum price is obtained, directly or indirectly.

(c) How to compute maximum prices. You must figure your maximum price as follows:

(1) Use the schedule which covers your sale. (Schedule I applies to sales on a "direct-delivery" basis, "yard sales", and sales of Virginia anthracite in 19 lb. paper bags, within Zone 1. In like manner, Schedules II, III, IV, and V apply to "direct-delivery" sales and "yard sales" in Zones 2, 3, 4, and 5, respectively. You will find Schedule I in paragraph (d), Schedule II in paragraph (e), Schedule III in paragraph (f), Schedule IV in paragraph (g), and Schedule V in paragraph (h).)

(2) Take the dollars-and-cents figure given in the applicable table of the applicable schedule, for the kind, size and quantity of solid fuel you are selling.

(3) Deduct from that figure the amount of the discount which you are required to give, as specified therein. Where a discount is required, you must state it separately on your invoice.

(4) If, at your purchaser's request, you actually render him a service for which this order authorizes a charge, you may add to the figure obtained as above no more than the maximum authorized service charge. You must state that charge separately on your invoice. The only authorized service charges are those provided for in the schedules.

(5) If you deliver a fraction of a net ton, but not less than one-half ton, and the applicable schedule provides a discount on the basis of one ton or one-half ton, you shall allow a proportionate discount, making your calculation to the nearest full cent. For example, if you are required to deduct 50¢ per ton for cash payment, you shall deduct 38¢ for three-quarters of a ton.

(6) If you deliver a fraction of a net ton, but not less than one-half ton, and the applicable schedule provides a service charge on the basis of one ton, you shall add no more than a proportionate service charge, making your calculation to the nearest full cent. For example, if the transaction permits a service charge of 75¢ per ton, you shall not add more than 56¢ for performance of that service in connection with the delivery of three-quarters of a ton.

(d) Schedule I. Schedule I establishes a specific maximum price for certain kinds, sizes and quantities of solid fuel, delivered to or at any point within Zone 1. There is a separate table of prices for "direct-delivery" sales, "yard sales", and sales of Virginia anthracite in 19 lb. paper bags.

(i) Commingling. If one size or kind of coal is sold commingled with another size or kind of coal, the maximum price for the combination shall be the maximum price established in this order for the smallest of the sizes or for the least expensive kind of coal so commingled, whichever is lower, whether the sale be a "delivered sale" or "yard sale", except in the following situation: Where a purchaser requests that two or more sizes or kinds of fuels be commingled in one delivery, then, and in that event, if these sizes and kinds are separately weighed at the point of loading, the dealer may commingle those sizes and kinds in the truck or other vehicle, in which the delivery is made. The price for coal so commingled shall be calculated on the basis of the applicable per net ton price for each size and kind in the combination, and the invoice shall separately state the price, so determined, for the quantity of each size and kind in the combination.

(j) Ex Parte 148; freight rate increase. Since the Ex Parte 148 freight rate increase has been rescinded by the Interstate Commerce Commission, dealers' freight rates are the same as those of December 1941. Therefore, you may not increase any schedule price on account of freight rates.

(k) Addition of increase in supplier's maximum prices prohibited. You may not increase the specific maximum prices established by this order to reflect in whole or in part, any subsequent increase to you in your supplier's maximum price for the same fuel. The specific maximum prices already reflect increases to you in your supplier's maximum prices occurring up to the effective date of this order. If increases in your supplier's maximum prices should occur after such date, as the result of any amendment to or revision of a maximum price regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration governing sales and deliveries made by such suppliers, the Regional Administrator will, if he then deems it to be warranted, take appropriate action to amend this order to reflect such increases.

(l) Taxes. If you are a dealer subject to this order you may collect, in addition to the specific maximum prices established herein, provided you state it separately, the amount of the Federal tax upon the transportation of property imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 actually paid or incurred by you, or any amount equal to the amount of such tax paid by any of your prior suppliers and separately stated and collected from you by the supplier from whom you purchased. On sales to the United States or any agency thereof, or to the State of Maryland or any political subdivision thereof, you need not state this tax separately.

(m) Adjustable pricing. You may not make a price adjustable to a maximum price which will be in effect at some time after delivery of the anthracite has been completed; but the price may be adjustable to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery.

(n) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this order may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, except that the petition shall be filed with the Regional Administrator and acted upon by him.

(o) Right of amendment or revocation. The Regional Administrator or the Price Administrator may amend, revoke or rescind this order, or any provision thereof, at any time.

(p) Applicability of other regulations. If you are a dealer subject to this order, you are governed by the licensing provisions of Licensing Order 1. Licensing Order 1 provides, in brief, that a license is required of all persons making sales for which maximum prices are established. A license is automatically granted. It is not necessary to apply for the license. The license may be suspended for violations in connection with the sale of any commodity for which maximum prices are established. If your license is suspended, you may not sell any such commodity during the period of suspension.

(q) Records. If you are a dealer subject to this order, you shall preserve, keep, and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration, a record of every sale of solid fuel hereunder, showing the date, the name and address of the buyer, if known, the per net ton price charged, and the solid fuel sold. The solid fuel shall be identified in the manner in which it is described in the order. The record shall also state separately each service rendered and the charge made for it.

(r) Posting of maximum prices: Sales slips and receipts. (1) If you are a dealer subject to this order, you shall post all your maximum prices (as set forth in the applicable schedule or schedules of this order) in your place of business in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public.

(2) If you are a dealer subject to this order, you shall, except for a sale of less than one-half ton, give each purchaser a sales slip or receipt showing your name and address, the kind, size, and quantity of coal sold to him, the date of the sale or delivery and the price charged, separately stating the amount, if any, of the required discounts which must be deducted from, and the authorized service charges and the taxes, which may be added to, the specific maximum prices prescribed herein.

In the case of all other sales, you shall give each purchaser a sales slip or receipt containing the information described in the foregoing paragraph, if requested by such purchaser or if, during December 1941, you customarily gave purchasers such sales slips or receipts.

(s) Enforcement. (1) Persons violating any provision of this order are subject to civil and criminal penalties, including suits for treble damages, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(2) Persons who have any evidence of any violation of this order are urged to communicate with the Maryland District Office of the Office of Price Administration, or with the Price Panel of the appropriate War Price and Rationing Board.

(15) Except as otherwise provided herein or as the context may otherwise require, the definitions set forth in §§ 1340.255 and 1340.266 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 shall apply to terms used herein.

[Region III Order G-2 Under MPR 280]

FLUID MILK IN CLEVELAND REGION

Order No. G-2 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 280. Maximum prices for specific food products. Fixing the maximum prices of bulk milk sold in the States of Indiana, (except Lake County), Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio and West Virginia.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region III of the Office of Price Administration by § 1351.817a of Maximum Price Regulation No. 280, it is hereby ordered:

(a) What this order does. This order fixes the maximum prices which may be received by any handler (as hereinafter defined) of fluid milk bought from producers, associations of producers, or other handlers, and sold for human consumption in bulk (other than in glass or paper containers) to any person, other than stores, hotels, restaurants and institutions. It also fixes said maximum prices as the prices which may be paid for such fluid milk in the course of trade or business, by the buyer, other than stores, hotels, restaurants and institutions.

(b) Maximum price. On and after the effective date of this order, regardless of any contract, agreement or other obligation, no handler shall sell or deliver, or agree to sell or deliver, fluid milk in bulk (other than in glass or paper containers) bought from producers, associations of producers, or other handlers, to any person other than stores, hotels, restaurants, and institutions, and no such person shall in the course of trade or business, buy or agree to buy such fluid milk from any such handler at prices higher than the following:

(1) Primary handlers. Subject to the limitations set forth in subparagraph (4) hereof, the maximum price at which a primary handler may sell such fluid milk shall be determined as follows:

(i) The purchase price of said milk adjusted by the required butterfat differential set forth in subparagraph (3) hereof, plus

(ii) A handling charge not exceeding 40¢ per cwt. when such milk is delivered into containers of a capacity greater than 10 gallons, including tank trucks or tank cars, or

(iii) A handling charge not exceeding 45¢ per cwt. when such milk is delivered into containers of 10 gallons capacity or less.

(2) Secondary handlers. Subject to the limitations set forth in subparagraph (4) hereof, the maximum price at which a secondary handler may sell such milk shall be determined as follows:

(i) The price which such secondary handler actually paid for such fluid milk not exceeding the maximum price provided by section (1) of this paragraph (b), adjusted by the required butterfat differential set forth in subparagraph (3) hereof, plus

(ii) A handling charge not exceeding 20¢ per cwt.

(3) The following butterfat differential shall be applicable only in the event the butterfat content of milk sold by a handler varies from the butterfat content of said milk at the time of purchase:

(i) For each 1/10 of 1% by which the butterfat content is increased on resale, 5¢ may be added.

(ii) For each 1/10 of 1% by which the butterfat content is decreased on resale, 5¢ shall be deducted.

(4) Provided, however, That in no event shall the total of all handling charges exceed 60¢ per cwt. for milk delivered into containers of a capacity greater than 10 gallons including tank trucks or tank cars, and 65¢ per cwt. for milk delivered into containers of 10 gallons capacity or less, nor shall the maximum price for any fluid milk sold by either a primary or secondary handler exceed the following:

Butterfat content (percent)	Delivered into containers of more than 10 gallon capacity, including tank trucks and tank cars	Delivered in containers of 10 gallon capacity or less
3.5	$3.75	$3.80.
Less than 3.5	$3.75 less 5¢ for each 1/10 of 1% under 3.5% butterfat content.	$3.80 less 5¢ for each 1/10 of 1% under 3.5% butterfat content.
More than 3.5	$3.75 plus 5¢ for each 1/10 of 1% over 3.5% butterfat content.	$3.80 plus 5¢ for each 1/10 of 1% over 3.5% butterfat content.

(5) Where milk is purchased at different prices, and/or of different butterfat content, and is thereafter commingled, the weighted average, both as to purchase price and as to butterfat content, shall be used in calculating maximum resale prices under this paragraph (b).

(6) The purchase price to which the handling charges set forth in subparagraphs (1) and (2) hereof may be added shall be the price paid by the first purchaser to any producer per 100 pounds of fluid milk, and in no event shall it include any bonus or additional payment based upon quality, quantity, special equipment or any other special consideration.

(c) Definition. As used in this order, the following definitions shall apply:

(1) "Fluid milk" means liquid cow's milk sold or resold for human consumption in fluid form.

(2) "Handler" means any person, firm or corporation who, on his own behalf or on behalf of another, purchases fluid milk from any producer, association of producers, or other handler, and who sells such fluid milk at wholesale in bulk (other than in glass or paper containers) to any person, firm or corporation other than stores, hotels, restaurants and institutions.

(i) A producer is a "handler" with respect to that fluid milk purchased by him from any producer, association of producers, or other handlers, which fluid milk is sold by him at wholesale in bulk (other than in glass or paper containers) to any person other than stores, hotels, restaurants and institutions.

(ii) A farmers' cooperative association is a "handler" with respect to that fluid milk processed for it by any operator of a receiving or processing plant, and with respect to that fluid milk handled in physical facilities for receiving, processing or distributing fluid milk which are owned or leased by the cooperative, which fluid milk is sold by it at wholesale in bulk (other than in glass or paper containers) to any person other than stores, hotels, restaurants and institutions.

(3) A "primary handler" of fluid milk is a handler who purchases or receives fluid milk from any producer at a receiving station or processing plant within Region III. Such handler shall use the pricing provisions of paragraph (b) of this order governing primary handlers only with respect to that fluid milk to which he performs a function of a primary handler.

(4) A "secondary handler" of fluid milk is a handler who purchases or receives fluid milk from another handler for resale at wholesale in bulk to persons other than stores, hotels, restaurants and institutions. Such a handler shall use the pricing provisions of paragraph (b) governing secondary handlers only with respect to that fluid milk to which he performs a function of a secondary handler.

(5) "Person" means individual, corporation, partnership, association or other organized group of persons or the legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing and includes the United States or any agency thereof, any other government or any political sub-division and any agencies of the foregoing.

(6) Unless the content otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, in the General Maximum Price Regulation and Maximum Price Regulation No. 280, issued by the Office of Price Administration, shall apply to other terms used herein.

(d) Every handler making a sale of fluid milk shall render to the purchaser an invoice showing separately the purchase price of said milk determined as herein provided, the butterfat content thereof and the handling charge added to the purchase price under the provisions of paragraph (b) hereof.

(e) Geographical applicability. This order shall apply to all sales of fluid milk first physically received from producers by any handler at a receiving station or processing plant within the States of Indiana, (except the County of Lake), Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky and West Virginia.

(f) This order shall not be construed as amending, modifying, revoking or repealing any order, agreement or license issued pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, and in the event of any conflict between this order or any of the provisions thereof, and any such order, agreement, or license, or any of the provisions thereof, the provisions of such order, agreement or license shall prevail over those of this order.

(g) Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this order shall not be evaded either directly or indirectly by any scheme or device, or by any practice which is used to get the effect of a higher than maximum price. The prices established by this order are maximum prices for the commodities and all services ordinarily rendered in connection with the sale of the commodities. Therefore, you may not charge any additional amounts for any services ordinarily connected with the sale of these commodities.

(h) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1 licensing all persons who make sales under price control, shall apply to every seller subject to the provisions of this order. These sections provide in brief that a license is required of all persons selling commodities for which ceiling prices are established. The license is automatically granted and it is not necessary to apply for the license. Such license may be suspended for violation in connection with the sale of any commodity for which ceiling prices are established.

No person, whose license is suspended, may sell any such commodity during the period of suspension.

(i) Enforcement. On and after the effective date of this order, any person who sells at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this order, or otherwise violates any of the provisions of this order, shall be subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. In addition, any person who, in the course of trade of business, buys at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this order, is subject to criminal penalties and civil enforcement actions provided for by such act.

(j) Revocability. This order may be revoked, amended or corrected at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

This order shall become effective on the 16th day of May 1944.

Subchapter B—Executive Vice-Chairman

PART 1075—CONSTRUCTION

[Conservation Order L–41, Interpretation 7]

USE OF INSULATION MATERIALS

The following interpretation is issued with respect to Conservation Order L–41.

Paragraph (d) (7) of Conservation Order L–41 provides that it is not necessary to get War Production Board permission under that order for "Insulating buildings" with certain materials. The exception applies only to the insulation of existing buildings. It does not apply to the use of these materials in the original construction of a building, nor does it apply to the use of materials for other purposes than insulating buildings; for example, making alterations to a building or converting the building from one purpose to another. The cost of new insulating materials used in building a new building or in making alterations to an old building or converting an old building from one use to another must be included in the cost of the job.

For example, if rigid insulating material is used for partitions to make a new room, the cost of the insulating material must be included in the cost of the job, as this use of insulating material is not insulating a building. If an existing building is being converted from a store to a frozen food locker plant, the cost of the insulation materials installed must be included as part of the cost of conversion, as these materials are being used to convert a store to a locker plant, not to insulate a store.

Issued this 23d day of May 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,

Recording Secretary.

[CMP Reg. 6, Schedule A]

CONSTRUCTION LIMITATIONS

§ 3175.6a Schedule A of CMP Regulation 6—(a) Principles governing wartime construction. The principles governing war-time construction are defined in the Directive for War-Time Construction, dated May 20, 1942. The War Production Board and the Army-Navy Munitions Board interpret these principles as limiting all construction to a design of the simplest type consistent with structural stability and sufficient only to meet the immediate minimum functional requirements.

The guiding principle should always be to utilize those materials which are most plentiful and which, in the ultimate analysis, will cause the least interference with the production of combat materiel and the utilization of transportation and power.

(b) What these construction limitations do. These construction limitations apply to construction authorized on Form GA–1456. They do not apply to any other kind of construction. Construction authorized on Form GA–1456 must be performed in accordance with the provisions of Appendix I and Appendix II (which are part of this schedule) unless a waiver is granted on the authorization.

These construction limitations restrict the use of the materials and equipment listed, including materials to be incorporated in products where the materials are purchased through a fabricator or supplier by using the assigned allotment symbol or preference rating. They do not apply to:

The use of used materials except where specifically restricted.

The use by manufacturers of materials directly allocated to manufacturers for incorporation into "B" products (as defined in CMP Reg. 1).

The use of materials incorporated in "A" products of the kind required to be listed in section III of Form WPB–617 (manufacturing, processing or service equipment).

(c) Amendments to construction limitations. The construction limitations may be amended from time to time. A builder who has received an authorization on Form GA–1456, subject to Schedule A of CMP Regulation 6 (these construction limitations), may perform the authorized construction in accordance with any amendment to Schedule A issued after his authorization.

(d) Exceptions. If any exceptions to the restrictions are required, the exceptions must be stated and justified in the application for authority to acquire or construct facilities (WPB–617). Authorization will be made on Form GA–1456 or GA–1456A.

(e) Structural design. All construction using more than 5 tons of structural steel or more than 5 tons of reinforcing steel (including mesh) or any stress grade lumber shall be designed in accordance with the applicable provisions of the War Production Board Directive No. 3 "National Emergency Specifications for the Design, Fabrication and Erection of Structural Steel for Buildings" as amended, and/or Directive No. 9 "Design of Reinforced Concrete Buildings" as amended, and/or Directive No. 29 "Design, Fabrication and Erection of Stress Grade Lumber and its Fastenings for Buildings" as amended. If any waiver of the provisions of the above directives is required, the reasons for requesting such waiver must be stated in the application.

Issued this 23d day of May 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

SPECIAL PROCEDURE FOR GA 1456 AUTHORIZATION

(a) What this direction does. (1) GA 1456 is the form used in authorizing agricultural, commercial and industrial construction and all other kinds of construction except as indicated in paragraph (a) (2) below, and in giving priorities assistance needed in connection with the construction authorized. The form is also used in granting priorities assistance needed for construction work of the kind mentioned even though no authorization to do construction is needed. This direction tells how to buy controlled materials and other products and materials needed to carry on the construction work described in the form.

(2) This direction does not apply to a person doing construction work which has been authorized or rated on forms other than GA 1456. Other forms are used for housing (except farm houses, and hotels which use a GA 1456); for certain kinds of construction carried on by the Army and Navy; for water, gas, steam heating, electric power, telephone and telegraph facilities for use by the public; for petroleum facilities; and for certain other specialized kinds of construction which are provided for under blanket orders of the WPB or by special authorization forms. CMP Regulation No. 6 and other directions to that regulation tell how construction of the kinds mentioned in this sub-paragraph (a) (2) is handled under the Controlled Materials Plan.

(b) Applications and authorizations. An application for an authorization on Form GA-1456 should be made on Form WPB-617. An application to amend an authorization on Form GA-1456 should also be made on Form WPB-617. If the application is approved, Form GA-1456 will be issued assigning the allotment symbol F-6 and an appropriate preference rating which may be used to order all products, machinery, equipment, and material needed to complete the project, except as provided by the next paragraph.

(c) Limitation on the use of the allotment symbol and preference rating. The allotment symbol and preference rating assigned on Form GA-1456 may only be used to order materials and equipment needed to complete the project in accordance with the terms of the authorization. Furthermore, the symbol and rating may only be used to order those items of machinery and equipment of the kind that must be listed in Section III of Form WPB-617 which have been approved under the terms of the authorization on Form GA-1456. The applicant must construct in accordance with the construction limitations contained in Schedule A of CMP Regulation No. 6. The symbol and rating may not be used to purchase any material which the applicant is forbidden to use in construction by Schedule A of CMP Regulation No. 6. Certain exceptions to and special authorizations under the Schedule A may be obtained as explained in the next paragraph. If Schedule A is amended after the builder receives his GA-1456 authorization, he may construct according to either the amended schedule or the schedule in effect at the time his GA-1456 authorization was issued.

(c-1) Authorization of prohibited material and equipment. Schedule A of CMP Regulation No. 6 lists certain materials and equipment which may not be used in construction. If the applicant needs to use any of these materials or equipment in the construction covered by the application, he should ask for permission to use them, listing them separately as provided in the instructions on Application Form WPB-617. Appendix II of Schedule A lists certain types of equipment for which an additional special application must generally be made to the War Production Board in order to get it for a project. If the applicant needs to get any of this specially listed equipment for a project, and if Appendix II indicates that no special application form needs to be used, he may apply for permission to get this equipment on Form WPB-617, as directed by the instructions to that form. However, if Appendix II of the Construction Limitations indicates that a supplemental application must be filed to get the equipment, the applicant must file such supplemental application and must get his authorization under that application.

The War Production Board may authorize the applicant to get and use material and equipment on Schedule A, or equipment on Appendix II of Schedule A for which a special application is not required, by specific authorization on Form GA-1456. If it does so, the applicant may get and use the material or equipment without further special authorization, notwithstanding the provisions of any other order of the War Production Board which requires authorization on a special form or letter. In order that the supplier will know that a delivery of a prohibited material or of equipment listed in Appendix II of Schedule A is permitted under this direction, the person getting an authorization for the material or equipment on Form GA-1456 should add to the standard certification in Priorities Regulation No. 7 the following: "Delivery approved on Form GA-1456 under Direction 1 to CMP Regulation No. 6."

(d) How to order materials. (1) The allotment symbol may be used to order controlled materials and Class A products by:

(i) The applicant;

(ii) By manufacturers of Class A products or Class A components of Class A products to be incorporated in the project;

(iii) By contractors and sub-contractors doing all or any part of the construction work.

The applicant must not use the allotment symbol or give others the right to use it before he has received a GA 1456 authorization. A manufacturer, contractor or subcontractor must not use it, or give others the right to use it, unless he has received a statement in substantially the following form endorsed on the order or contract by the person placing it, signed manually or in the way explained in Priorities Regulation 7:

Serial Number ------ (identifying project). You are authorized to use the allotment symbol F-6 to order controlled materials and Class A products needed to fill this order or contract.

It is not necessary to show the quantities of controlled materials in this statement. Its use shall constitute a representation by the person signing it to the person with whom the order or contract is placed, and to the War Production Board, subject to the penalties of section 35A of the United States Criminal Code, that he has the right to authorize the person with whom the order or contract is placed to use the allotment symbol to fill the order or contract. The standard form described in Priorities Regulation 7 cannot be used instead of the above statement.

(2) The preference rating may be used to order all materials other than controlled materials. If an applicant, contractor or subcontractor orders a Class A product the certificate described in Priorities Regulation 7 must be used in addition to the statement set forth in paragraph (d) (1) above. If a contractor or sub-contractor needs a preference rating to buy materials the rating may be given him by use of the certificate set forth in Priorities Regulation 7. In using the rating to buy all products and materials other than controlled materials or Class A products the certificate in Priorities Regulation 7 must be used and the allotment symbol F-6 must be used along with the preference rating for purposes of identification.

(3) Each person using the allotment symbol or preference rating must maintain at his regular place of business, for a period of two years, records of the right to use the symbol or preference rating, records, kept by serial number identifying the project, of the amount of materials ordered with the allotment symbol or rating and records showing that the materials so ordered were used for the purpose for which the right to use the symbol or rating was granted.

(4) The use of the allotment symbol F-6 will not be limited to any particular month or quarter and, therefore, no quarterly identification need be shown when using it. Authorized controlled material orders must, however, show the month in which delivery is requested. The allotment symbol may not be used in placing authorized controlled material orders after the expiration date of the project but delivery after such date may be specified on orders placed before then.

(5) The allotment symbol and preference rating must not be used to order materials in greater quantities, or on earlier dates, than needed for the construction. It may be used not only to order materials needed for the construction but also to replace in inventory materials used for the construction. Attention is called to CMP Regulation No. 2 which places a restriction on inventories of controlled materials which must be complied with.

(6) A person who has the right under this direction to use an allotment symbol in ordering controlled materials must endorse the symbol on his order and the form of certification set out in CMP Regulation No. 7, signed manually or in the way explained in Priorities Regulation No. 7. An order so endorsed is an authorized controlled material order (1) if it is a "delivery order" as defined in paragraph (b) (9) of CMP Regulation No. 6, (ii) if it is in sufficient detail to permit entry on mill schedules and (iii) if, when placed with a controlled materials producer, it is received at such time in advance as is specified in Schedule III of CMP Regulation No. 1, or at such later time as the controlled materials producer may find it practicable to accept the same.

(e) This direction shall become effective on February 15, 1944.

Recording Secretary.

PART 3281—PULP AND PAPER

WASTE PAPER

§ 3281.86 Order M-377—(a) Purpose. The purpose of this order is to set up machinery by which the War Production Board may direct the delivery of waste paper at OPA ceiling prices to consumers who do not have enough for their essential needs.

(b) Applications for special directions. Any person who needs waste paper in the form of No. 1 mixed paper, No. 1 news, or old corrugated containers, for use in essential manufacturing or conversion operations and whose plant is in danger of shutting down because he does not have enough, may apply to the War Production Board for a special direction allocating waste paper to him. His application should be in duplicate addressed to the War Production Board, Ref: M-377, Washington 25, D. C., and should state facts showing:

(1) The brief description of important orders that will be delayed if the waste paper is not received.

(2) That the applicant has made all reasonable efforts to get waste paper at the ceiling price from all reasonably available sources, including those which may involve extra shipping costs.

(3) The applicant's present inventory of the grade or grades of waste paper for which he is requesting a special direction, expressed both in tons and days' consumption at the current rate of operation.

(4) That the quantity requested represents minimum needs to meet his authorized production schedules.

(c) Issuance of special directions. On receipt of an application the War Production Board may direct any supplier of waste paper in the forms mentioned above to make deliveries to the applicant at OPA ceiling prices and may direct the applicant to accept delivery from the supplier named. Such directions must be complied with, notwithstanding trade practices, customary markets for waste paper, or the terms of any contract or other commitment.

(d) Definition. For purposes of this order and directions issued under it, the terms "No. 1 mixed paper", "No. 1 news", and "old corrugated containers" have the same meaning as in Office of Price Administration Order No. MPR-30, as amended from time to time.

(e) Reports. Suppliers and consumers of waste paper must file such reports with the War Production Board as it may prescribe from time to time. The reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget under the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or of a direction issued under it, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(g) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable War Production Board regulations, as amended from time to time.

Issued this 23d day of May 1944.

Equitable Distribution

(e) Equitable distribution. It is the policy of the War Production Board that the cotton described in this order not required to fill rated orders shall be distributed equitably. In making such distribution due regard should be given to essential civilian needs, and there should be no discrimination in the acceptance or filling of orders as between persons who meet the seller's regularly established prices and terms of sale or payment. Under this policy every seller of such cotton, so far as practicable, should make available an equitable proportion of his merchandise to his customers periodically, without prejudice because of their size, location or relationship as affiliated outlets. It is not the intention to interfere with established channels and methods of distribution unless necessary to meet war or essential civilian needs. If voluntary observance of the policy outlined is inadequate to achieve equitable distribution, the War Production Board may issue specific directions to named concerns. A failure to comply with a specific direction shall be deemed a violation.

General Provisions

(f) Grading. The War Production Board may require any dealer to submit any lot of cotton for classification by the Appeal Board of Review Examiners of the United States Department of Agriculture, whose findings shall, for the purposes of this order, be final in establishing whether the cotton is reserved cotton.

A manufacturer may not produce any item to fill preferred orders under this paragraph until the preferred order is actually received by him.

(3) Such additional metal visible reference panels as can be produced out of 40% of the aggregate weight of iron and steel used by a manufacturer in the production of metal visible reference panels in the year ending June 30, 1941: Provided, That no new steel other than flat rolled sheets or strip less than twelve inches in width be used in such production.

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply for defense, for private account and for export of the materials entering into the manufacture of sterilizer equipment; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3296.91 General Limitation Order L–266—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Sterilizer equipment" means the following types of sterilizers, as each is hereinafter defined, and includes heating elements when such elements are an integral part of such sterilizers: Pressure sterilizers, bulk pressure sterilizers, pressure water sterilizers, non-pressure water sterilizers, non-pressure instrument sterilizers, non-pressure utensil sterilizers, baby bottle pasteurizers and sterilizers, bedpan steamers, boiling type bedpan sterilizers, laboratory pressure sterilizers, bedpan washers and field sterilizers. The term shall not include used or rebuilt sterilizer equipment, nor any parts or materials for the repair or maintenance of existing sterilizer equipment, nor shall it include any pressure cooker designed for processing foods.

(2) "Pressure sterilizer" means a sterilizer having a volumetric capacity of less than 40,000 cubic inches which is designed to utilize steam under pressure in order to free articles from living pathogenic microorganisms.

(3) "Bulk pressure sterilizer" means a sterilizer having a volumetric capacity of 40,000 cubic inches or more which is designed to utilize steam under pressure in order to free articles from living pathogenic microorganisms. It may or may not include attachments for fumigating purposes.

(4) "Pressure water sterilizer" means a sterilizer which is designed to heat water to a temperature higher than 212° F. in order to free it from living pathogenic microorganisms.

(5) "Non-pressure water sterilizer" means a sterilizer which is designed to free water from living pathogenic microorganisms by means of boiling.

(6) "Non-pressure instrument sterilizer" means a sterilizer which is designed to free surgical, medical and dental instruments and similar articles from living pathogenic microorganisms by subjecting them to a boiling liquid. The term shall not include any such sterilizer which contains metal in no part other than the heating element, lid and essential hardware.

(7) "Non-pressure utensil sterilizer" means a sterilizer which is designed to free hospital or medical utensils and similar articles from living pathogenic microorganisms by subjecting them to boiling water.

(8) "Baby bottle pasteurizer and sterilizer" means equipment designed to free baby bottles from living pathogenic microorganisms and to pasteurize baby milk formulas. The term shall not include any such equipment having a capacity of twelve bottles or less.

(9) "Bedpan steamer" means a sterilizer designed to free bedpans, urinals and similar articles from living pathogenic microorganisms by subjecting them to live steam.

(10) "Boiling type bedpan sterilizer" means a sterilizer designed to free bedpans, urinals and similar articles from living pathogenic microorganisms by subjecting them to boiling water.

(11) "Laboratory pressure sterilizer" means a sterilizer which is designed to free articles from living pathogenic microorganisms by utilizing steam under pressure and which is specially designed for use in a laboratory.

(12) "Bedpan washer" means apparatus designed to wash (and, in some cases, to sterilize) bedpans, urinals, and similar articles, and which may or may not be equipped with flushing mechanism.

(13) "Field sterilizer" means any sterilizer which is designed for use in the field and which is manufactured for delivery to or for the account of (i) the Army or Navy of the United States, or (ii) any agency of the United States Government for delivery to or for the account of the government of any country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled, "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(14) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in the manufacturing, fabricating or assembling of sterilizer equipment.

(15) "Distributor" means any person who purchases sterilizer equipment solely for the purpose of resale without further fabrication.

(b) Restrictions on the manufacture of sterilizer equipment. (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (b), no manufacturer shall manufacture or continue the manufacture of any sterilizer equipment other than the permitted sizes of the permitted types set forth in Schedule A attached to this order.

(2) Any sterilizer equipment which was in the process of fabrication on February 24, 1943, and which cannot be completely fabricated within the restrictions of Schedule A, attached to this order, may be further fabricated after said date only to the extent specifically authorized by the War Production Board. Any manufacturer requesting such specific authorization shall file a statement in duplicate with the War Production Board setting forth in detail the number of units of each type in process of fabrication on February 24, 1943, the extent of the fabrication, the amount of materials required to complete fabrication, the reasons why such units cannot be converted to the permitted types and sizes set forth in Schedule A, and any other facts supporting the request for specific authorization.

(c) Restrictions on the use of copper and copper base alloys in the manufacture of non-pressure instrument sterilizers. No manufacturer shall incorporate any copper or copper base alloy in the manufacture of any non-pressure instrument sterilizer (other than field sterilizers), except as follows:

(1) Brass castings (containing not more than 74% copper or 2% tin) may be used in any part;

(2) Copper or copper base alloy may be used in electrical circuits and draincocks;

(3) Copper base alloy sheet may be used in non-pressure instrument sterilizers which are 20 in. in length by 10 in. in width by 9 in. in depth or larger in size; and

(iv) Any person who has been authorized on Form GA–1456 to buy and accept delivery of the specific sterilizer equipment and whose purchase order bears the following certification (in addition to the certification in Priorities Regulation 7): "Delivery approved on Form GA–1456 under Direction 1 to CMP Regulation 6" (NOTE: Authorization on Form GA–1456 is issued for approved projects upon application on Form WPB–617.);

[Paragraphs (v) and (vi) formerly (iv) and (v) redesignated May 23, 1944]

(v) Any distributor (distributors may sell or deliver only to persons to whom sale or delivery is authorized to be made by this paragraph (d) (1).); or

(vi) Any other person who has filed Form WPB–1319 and has been specifically authorized on such form by the War Production Board to receive the specific sterilizer equipment and has furnished to his supplier one copy of such form signed in the name of the War Production Board. (3) The marking and informational requirements of section 6 (b) of RMPR 506. In addition to these requirements, the National Mitten Works, on all deliveries of the style numbers listed in paragraph (a), made pursuant to this order, on and after May 22, 1944, must place the letter "S" following the lot number or brand name stated on the label, ticket, or other device used to mark the gloves.

The National Mitten Works must also notify each such customer (other than a seller at retail) that he is required in turn to transmit to his customers a copy of the notice set forth below. The notice may be attached to the invoice or may be stamped or printed on the invoice.

This notice is sent to you as required by Order No. under section 4 (b) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 506 issued by the Office of Price Administration. It lists ceiling prices fixed by OPA for the work glove numbers enumerated in the table below, manufactured by the National Mitten Works.

262KP	2.22½	2.40	2.67½

You will note that the letter "S" follows the manufacturers' lot number or brand name. This letter indicates that these gloves have been especially priced by OPA under section 4 (b).

(e) This Order No. 1 under Revised Maximum Price Regulation 506 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time. The authorization granted the National Mitten Works by this order for style numbers 52K, 52X, and 26BTD shall expire on July 31, 1944.

(3) Definition of earned income. For the purposes of this subsection, "earned income" means wages, salaries, professional fees, and other amounts received as compensation for personal services actually rendered, but does not include that part of the compensation derived by the taxpayer for personal services rendered by him to a corporation which represents a distribution of earnings or profits rather than a reasonable allowance as compensation for the personal services actually rendered. In the case of a taxpayer engaged in a trade or business in which both personal services and capital are material income producing factors, under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, a reasonable allowance as compensation for the personal services rendered by the taxpayer, not in excess of 20 per centum of his share of the net profits of such trade or business, shall be considered as earned income.

(B) By inserting at the end thereof the following:

The entire amount received as professional fees may be treated as earned income if the taxpayer is engaged in a professional occupation, such as a doctor or a lawyer, even though he employs assistants to perform part or all of the services, provided the clients or patients are those of the taxpayer and look to the taxpayer as the person responsible for the services performed.

In the case of a taxpayer engaged in a trade or business in which both personal services and capital are material income-producing factors, a reasonable allowance as compensation for the personal services actually rendered by the taxpayer shall be considered earned income, but the total amount which shall be treated as the earned income of the taxpayer from such a trade or business shall, in no case, exceed 20 percent of his share of the net profits of such trade or business. No general rule can be prescribed defining the trades or businesses in which personal services and capital are material income-producing factors, but this question must be determined with respect to the facts of the individual cases.

PAR. 11. Section 29.142–1 is amended as follows:

(A) By inserting immediately preceding the period at the end of the heading "for taxable years beginning before January 1, 1944".

(B) By inserting immediately preceding "must make a return of income" in the first sentence thereof "for taxable years beginning before January 1, 1944,".

PAR. 12. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.185–1 the following:

SEC. 107. REPEAL OF EARNED INCOME CREDIT. (Revenue Act of 1943, Title I.)

(a) In general. Section 25 (a) (3) and (4) (relating to earned income credit for normal tax), and section 185 and section 47 (d) (relating to earned income) are repealed.

PAR. 13. The first sentence of § 29.185–1 is amended to read as follows:

For the purpose of computing the earned income credit for a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1944, against net income, a member of a partnership is entitled to treat a proper part of his distributive share of the partnership net income as earned income.

(Sec. 62, Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32; 26 U.S.C., 1940 ed., 62), and secs. 103, 104, 105, and 107, Revenue Act of 1943 (Pub. Law 235, 78th Cong.))

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1394—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[Rev. RO 11, Amdt. 8[1]]

FUEL OIL

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

[1] 9 F.R. 2357.

Section 1394.5654 (d), (e), (f), (g) and (h) is added as follows:

(d) Beginning June 1, 1944, a dealer or primary supplier may accept, for deposit, a consumer's coupon sheet only if he complies with all the following conditions:

(1) He must, at the time of the deposit, issue to the consumer a receipt for all coupon sheets then deposited by the consumer. The receipt must state:

(i) The name of the consumer and the address where the ration is to be used;

(ii) The date the coupon sheet was deposited;

(iii) The serial number and class of the coupon sheet; and

(iv) The total gallonage value of the coupons not yet detached from the coupon sheet at the time of the deposit and, if it is other than a Class 3 coupon sheet, the receipt must show separately the gallonage value of the definite value coupons, and as to the unit value coupons, either (a) the gallonage value, by validity periods, calculated at ten (10) gallons per unit or (b) the number of such coupons, by validity periods, and the number of units of each coupon.

(2) He must keep at his regular place of business a copy of the receipt issued to the consumer, or a record of the information given on the receipt.

(3) If, at the time of the deposit, the dealer or primary supplier has any coupon sheet previously deposited with him by the consumer, he must note on the copy of the receipt or on the record of the information given on the receipt, that he has such previously deposited coupon sheets, and the total gallonage value of the valid coupons not yet detached on that date. However, this notation need not be made if the coupon sheet being deposited represents an additional ration.

(4) He must keep with the copy of the receipt (or record of the information given on the receipt) the coupon sheet referred to in the receipt and either:

(i) A copy of each invoice, delivery ticket or other customary document of transfer evidencing each transfer of fuel oil to the consumer since the date of the deposit, or

(ii) A record of each transfer of fuel oil, by date and amount, made by him to the consumer specified on the coupon sheet, since the date of the deposit. However, if he regularly keeps a separate record for each consumer, showing the date and amount of each transfer of fuel oil to the consumer since the date of the deposit, and that record is readily available for examination at his regular place of business, he need not keep that record with the coupon sheet and copy of the receipt (or record of the information given on the receipt). If that separate record also contains the information set forth in the receipt issued to the consumer, he need not keep the consumer's coupon sheet with the copy of the receipt (or record of the information given on the receipt).

(5) He must write on the copy of the receipt or on the record of the information given on the receipt the date on which he returned to the consumer any coupon sheet referred to in the receipt, the total gallonage value of the coupons not yet detached from it at the time of its return and if it is other than a Class 3 coupon sheet, the gallonage value of the definite value coupons and, as to the unit value coupons, either (i) their gallonage value, calculated at ten (10) gallons per unit, or (ii) the number of such coupons and the number of units of each coupon. The requirements of this subparagraph (5) will be deemed satisfied if the information is set forth in his copy of the letter (or other document) which accompanied the coupon sheet when it was returned to the consumer and that copy is readily available for examination.

(6) (i) He must retain the copy of the receipt or record of the information given on the receipt at his place of business for a period of at least two (2) years from the date the receipt was issued.

(ii) He must retain at his place of business for a period of at least two (2) years from the date of the transfer the copies of the invoices, delivery tickets or other customary documents of transfer, specified in subparagraph (4) (i). This requirement will be deemed satisfied if he keeps the record specified in subparagraph (4) (ii) as required by § 1394.5782 (b).

(e) Any dealer or primary supplier who violates any of the provisions of this section may, by order issued pursuant to paragraph (f) or Revised Procedural Regulation No. 4, be directed to return any or all coupon sheets deposited with him to the consumers entitled to them and prohibited from accepting any or all coupon sheets for deposit.

(f) Any order under paragraph (e) shall be issued pursuant to the following procedure:

(1) Notice of the date, time, place, and purpose of the hearing and a specification of the violation charged shall be given to the dealer or primary supplier (here called the respondent) at least seven (7) days before the date set for the hearing.

(2) The hearing shall be conducted by a Special Hearing Officer who shall be either the District Director having jurisdiction over the area in which the respondent's regular place of business is located, or an officer or employee of the Office of Price Administration designated by the District Director as a Special Hearing Officer. The Special Hearing Officer shall administer oaths and affirmations and rule on the admission or exclusion of evidence. The hearing shall be conducted in a manner to permit all parties interested in the proceeding to present evidence and argument to the fullest extent compatible with a fair and expeditious determination of the issues raised in the hearing. To that end:

(i) The respondent shall have the right to be represented by counsel of his own choosing;

(ii) The rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law or equity shall not be controlling;

(iii) The Special Hearing Officer, having due regard to the need for expeditious decision, shall afford reasonable opportunity for cross-examining witnesses;

(iv) A stenographic report of all testimony shall be taken. The report need not be transcribed if the transcription is waived by the respondent. If the report is transcribed, a copy shall be available for inspection during business hours at the Office of the District Director.

(3) If the respondent admits the charges or fails to appear at the hearing, or if, after the hearing, the Special Hearing Officer finds that the respondent has violated any provisions of this section specified in the notice of hearing given under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, he may issue an order directing the respondent to return, by a specified date, any or all coupon sheets deposited with him to the consumers entitled to them, and prohibiting the respondent, for such period as the Special Hearing Officer shall specify, from accepting any or all coupon sheets for deposit. If the Special Hearing Officer finds that the violation charged in the notice of hearing has not been committed by the respondent, he shall issue an order dismissing the proceeding.

(g) If a respondent against whom an order has been issued after failure to appear at the hearing shows, within ten (10) days from the effective date of the order, good cause for his failure to appear, the Special Hearing Officer may set aside or stay such order and grant the respondent a full hearing on the charges made.

(h) A copy of the order shall be served promptly on the respondent personally or by mail directed to his regular place of business.

(i) The order shall be effective at the time it is personally served or, if served by mail, three (3) days after the date of mailing.

(j) (1) A respondent or the District Enforcement Attorney may appeal to the Chief Hearing Commissioner for the Region in which the District Office is located from any order issued by a Special Hearing Officer under paragraph (f) of this section other than an order entered on default. A respondent may appeal to a Chief Hearing Commissioner from an order denying a petition to reopen a defaulted proceeding.

(2) An appeal may be taken by a respondent by filing a statement of objections with the Special Hearing Officer, within fifteen (15) days of the effective date of the order. An appeal may be taken by the District Enforcement Attorney by serving a statement of objections upon the respondent, within fifteen (15) days of the effective date of the order, and by filing a copy of the statement, with proof of such service, with the District Director within five (5) days thereafter. Within three (3) days after the receipt of the statement, the Special Hearing Officer shall forward it, together with a copy of the notice instituting such proceedings, and a copy of the order to the Hearing Commissioner having jurisdiction over the area in which the hearing was conducted. Within five (5) days after the receipt of the statement, the Hearing Commissioner shall notify the respondent and the Regional Enforcement Executive in the region in which the hearing was conducted of the time and place set for the hearing. The appeal shall be heard and determined pursuant to Article IV of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 4, and amendments thereto.

(3) At any time after the respondent has filed a statement of objections with the Special Hearing Officer but prior to the commencement of the hearing before the Hearing Commissioner, the Special Hearing Officer may, for good cause shown upon application by the respondent, stay the operation of his order pending the hearing and determination of the appeal. The respondent's application must state whether he applied for the same relief to the Hearing Commissioner and if so what disposition was made of that application. No such stay shall be granted by the Special Hearing Officer if application for the same relief was made by respondent to the Hearing Commissioner.

(h) At any stage of a proceeding instituted under paragraph (f) of this section, the Hearing Commissioner having jurisdiction of the area in which the proceeding is pending may, by order served upon the parties interested, direct that the proceeding be consolidated with a proceeding pending before him for a suspension order against the respondent. The consolidated proceeding shall be governed by the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 4 (other than Article IV), and amendments thereto.

This amendment shall become effective on May 23, 1944.

NOTE: All reporting and record keeping requirements of this revised ration order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the provisions of the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

[MPR 355,[1] Incl. Amdts. 1–16]

RETAIL CEILING PRICES OF BEEF, VEAL, LAMB AND MUTTON CUTS AND ALL VARIETY MEATS AND EDIBLE BY-PRODUCTS[2]

This compilation of Maximum Price Regulation 355 includes Amendment 16, effective May 25, 1944. The text added or amended by Amendment 16 is underscored.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 355 has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[3]

[2] Title amended by Am. 5, 8 F. R. 7827, effective 6–21–43.

[3] Statements of considerations are also issued simultaneously with amendments. Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation. In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this maximum price regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable, and comply with the requirements of section 3 and the other requirements of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, and will effectuate the purposes of said act and Executive order.

Insofar as this regulation uses specifications and standards which were not, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected, or insofar as their use was not lawfully required by another Government agency, the Administrator has determined, with respect to such standardization, that no practicable alternative exists for securing effective price control with respect to the commodities subject to this regulation.

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation fixes dollars-and-cents ceiling prices on all retail sales of beef, veal, lamb and mutton cuts made on and after June 21, 1943, on all retail sales of variety meats and edible by-products made on and after June 21, 1943, and retail sales of dried beef (sliced) made on and after September 8, 1943. The only retail beef, veal, lamb and mutton cuts which may be sold are those described in section 20 of this regulation. The United States is divided into zones and different ceiling prices depend on the zone where your store is, its group, and the grade of meat you are selling. A store includes any place where beef, veal, lamb and mutton cuts or variety meats and edible by-products are sold at retail.

[Sec. 1 amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 4922, effective 4–14–43; Am. 5, 8 F.R. 7827, effective 6–21–43; and Am. 11, 8 F.R. 12811, effective 9–20–43 except with respect to dried beef (sliced) effective 9–8–43.]

SEC. 2. Your ceiling prices. (a) You will find your ceiling prices for each grade of beef, veal, lamb and mutton cuts on your "OPA List of Ceiling Prices for Beef, Veal, Lamb and Mutton—Fresh, Frozen or Cured" (Article III, section 22), and for variety meats and edible by-products on your "OPA List of Ceiling Prices for Variety Meats and Edible By-Products" (Article III, section 28), and for miscellaneous beef items on your "OPA List of Ceiling Prices for Miscellaneous Beef Items" (Article III, section 29). A copy of the list for each kind of meat, variety meats and edible by-products, and for miscellaneous beef items for your zone and group may be obtained from your district office of the Office of Price Administration.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 4922, effective 4–14–43; Am. 3, 8 F.R. 6426, effective 5–17–43; Am. 5, 8 F.R. 7827, effective 6–21–43; Am. 8, 8 F.R. 9366, effective 7–13–43; Am. 10, 8 F.R. 12237, effective 9–20–43; and Am. 12, 8 F.R. 14738, effective 10–28–43.]

(b) Your zone. You can determine from your local War Price and Rationing Board or your OPA office what zone your store is in. After each list of prices in section 22, Article III, there is a description of the zone in which that list of prices applies. The zones are the same for variety meats and edible by-products except that Zone 4a, which is described at the end of section 28, Article III, is taken out of Zone 4 and made into a separate zone.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Ams. 5 and 12.]

(c) Your group. Your store is in "Group 1 and 2" if its total "annual gross sales" are less than $250,000 and if it is not a "chain store". Otherwise it is in "Group 3 and 4". To determine your "annual gross sales" consult sections 13, 14 or 15. However, if any "Group 3 and 4" store had during 1941, a total gross margin of 19 percent or less on its meat department sales of all items including beef, veal, lamb, mutton, pork, poultry, sausage, variety meats and edible by-products, it is in "Group 3B and 4B". If the store was not in operation in 1942, then its total gross margin for the meat department on sales during 1942 shall be used, and if it is 19 percent or less it shall be in "Group 3B and 4B".

[Paragraph (c) amended by Ams. 5, 8, and 12.]

(d) Chain stores. Your store is a "chain store" if it is one of four or more stores under one or common ownership which had combined "annual gross sales" for all stores of $500,000 or more. To determine your "annual gross sales", consult section 13, 14 or 15.

[Paragraph (d) amended by Ams. 5, 8, 12, and 14, 9 F.R. 3462, effective 4–8–44.]

(e) The appropriate regional office of the Office of Price Administration and such other offices as may be authorized by the appropriate regional office may, upon a finding by the Regional Administrator that any price or prices established by this regulation for Zone 2, 3, 5 or 6 will increase the level of prices prevailing in a specific area within the region, issue an order designating such area, suspending the effectiveness of any price or prices herein established, and fixing a lower ceiling price or lower ceiling prices.

[Paragraph (e) added by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 6426, effective 5–14–43; amended by Am. 4, 8 F.R. 7199, effective 5–24–43; Am. 5, 8 F.R. 7827, effective 6–21–43; Am. 6, 8 F.R. 8185, effective 6–7–43; and Am. 12, 8 F.R. 14738, effective 10–28–43.]

(f) Effective May 25, 1944, this regulation requires that the year 1943 be used as the basis for figuring your "annual gross sales" instead of the year 1942. If you find that as a result of that change, your store is now in a group different from the one it was in before, you must, on and after June 15, 1944, use the ceiling prices fixed for the group in which you are now classified.

[Paragraph (f) added by Am. 16, effective 5–25–44]

SEC. 3. When the new ceiling prices take effect. (a) On June 21, 1943, (September 20, 1943, with respect to "Group 3B and 4B" stores), the dollar-and-cents ceiling prices fixed by this regulation take the place of all previous ceiling prices fixed by the Office of Price Administration upon retail sales of beef, veal, lamb, and mutton, variety meats and edible by-products. On and after June 21, 1943, you must not sell or offer to sell any variety meats or edible by-product other than those for which dollar and cents ceiling prices are fixed by this regulation and which are clean, sound and free from foreign material including blood clots, mucus, hair and wool.

(c) On September 8, 1943, the dollar-and-cents ceiling prices fixed by this regulation take the place of all previous ceiling prices fixed by the Office of Price Administration upon retail sales of miscellaneous beef items. On and after September 8, 1943, you must not sell or offer to sell any miscellaneous beef item other than those for which dollar-and-cents ceiling prices are fixed by this regulation.

[Sec. 3 amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 4922, effective 4–14–43; Am. 5, 8 F.R. 7827, effective 6–21–43; Am. 11, 8 F.R. 12811, effective 9–20–43; except with respect to dried beef (sliced), effective 9–8–43; and Am. 12, 8 F.R. 14738, effective 10–28–43.]

SEC. 4. What beef, veal, lamb or mutton cuts or variety meats and edible by-products you may sell. On and after June 21, 1943, the only beef, veal, lamb and mutton items you may sell or offer to sell are (a) those cuts, fresh, frozen, or cured, which are described and given dollar-and-cents ceiling prices under this regulation. (b) Those variety meats and edible by-products which are described and given dollar-and-cents ceiling prices under this regulation. (c) Sausage items which are given dollar-and-cents ceiling prices in Maximum Price Regulation No. 356[4] and (d) all other sausage and canned meat for which your ceiling prices are to remain as fixed under the General Maximum Price Regulation[5] or under Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 422[6] and 423[7]—Ceiling Prices for Certain Foods Sold at Retail.

[Sec. 4 amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 4922, effective 4–14–43; Am. 5, 8 F.R. 7827, effective 6–21–43; and Am. 11, 8 F.R. 12811, effective 9–20–43 except with respect to dried beef (sliced), effective 9–8–43.]

SEC. 5. Sales to eating places. Your ceiling prices for sales to hotels, restaurants, institutions, and other eating places selling or furnishing meals are the ceiling prices fixed by Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 169[8] for beef and veal, Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 238[9] for lamb and mutton, and by Maximum Price Regulation No. 398[10] for variety meats and edible by-products. Nevertheless, you may, during any month, use the ceiling prices fixed by this regulation in selling to eating places if 35 percent or more of your total dollar sales of meat during the previous calendar month were retail sales to consumers, that is, to persons who buy the meat to be eaten by themselves or their families off your premises.

[Sec. 5 amended by Am. 5, 8 F.R. 7827, effective 6–21–43; and Am. 11, 8 F.R. 12811, effective 9–20–43 except with respect to dried beef (sliced), effective 9–8–43.]

(b) Variety meats and edible by-products. You must not put either different types of variety meats or edible by-products, or variety meats or edible by-products coming from different kinds of animals together in your showcase.

[Sec. 6 amended by Am. 5, 8 F.R. 7827, effective 6–21–43; and Am. 9, 8 F.R. 11297, effective 7–15–43.]

SEC. 7. How you make retail cuts. Section 20 of this regulation describes the different cuts of beef, veal, lamb and mutton which you may sell, and how they are to be cut. If you buy a carcass, or side or quarter or combination cut of meat, you must first cut it into the standard OPA wholesale cuts described in section 23 before you make the retail cuts. If you buy live animals and have them slaughtered for you, you must first break the carcass into the standard wholesale cuts, and the person who slaughters for you must comply with the rules set for custom slaughterers by the wholesale beef and veal regulation, § 1364.401 (e).

You shall show the records to any representative of the Office of Price Administration upon request. If you have customarily given a customer a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase, you shall continue to do so. Furthermore, regardless of your previous custom, you shall, upon request by any customer, give a receipt showing the date, your name and address, the name, weight and grade of each cut, variety meat item or edible by-product sold and the price you received for it.

SEC. 11. Indirect price increases. (a) The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded directly or indirectly by you; and you shall not require the purchaser to buy at any price other food products as a condition of selling beef, veal, lamb or mutton cuts, or variety meats and edible by-products.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 5, 8 F.R. 7827, effective 6–21–43.]

(b) You must not charge, solicit or receive any consideration for or in connection with any service which has not been provided for in this regulation and for which a price has not been fixed.

ARTICLE II—SPECIAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 13 How you figure the "annual gross sales" of your store (for most stores). (a) To find your "annual gross sales" take your total sales for the calendar year 1943. Include all sales, whether of foods or not, as shown on your books, except sales made by a restaurant operated in conjunction with your store. You can use your federal income tax return to get your sales for all or any part of the calendar year 1943 which is covered by such return. If you own more than one store, figure the sales for each store separately, treating each as a separate retailer.

(b) If you were not in operation during the entire year 1943, you must divide your total gross sales from the time you began operation up to May 25, 1944, by the number of weeks you were in operation. This will give you your weekly average gross sales. Multiply this figure by 52, and take the result as your "annual gross sales".

[Sec. 13 amended by Am. 12, 8 F.R. 14738, effective 10–28–43; and Am. 16, effective 5–25–44.]

SEC. 14. How you figure the "annual gross sales" of your store (for certain special cases)—(a) Department stores. If you were operating a department store, that is, a store in which the greater volume of sales is general merchandise and not foods, and you sell foods in a separate department or departments, then you must find your group by using only the "annual gross sales" of your food department or departments.

(b) Stores in which more than one retailer operates. (1) If you sell foods in a retail store in which more than one retailer sells a complete line of the same general class of food, you will be treated as operating a separate retail store of your own, and you find your group by using your own separate "annual gross sales."

(2) If you sell food in a retail store in which there are other food retailers, but none of whom sells a complete line of the same general class of food, you must find your group by taking the combined "annual gross sales" of all the food retailers in that store.

[Sec. 14 amended by Am. 8, 8 F.R. 9366, effective 7–13–43; and Am. 12, 8 F.R. 14738, effective 10–28–43.]

SEC. 15. How to find your "annual gross sales" if you are a new retailer. If you open a retail store after May 25, 1944, which is not then a chain store, you must consider yourself a "Group 1 and 2" retailer and figure your ceiling prices accordingly. However, after you have been in operation for three months you must determine again what group your store is in. To do this, take your gross sales for the three month period and multiply by 4. If you own four or more stores which have been in operation for this three month period, you must take your gross sales for each of these stores for the three month period and multiply by 4. Use the result as your "annual gross sales" in order to find in what group your store or stores belong. If you then find that your store or stores no longer fall in "Group 1 and 2" but in "Group 3 and 4," you must take the ceiling prices for "Group 3 and 4" stores for the applicable zone or zones.

[Sec. 15 amended by Am. 8, 8 F.R. 9366, effective 7–13–43; and Am. 12, 8 F.R. 14738, effective 10–28–43; and Am. 16, effective 5–25–44]

SEC. 16. Transfers of business or stock in trade. If you acquire in any manner the business, assets or stock in trade of any store subject to this regulation after May 16, 1943, and you carry on the business or continue to deal in beef, veal, lamb or mutton cuts in a store, separate from any other store previously owned or operated by you, then your ceiling prices should be the same as those of the former owner as if no transfer had taken place; unless as a result of the transfer the business changes from one group of stores to another, in which case your ceiling prices shall be those fixed for the group to which the store belongs after the transfer. You must keep all records sufficient to verify your ceiling prices. The former owner shall either preserve and make available, or turn over, to you all records of transactions prior to your acquiring the store which are necessary to enable you to comply with the record provisions of this regulation.

[Sec. 16 amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 4922, effective 4–14–43; and Am. 8, 8 F.R. 9366, effective 7–13–43.]

SEC. 17. Retail sales taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to, a sale at retail of beef, veal, lamb, or mutton cuts covered by this regulation which is imposed by any statute of any State or subdivision thereof may be collected by you in addition to the ceiling price, if the statute does not prohibit you from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price.

SEC. 18. How certain stores in "Group 3 or 4" may, upon certain conditions, use "Group 1 and 2" ceiling prices. Any regional office of the Office of Price Administration, or such offices as may be authorized by order issued by the appropriate regional office, may act on all applications for adjustment under the provisions of this section of this regulation.

(a) If your store is in "Group 3 and 4", and does business in the manner outlined below, you may request permission under paragraph (b) to use the ceiling prices for "Group 1 and 2" stores:

(1) Most of your sales in your grocery department are made by sales clerks who assist customers in selecting, collecting, and wrapping merchandise; and

(2) Your store generally offers to all its customers the services of (i) taking orders over the telephone, and (ii) carrying monthly charge accounts, and (iii) providing delivery service; and

(3) The general level of your prices for meat and grocery products is as high or higher than that maintained for such products by "Group 1 and 2" stores in the same community and is generally higher than the level of prices charged for similar products by "Group 3 and 4" stores in your community; and

(4) The total gross margin on all sales in your store, if you are not a "chain" store, was more than 25% in your fiscal year 1941; or, if you are a "chain" store, the total gross margin on the combined sales of all the steres in your chain was more than 25% in your fiscal year 1941. If you were not in operation in 1941, your gross margain for the most recent fiscal year, or if you have not been doing business for a full fiscal year, for the most recent fiscal period, must be more than 25%.

(b) If your store does business in the way set forth above and you want to sell at the ceiling prices for "Group 1 and 2" stores, you must by June 24, 1944, file with your State or District OPA office a request to use such ceiling prices. This request must be filed on a form which you may get from such OPA office. If you have filed this form, you may, on the effective date of this regulation, use the ceiling prices of "Group 1 and 2" stores. However, OPA reserves the right to withdraw this permission, and, if you receive a notice to such effect you must from that time forward use the ceiling prices for stores in "Group 3 and 4".

If you have already filed the form for reclassification from "Group 3 and 4" to "Group 1 and 2" under Maximum Price Regulation No. 336 (Retail Ceiling Prices for Pork Cuts), you are not required to file another form under this regulation. If the Office of Price Administration has denied your request filed under Maximum Price Regulation No. 336 (Retail Ceiling Prices for Pork Cuts), you are not eligible for adjustment under this regulation.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 6214, effective 5–17–43 and Am. 16, effective 5–25–44]

(c) The total gross margin which a "Group 3 and 4" store must have had in order to sell at the prices for a "Group 1 and 2" store has been changed from 21% to 25%. If you store is a "Group 3 and 4" store and has been selling, under the preceding paragraph of this section, at the prices for "Group 1 and 2" stores, and if the total gross margin of the store for the period referred to in paragraph (a) (4) was less than 25%, you must, beginning July 3, 1943, sell at the "Group 3 and 4" prices. If the total gross margin of the store was 25% or more, you may continue to sell at the "Group 1 and 2" prices.

[Paragraph (c) added by Am. 7, 8 F.R. 8945, effective 7–3–43 and amended by Am. 8, 8 F.R. 9366, effective 7–13–43.]

[Sec. 18 amended by Am. 8, 8 F.R. 9366 effective 7–13–43 and as otherwise noted.]

(d) Any Regional Office of the OPA, or such offices as may be authorized by order issued by the appropriate regional office, may act on all applications for adjustment under the provisions of this section, and may deny any application filed under this section or revoke any order granting adjustment under this section if denial of such application would not cause the applicant a substantial financial hardship. Applications for adjustment are governed by Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

[Paragraph (d) added by Am. 15, 9 F.R. 4356, effective 4–26–44.]

(9) From standard wholesale foreshank—(i) Foreshank (bone in). Remove the knee bone. Cut the shank into pieces with the bone in.

(ii) Foreshank (boneless). The boneless shank meat refers to the boneless meat from the foreshank after all bone, gristle, cartilage and sinews have been removed. The boneless shank meat may be sold as stew meat or as ground beef.

(10) "Ground beef" (hamburger) or "ground beef patties" means ground, chopped or comminuted fresh lean muscle beef, including skirt, flank, shank, neck, plate, brisket, heel of round or lean beef trimmings, and must not contain more than 28% beef fat by chemical analysis. Head meat, glandular meats, blood, cartilage, gristle, bone, cereal of any kind, or any other ingredient except seasoning shall not be put into ground beef.

(b) Retail veal cuts—(1) "Hindsaddle and hindquarter" means the portion of the carcass and side, respectively, remaining after the severance of the 12th rib foresaddle or forequarter and comprising the legs or leg, and loin, double or single, including the 13th rib, flank and kidney, all in one piece, which portion shall be obtained by cutting the veal carcass or side between the 12th and 13th ribs, keeping the knife firmly against the 12th rib and following the curvature of the rib to the point where the 12th rib turns, from which point the cut shall be continued by following a line through the cartilage and meat at the flank in the same straight line at right angles to the chine bone, completing the cut. Tail or caudal vertebrae to be left on the hindsaddle or hindquarter are not to exceed 4 in number.

(2) Retail cuts from hindsaddle and hindquarter—(i) "Legs of veal whole" means the portion of the hindsaddle or hindquarter remaining after the severance of the loin from the hindsaddle or hindquarter, which portion shall be obtained by cutting squarely in a line at a right angle to the chine bone, starting at the juncture between the 5th and 6th lumbar vertebra and through a point flush against the anterior end or pin bone end of the pelvis, leaving all the hip bone in the leg. The pair of legs may be split through the center to make a single leg.

(ii) "Legs of veal", "shank half and rump half" means the whole leg, as described, which has been cut in half. They must be sold without removing any round steaks (cutlets).

(iii) "Rump of veal" (bone in and boneless) means the rump cut from the leg by placing the knife one inch from the knob at the aitchbone, continuing the cut close to the edge of the aitchbone and perpendicular to the outside or skin surface. This rump may be sold for a roast with the bone in. The rump also may be boned out and tied and sold as a boneless rump.

(iv) "Leg veal, rump off" means the part of the "leg veal whole" which remains after the rump is removed.

(v) "Round roast and round steak" (cutlet). The roast or steaks are cut from the "legs veal, rump off". This remaining portion, known as heel of round, may be used either as a boneless roast, boneless stew veal or ground veal. The heel shall not include the front muscle of the shin bone and must be entirely boneless.

(vi) "Hind shank". The remaining shank may be sold bone in or boned out for boneless stew or ground veal.

(vii) "Sirloin roast or steaks" means the entire hip of veal cut from the whole leg of veal; this may be sold as a roast or cut into steaks.

(viii) "Short loin roast (without kidney)" means that portion of the hindquarter or hindsaddle remaining after severance of the legs which portion shall be obtained by cutting squarely in a line at a right angle to the chine bone, starting at the juncture between the 5th and 6th lumbar vertebrae, and through a point flush against the anterior end or pin bone end of the pelvis, leaving all the hip bone in the leg. The double loin is split through the center of the chine bone to make a single loin. After the kidney is removed this may be sold as a roast.

(ix) "Loin veal chops (without kidney)" means chops cut from the loin, after removing 3 inches of the flank, removing the kidney, the fat not to be in excess of ½ inch on either side. Kidneys are to be sold with the kidney fat removed.

(3) "Foresaddle and forequarter" means the anterior portion of the carcass and side, respectively, remaining after the severance of the one-rib hindsaddle and hindquarter, which anterior portion shall be obtained by cutting the veal carcass or side between the 12th and 13th ribs, keeping the knife firmly against the curvature of the rib to the point where the 12th rib turns, from which point the cut shall be continued by following a line through the cartilage and meat of the flank in the same straight line at right angles to the chine bone, completing the cut.

(4) Retail cuts from foresaddle and forequarter—(i) Rib roast and rib chops. The rib roast or chops should not be over 6 inches in length on the outside from the back bone to the rib end of the roast or chop; this cut may be sold as rib roast or cut into chops.

(ii) "Arm roast and arm chops, blade roast and blade chops", means any chops cut from the cross cut shoulder. They shall not contain any part of the shank or neck.

(iii) "Shoulder square cut" (bone in and boneless), means the forequarter minus the rib, shank, breast, and neck. This may be sold bone in, or boned, rolled and tied with all bones removed.

(iv) "Neck and breast" (bone in and boneless), means the entire neck or breast of veal sold whole or in part in one piece or cut into small pieces. This cut may be sold boneless for stew or ground veal.

(v) "Fore shank" (bone in and boneless). To remove shank from forequarter start just above the large arm joint and cut parallel with the back bone. This may be sold bone in or boneless for stew or ground veal.

(5) "Ground veal or veal patties" means any part of veal boned and ground and sold in any form (patties, loaves, etc.). Head meat, glandular meats, blood, cartilage, gristle, bone, cereal of any kind, or any other ingredient except seasoning shall not be put into ground veal or veal patties.

(c) Retail-lamb and mutton cuts—(1) Legs, lamb and mutton: (Long cut) (halves) (short cut). "Legs" and "leg" mean a pair of legs and one leg, respectively. The legs are separated from the loin by cutting squarely in a line at a right angle to the chine bone, just exposing the end or point of the hip bone and leaving all the hip bone in the leg. The pair of legs may then be split through the center to make the single leg. These legs may be sold whole or halves, and short cut. Short cut legs mean the balance of the legs after the leg chops are removed. These chops may be cut from the hip bone to the aitch bone.

(2) Loins, lamb and mutton. (i) "Loin" and "half loin" means the double and single loin, respectively, and is the part of the hindsaddle which remains after the legs have been removed. The loin is separated from the hindsaddle by cutting squarely in a line at a right angle to the chine bone, just exposing the end or point of the hip bone, leaving none of the hip bone in the loin. The loin includes the 13th rib, also the flank, kidney and fat. The half loin is made by splitting the loin in half through the center at the chine bone.

(ii) "Loin chops" mean chops cut from the loin, after removing 3 inches of the flank, removing the kidney, and the back fat and suet not to be in excess of ½ inch on either side. Kidneys are to be sold with the kidney fat removed.

(3) Hotel rack, lamb and mutton. (i) "Hotel rack" may be either the double or single rib sections from the 5th to the 12th ribs, inclusive, minus the breast. It is made by cutting the foresaddle or forequarter, starting at a point on the 12th rib not more than 4 inches down from the point of the eye, cutting in a straight line to a point on the 5th rib which is not more than 4 inches from the hollow of the chine bone on the inside, in the lamb carcass, and not more than 4½ inches from the hollow of the chine bone on the inside in the mutton carcass. It is then separated from the yoke by cutting between the 4th and 5th ribs following the curvature of the ribs close to the 4th rib. It may be split through the center of the chine bone to make two single rib sections.

(ii) "Rib chops" are cut from the hotel rack by splitting between the ribs. All chops from the rack that contain any segments of shoulder-blade bone or cartilage are to be sold as shoulder lamb chops. Rib roasts may be sold by selling the rack whole or in part, double or single rib sections.

(4) Yoke; lamb and mutton. "Yoke" means the foresaddle minus the hotel rack. It consists of the neck, brisket, breast, shanks, and shoulders. The half yoke is made by splitting the yoke in half through the chine bone and neck bone.

(i) "Triangle bone-in" means the entire yoke sold as one piece of meat.

(ii) "Triangle boneless" means the entire yoke, boned, rolled and tied with all bones removed, rolled into a cylindrical shape and tied.

(iii) "Cross cut shoulder bone-in" means the triangle or yoke minus the breast. It includes neck, shoulder, shank, and brisket.

(v) "Square cut shoulder, bone-in" means the cross cut shoulder minus the full shank, brisket and the full neck.

(vi) "Breast, shank, neck, bone-in" means all or any part of the breast, shank or neck, sold in one piece or cut into small pieces.

(5) (i) "Ground lamb or lamb patties" means any part of lamb boned and ground and sold in any form (patties, loaves, etc.). Head meat, glandular meats, blood, cartilage, gristle, bone, cereal of any kind, or any other ingredient except seasoning shall not be put into ground lamb or lamb patties.

(ii) "Ground mutton or mutton patties" means any part of mutton boned and ground and sold in any form (patties, loaves, etc.). Head meat, glandular meats, blood, cartilage, gristle, bone, cereal of any kind, or any other ingredient except seasoning shall not be put into ground mutton or mutton patties.

SEC. 23. Appendix A: OPA standard beef wholesale cuts. You must cut the beef carcasses, quarters or other wholesale cuts into the following cuts before you make the standard retail cuts (see the skeletal chart for bone names):

(i) "Hindquarter" means the posterior portion of the side remaining after the severance of the 12-rib forequarter from the side, and comprising the round, full loin including the 13th rib, flank, kidney and hanging tender all in one piece, which posterior portion shall be obtained by cutting the beef side between the 12th and 13th ribs keeping the knife firmly against the 12th rib while cutting down the length of the rib to the point at the end of the rib where the rib joins the rib (costal) cartilage, from which point passing through the cartilage and meat of the flank and short plate in the same straight line, completing the cut.

(ii) "Forequarter" means the anterior portion of the side remaining after the severance of the 1-rib hindquarter from the side, and comprising the rib, regular chuck, brisket, short plate and foreshank all in one piece, which anterior portion contains the 1st to the 12th rib, inclusive. All heart (mediastinal) fat, but no other fat, shall be removed from the forequarter. The skirt (diaphragm) shall not be removed from any cut or part of the forequarter to which it is attached.

(iii) "Round" means the portion of the hindquarter remaining after the severance of the untrimmed full loin, and flank from the hindquarter, which portion shall be obtained as follows: the untrimmed full loin and flank shall be severed from the hindquarter by cutting in a straight line perpendicular to the contour of the outside or skin surface of the hindquarter. The cut shall be made on a straight line formed by and starting from that point on the backbone which is the juncture of the last (5th) sacral vertebra and the first (1st) tail (caudal) vertebra, and passing through that point which just misses the end of the protuberance of the femur bone, and exposes the ball of the femur bone, continuing in the same straight line beyond the second point to complete the cut. Two tail vertebrae shall be left on the round. Attached to the tail bone of the round shall be the tip or rear corner of the fifth sacral vertebra. All cod, udder and pelvic fat remaining on the round after its severance from the full loin and flank shall remain on the round.

(iv) "Trimmed full loin" means the portion of the hindquarter remaining after the severance of the round, flank, hanging tender (from the open side), kidney knob and excess loin (lumbar) and pelvic (sacral) fat from the inside of the loin, from the hindquarter, and comprising the short loin and sirloin

(loin end) in one piece, the back bone of which portion shall include one and one-half (1½) thoracic vertebrae, six (6) lumbar vertebrae, and five (5) sacral vertebrae (the tip or rear corner of the fifth sacral vertebra shall have been sawed off in severing the round from the full loin and flank), and which portion shall be obtained as follows: Part of the kidney knob, all of the kidney and the fat lying closely around the kidney in open (left) and closed (right) sides shall be removed first by a cut starting at the rear end of the kidney and slanting directly to the front edge of the half of the 12th thoracic vertebra at the point of severance of the hindquarter and forequarter.

Second, the hanging tender, which means the cylindrical shaped piece of lean meat attached at one end under the kidney knob in open (left) side hindquarters shall be removed entirely from open side loins by being severed at a point opposite the juncture of the 1st and 2nd lumbar vertebrae.

Third, after the severance of the round from the hindquarter, the flank shall be severed from the full loin by a cut starting at the heavy end of the full loin at the ventral point of severance of the round from the hindquarter and continuing in a straight line to a fixed point on the inside of the 13th rib determined by measuring off ten inches in a straight line from the center of the protruding edge of the 13th thoracic vertebra, but in making the cut no more than one (1) inch of cod or udder fat shall be left on the flank side of the face of the loin.

Fourth, the excess loin (lumbar) and pelvic (sacral) fat shall be trimmed from the inside of the full loin by placing the full loin upon a flat surface, with no other support to change its position, meat side down, and removing all fat which extends above a flat plane parallel with the flat surface supporting the full loin and on a level with the full length of the protruding edge of the lumbar section of the chine bone. Then all fat shall be removed which extends above a flat plane using the following two lines as guides for each edge of the plane: an imaginary line parallel with the full length of the protruding edge of the lumbar section of the chine bone which line extends 1 inch directly above such protruding edge; a line on the inside of the loin two inches from the flank edge and running parallel with such edge for the full length of the loin. All fat obstructing the measurement of the second line shall first be removed. In addition to the foregoing all rough fat in the pelvic cavity of the heavy end of the loin (sirloin) shall be trimmed smooth and trimming by a knife shall be apparent. No fat remaining in the pelvic cavity shall exceed one inch in depth.

(v) "Flank" means the portion of the hindquarter remaining after the severance of the round and untrimmed full loin from the hindquarter, which shall be obtained after the removal of the round by separation from the untrimmed full loin, starting the cut at the point at the lower end of the loin end (sirloin) which was the ventral point of separation of the full loin and round, leaving no more than one inch of cod or udder fat attached to the flank side of the face of the full loin, and continuing in a straight line to a fixed point on the inside of the 13th rib determined by measuring off ten inches in a straight line along the 13th rib from the center of the protruding edge of the 13th thoracic vertebra.

(NOTE: The 10-inch measurement shall be made from the center of the protruding edge of the 13th thoracic vertebra and not from the hollow of the chine bone where the 13th rib joins the 13th thoracic vertebra.)

(vi) "Flank steak" means the flat, oval-shaped lean muscle of meat imbedded in the cod or udder end of the flank which shall be obtained by loosening the narrow end of the steak piece at the cod or udder end of the flank, cutting through the membrane along both sides of the steak, then pulling and cutting the steak loose and severing it from the thick membrane which lies directly under and to which it is attached. None of the thick membrane shall be left on the steak. All fat shall be trimmed from the steak, but the thin membrane on the top surface of the steak shall not be removed.

(vii) "Short loin" means that portion of the trimmed full loin remaining after the severance of the sirloin (loin end) from the trimmed full loin, which portion shall be obtained by a cut perpendicular to the contour of the outside or skin surface of the trimmed full loin begun at a point which is the juncture on the chine bone of the 5th and 6th lumbar vertebrae and continuing in a straight line perpendicular to the contour of the outside or skin surface of the trimmed full loin to and through a point flush against the end of the hip (pin) bone, but leaving no part of the hip (pin) bone in the short loin. The backbone of the short loin shall include five (5) lumbar vertebrae, one and one-half (1½) thoracic vertebrae and part of the 13th rib.

(viii) "Sirloin" (loin end) means the thick portion of the trimmed full loin remaining after the severance of the short loin from the trimmed full loin. The backbone of the sirloin shall include one (1) lumbar vertebra, five (5) sacral vertebrae (the tip or rear corner of the fifth (5th) sacral vertebra shall have been sawed off in separating the round from the trimmed full loin and flank), and the entire hip bone (ilium).

(ix) "Regular chuck" means the portion of the cross cut chuck remaining after the severance of the foreshank and brisket from the cross cut chuck, and containing most of the blade bone (scapula), part of the (humerus) arm bone, parts of the five ribs (1st to 5th, inclusive), that section of the back bone attached to the ribs, and the neck bone (cervical vertebrae from 1 to 7, inclusive), that section of the back bone at a cut through the cross cut chuck made in a straight line perpendicular to the contour of the outside or skin surface of the cross cut chuck (thereby separating the brisket and foreshank from the cross cut chuck) starting at a fixed point on the inside of the 5th rib determined by measuring off ten (10) inches along the 5th rib in a straight line from the center of the protruding edge of the 5th thoracic vertebra, continuing in the same straight line to the tip of the forward end of the breast bone (forward end of the 1st segment of sternum), and passing through the (humerus) arm bone in the same straight line to complete the cut.

(NOTE: The 10-inch measurement shall be made from the center of the protruding edge of the 5th thoracic vertebra and not from the hollow of the chine bone where the 5th rib joins the 5th thoracic vertebra.)

(x) "Foreshank" means the portion of the cross cut chuck remaining after the severance of the regular chuck and brisket from the cross cut chuck, which portion shall be obtained (after separation of the regular chuck) by separation from the brisket by a cut following the natural seam and leaving the entire lip, or web muscle, on the brisket.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 2 is amended in the following respects:

1. A new section 14 (c) is added to read as follows:

(c) Sales of butt ends, sheet ends and similar aluminum scrap materials to certain purchasers. Butt ends, sheet ends and similar aluminum scrap materials which are suitable for further use without remelting may, on sale to a purchaser buying for such use, be sold and delivered at a price to be approved by the Office of Price Administration.

The seller shall determine the net price at which he expects to sell his commodity and shall file such net price with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within 15 days after the first sale or delivery of the commodity that is made on or after May 29, 1944.

Pending action by the Office of Price Administration on prices submitted for approval under this paragraph, any such seller may sell or deliver butt ends, sheet ends or similar aluminum scrap materials at the price submitted for approval. If, however, the price submitted is disapproved the selling price shall be revised downward to the maximum price which shall be approved and any payment made in excess of the price so approved may be required to be refunded to the buyer within fifteen days after the date of the order establishing such revised price: Provided, That the price submitted by the seller for approval shall be deemed to be approved unless the Office of Price Administration specifically disapproves such price and establishes an approved price within fifteen days from the date on which the price submitted is received by the Office of Price Administration, or if further information is requested from the seller within such fifteen-day period, then within fifteen days from the date on which all such information is received by the Office of Price Administration. A price once approved shall thereafter be subject to adjustment (not to apply retroactively) by order issued by the Administrator.

When filing such a price with the Office of Price Administration, the seller shall set forth, in addition to the net price, the name of the buyer, the quantity sold, the terms of sale and differentials for all classes of buyers, a statement showing how the proposed price was determined, and a description of the use for which the commodity is to be sold.

Except as a higher price may be established pursuant to this paragraph, the maximum price for butt ends, sheet ends and similar aluminum scrap materials which are suitable for further use without remelting shall be the maximum price determined under paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section 14.

This paragraph (c) shall not be applicable to any sale or delivery to a consumer of aluminum scrap as defined in section 13 (a) (4).

This amendment shall become effective May 29, 1944.

"New container type or size" means a container type or size for which no maximum price is named.

For each such item, the processor shall:

(a) Determine the base container. If the processor sold the same product (that is, the same kind, variety, grade, brand and style of pack) prior to the effective date of this regulation, but only in other container types or sizes, he shall first determine the most similar container type for which he is able to figure a maximum price for that product under this regulation without using the pricing method of this section (even though he no longer sells that container type). From that container type he shall choose the nearest size which is 50% or less larger than the new size, or if there is no such size, 50% or less smaller (even though he no longer sells those sizes). This will be the base container. If there is no such smaller size, he shall go to the next most similar container type and proceed in the same manner to determine the base container.

4. Section 2.5 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 2.5 Sales between processors for purpose of fulfilling government set-aside requirements of War Food Order 22. The processor's maximum price per dozen containers, f. o. b. factory, for any item of packed citrus products of the 1944 and later packs, in sales to another processor of those products, which are to be used by the purchaser in making sales to government procurement agencies under the set-aside requirements of War Food Order 22 shall be the maximum price set forth in sections 2.1, 2.2, 2.3 and 2.4 for sales of the item to government procurement agencies.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

PART 1364—FRESH, CURED AND CANNED MEAT AND FISH PRODUCTS

RETAIL CEILING PRICES FOR PORK CUTS AND CERTAIN SAUSAGE PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 336 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 2 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) Your store is a chain store if it is one of 4 or more stores owned by one person which have combined annual gross sales of $500,000 or more.

2. Section 2 (e) is added to read as follows:

(e) Consult the directions given in sections 11, 12 and 13 to find your annual gross sales.

Effective May 25, 1944, this regulation requires that the year 1943 be used as the basis for figuring your annual gross sales instead of the year 1942. If you find that as a result of that change, your store is now in a group different from the one it was in before, you must, on and after June 15, 1944, use the ceiling prices fixed for the group in which you are now classified.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

3. Section 11 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 11. How you figure the annual gross sales of your store in most cases. (a) To find your annual gross sales, take your gross sales for the calendar year 1943. Include all sales, whether of foods or not, as shown on your books, except sales made by a restaurant operated in conjunction with your store. A Federal Income Tax Return will be accepted as good evidence of your gross sales for all or any part of the calendar year 1943 which is covered by such return. If you own more than one store, figure the sales for each store separately, treating it as a separate retailer.

(b) If you were not in operation during the entire year 1943, you must divide your total gross sales from the time you began operation up to May 25, 1944, by the number of weeks you were in operation. This will give you your weekly average gross sales. Multiply this figure by 52 and take the result as your annual gross sales.

4. The first sentence in section 13 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 13. How to find your annual gross sales if you are a new retailer. If you open a retail store after May 25, 1944, which is not then a chain store, you must consider yourself a "Group 1 and 2" retailer and figure your ceiling prices accordingly.

5. The first sentence in section 16 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) If your store does business in the way set forth above and you want to sell at the ceiling prices for "Group 1 and 2" stores you must by June 24, 1944, file with your District OPA Office a request to use such ceiling prices.

6. The product name headings of items 18B, 18C and 18D in the price tables in section 19 for both Group 1 and 2 and Group 3 and 4 stores are amended to read as follows:

18B. Pork loins, rib half or end or chops:
18C. Pork loins, loin half or end or chops:
18D. Pork loins, center cut (piece or chops):

7. Items 27A and 27B in the price tables in section 19 for both Group 1 and 2 and Group 3 and 4 stores are amended by deleting therefrom subitem 5.

8. Item 29 in the price table in section 19 for Group 1 and 2 stores is redesignated item 30 and item 25 in the price table in section 19 for Group 3 and 4 stores is redesignated item 30.

9. New items 29A and 29B in the price table in section 19 for Group 1 and 2 stores are added to read as follows:

10. New items 29A and 29B in the price table in section 19 for Group 3 and 4 stores are added to read as follows:

PART 1384—HARDWOOD LUMBER PRODUCTS

SOUTHERN ROTARY CUT BOX GRADE VENEER

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 176 is amended in the following respect:

A new § 1384.14 is added to read as follows:

Average hours worked per week:	Additions per M'BM
48 to 53 hours	$1.75
54 to 59 hours	2.50
60 hours or more	3.25

(b) When addition begins. Before making any overtime addition or increasing the amount of any previous overtime addition, a manufacturer must actually receive specific authorization, which may be granted by order. This authorization may not be made until the report called for by paragraph (f), supporting the requested addition, has been received by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) When addition ends. An overtime addition is automatically revoked or reduced when the average number of hours worked per week falls below those specified, whether any specific notice to that effect is received from the Office of Price Administration or not. Moreover, an authorization is automatically revoked by failure to report the information required in paragraph (f) within the time specified.

(d) To what sales addition applies. The overtime addition may be made only during the month following the month in which the overtime hours were worked. The footage on which the addition may be applied may not be greater than the footage actually produced in the month during which the sales are being made or the month in which the overtime hours were worked whichever is the smaller production. For example, suppose that the average hours worked in April were 48 and the production was 400,000 feet; and suppose that only 300,000 feet were produced during May, the overtime addition of $1.75 could then be applied only to 300,000 feet.

(e) How to figure average hours per week. The average hours worked per week must be figured by dividing the man hours worked during the month by the number of workers on the pay roll paid by the piece or by the hour during the month. The resulting figure must be divided by the number of weeks, including fractions of weeks, in the month. In determining the number of workers and man hours to be used, all employees engaged in production of box grade veneer must be considered. If loggers for the box grade veneer operation are carried on the plant pay roll, they may or may not be included, at the option of the manufacturer.

(f) Monthly report. The following report must be made before any overtime addition can be authorized, and must also be made before the 15th of each month by any manufacturer who has received an authorization:

(1) Number of workers employed at hourly rates or piece rates on the plant pay roll during the preceding calendar month.

(2) Number of man hours worked during the preceding month by these workers.

(3) Production (in MBM) of box grade veneer and any other kind of veneer during the preceding month, showing box grade production separately.

(4) (After the first month's report) Sales (MBM) of box grade veneer on which an overtime addition has been made during the preceding month.

(5) This report should be addressed to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. The report of any manufacturer already authorized must be filed by the 15th of each month. The date of the postmark or time of sending of the telegram shall be considered the time of filing of these reports.

This amendment shall become effective May 29, 1944.

[RO 5C,[1] Amdt. 126]

MILEAGE RATIONING: GASOLINE REGULATIONS

A rational accompanying this amendment issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order 5C is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1394.7851 (b) (2) (x) is added to read as follows:

(x) To transport any person to and from an agricultural or food processing establishment for the purpose of performing manual labor on a temporary basis which is necessary to the operation of such establishment. The issuance of any ration under this subdivision shall be subject to the following conditions:

(a) Travel must be necessary as a part of an organized government plan to facilitate food production.

(b) No Board may issue a ration unless it has been designated by the District Director to receive applications and issue rations in accordance with such government plans. The District Director shall designate an appropriate Board to issue such rations only where he finds that a government plan to facilitate food production has been organized for a particular area and that the temporary labor of persons, who are not normally or regularly engaged in the production or processing of food, is required for the success of the plan.

(c) No ration may be issued to a person for use while engaged in sales, promotional or merchandising activities.

(d) No ration may be issued unless the applicant will carry four persons including the driver or as many persons as the capacity of the vehicle will permit.

(e) No ration may be issued unless the County Agricultural Agent or his farm-labor assistant recommends to the Board:

(1) That the work is essential;

(2) That the applicant and the persons who are to ride with him are capable of performing the particular job;

(3) The amount of mileage required by the applicant to travel to perform the work.

2. Section 1394.7851 (c) (4) is amended to read:

PART 1395—NONFERROUS FOUNDRY PRODUCTS

[RMPR 125,[1] Amdt. 5]

NONFERROUS CASTINGS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

1. Section 1395.3 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Second, reduce the base price in accordance with the following provisions of this paragraph. The base price to be reduced is the base price established before February 1, 1943; the reductions provided below are to be in place of (not in addition to) the reduction formerly required by this paragraph before the February 1, 1944 amendment of the paragraph.

Example: In the case of an 88-10-2 casting a reduction of only 1¢ per pound is now required. If the base price before February 1, 1943 was 41¢ per pound, the price, before the February 1, 1944 amendment, was reduced by this paragraph to 39½¢. The reduction now required is not subtracted from the 39½¢ but from the original 41¢, making a present price of 40¢.

(1) Amount of reduction. The amount of the reduction, except as provided by the further subdivisions of this paragraph (b), shall be as follows:

(i) If the specification calls for copper or copper base alloy for the casting, the reduction shall be in the amount stated below. Specifications are indicated by OPA group and alloy numbers as used in § 1309.165 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 202. If the specification of the casting to be priced is not listed, the price of such casting is to be reduced in the amount indicated for a casting which is of the most similar specification listed.

	Reduction in cents per pound
(a) 97% or more copper	(2)
(b) 85-5-5-5 group (OPA Nos. 100-132, inclusive)	(2)
(c) 80-10-10 group (OPA Nos. 295-326, inclusive)	(2)
(d) 88-10-2 group (OPA Nos. 193-256, inclusive)	1
(e) Yellow brass group (OPA Nos. 400-409, inclusive	1¼
(f) Silicon bronze group (OPA No. 500)	1
(g) All other copper base alloys	1½
(ii) If aluminum or aluminum base alloy is specified for the casting, the reduction shall be	3
(iii) If magnesium or magnesium base alloy is specified for the casting, the reduction shall be	3

[2] No reduction.

(2) Specification is the test. In figuring the reduction under subparagraph (1), the test is the metal specification for the casting to be priced. The test is not the individual metal or metals (alloy, virgin or scrap) used in making up the specification.

Example: If the specification calls for 88-10-2 the reduction of 1¢ per pound is required even though the foundry uses virgin copper in part in making the casting to the 88-10-2 specification.

The test is the specification of metal at the time of the pricing involved and not at the time the casting was made for the first time or at any other time in the past.

(3) Previous reduction and showing. (i) If the base price already reflects reductions made because of reductions in the maximum prices of metals or alloys between September 30, 1941 and February 1, 1943, and full showing of the earlier reductions is first made (before collecting of the price) or has been made to the Office of Price Administration at Washington, D. C., the reductions under this paragraph need only be made to the extent that the previous reductions are less than the amounts required. A showing may be made by letter or the Office of Price Administration may provide a form for the purpose. Unless and until a showing is disapproved, the reductions need only be made to the extent that the previous reductions shown are less than the amounts required. However, if the showing is disapproved, refund must be made to the extent that the showing is disapproved, within ten days after the disapproval.

(ii) Where prior reduction has been made in the price of any 85-5-5-5 or 80-10-10 casting as provided above and proper showing has been made to the Office of Price Administration, the base price of such casting may now be increased by whichever of the following is lower: (a) the amount of the reduction, or (b) 1 cent per pound in the case of an 85-5-5-5 casting and 1¼ cents per pound in the case of an 80-10-10 casting.

(4) "Toll" transactions. In the case of a "toll," "conversion" or "service" agreement, in which the metal or part of the metal for the castings is required to be sold or otherwise furnished to the seller of the castings by the buyer or by any person on the buyer's behalf, the reductions under this paragraph need only be made to the extent of metal furnished by the seller.

(5) Limitations as to sellers who received individual price adjustments prior to February 1, 1944. A seller who received an individual price adjustment order, issued by the Office of Price Administration under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 125 after February 1, 1943 and before February 1, 1944, is not permitted to use the modified reductions provided in paragraph (b) (1) for copper and copper base alloy castings until his adjustment order has expired or been revoked. Such a seller, except as he may be relieved of the requirement by his adjustment order, must continue to give effect to the 1½ cents reduction when figuring his maximum prices for copper and copper base alloy castings under § 1395.3. He may, however, make the additions permitted by § 1395.4a below.

2. Section 1395.4 (b) (4) is added to read as follows:

(4) If the specification calls for production of a casting of one of the alloys listed below, the price, if it was first determined by formula prior to April 1, 1944, may be increased in accordance with the provisions of this subparagraph. This is to be a flat increase per pound and not an increase to be made by reformulating the price and inserting the additional amount in metal price. This increase shall be in the amount stated opposite the specifications indicated by OPA group and alloy numbers.

	Increase in cents per pound
(a) 85-5-5-5 group (OPA Nos. 100-132, inclusive)	1
(b) 80-10-10 group (OPA Nos. 295-326, inclusive)	1¼

NOTE: For the meaning of specification see § 1395.3 (b) above.

3. Section 1395.4a is added to read as follows:

§ 1395.4a Sellers having special adjustment orders. A seller who received an individual price adjustment order, issued by the Office of Price Administration under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 125 after February 1, 1943 and before February 1, 1944, may add to the maximum prices of any casting of 85-5-5-5 or 80-10-10 specifications increases in the same amounts as are provided in § 1395.4 (b) (4) above. (These increases are not in addition to those which might be allowed in some cases by § 1395.4 (b) (4).)

This amendment shall become effective May 24, 1944. This amendment supersedes Amendment 3, which became effective February 1, 1944.

PART 1426—WOOD PRESERVATION AND PRIMARY FOREST PRODUCTS

[MPR 536]

WESTERN FENCE POSTS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[*] Such specifications and standards as are used in this regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the industry affected and were required by other Government agencies.

§ 1426.253 Maximum prices for Western fence posts. Under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and by Executive Orders No. 9250 and 9328, Maximum Price Regulation No. 536 (Western Fence Posts), which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued.

ARTICLE I—SCOPE OF THE REGULATION

SECTION 1. Sales of Western fence posts at over-ceiling prices prohibited. (a) On and after May 29, 1944, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver, and no person shall buy or receive, any Western fence posts or split products covered by this regulation at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer, or attempt to do any of these things.

(b) Prices lower than the maximum prices may, of course, be charged and paid.

[*] Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 2. Purpose and coverage of this regulation. (a) This regulation establishes specific maximum prices for all sales of Western fence posts of the species listed in paragraph (c) below when produced in the limited area specified in that paragraph for each "species" and in the headings to the tables in section 4. Species not listed, and species listed in paragraph (c) but produced in any other part of the general territory covered by this regulation, remain subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation[1] except on sales by retail yards which are covered in section 3.

(b) Territory. "Western" territory covered by this regulation is defined as follows: Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming; Cimarron, Texas and Beaver Counties, Oklahoma; and that part of Texas within or west of Lipscomb, Hemphill, Wheeler, Collingsworth, Childress, Cottle, King, Stonewall, Fisher, Nolan, Coke, Tom Green, Schleicher, Sutton, Edwards, Kinney, and Maverick Counties.

(c) Species. (1) Western Red Cedar (Thuja plicata) produced in Idaho, Montana, Oregon, and Washington.

(2) Redwood (Sequoia Sempervirens) produced in California.

(d) The term "fence posts" as used in this regulation includes fence posts and stakes, round or split, peeled or unpeeled, untreated or treated. Material may be sold under this regulation as a "fence post" only if it is not greater than eight inches in diameter nor longer than 14 feet and for actual end use as support for fencing or related agricultural uses. "Diameter" refers to the diameter measured under the bark.

(e) All posts priced in this regulation must be of sound live timber free of decay, splits, large or numerous knots or knot holes, etc., that would impair strength or durability, except other grades specifically priced in the tables of section 4.

SEC. 3. How to figure maximum prices. (a) The maximum prices for posts of the listed species for all sales except sales to industrial users, sales by distributors to retailers, and sales out of retail yards, are shown in the tables in section 4.

(b) Maximum prices for sales to industrial users. Industrial users for the purpose of this regulation are federal, state, and municipal governments, industrial plants, and transportation systems, which use fence posts for the protection and maintenance of their properties. The maximum prices for sales of fence posts to an industrial user shall be determined as follows:

(1) Listed species; untreated or treated by non-pressure methods. (i) The maximum price from section 4, plus

(ii) An addition for freight computed by multiplying the appropriate estimated weight given in section 4 by the carload freight rate from the basing point given for that species which is nearest the seller's shipping point, plus

(iii) A mark-up of 15 percent to the total of (i) and (ii).

[1] 9 F.R. 1385.

(2) Listed species, pressure treated. (i) The maximum price from section 4 for the same size and species of post, plus

(ii) The appropriate additions for pressure treatment shown in Maximum Price Regulation 491, section 19[1] (c), Table 3, plus

(iii) An addition for freight computed by multiplying the appropriate estimated weight given in section 4 by the carload freight rate from the basing point given for that species which is nearest the seller's shipping point.

(3) Species not listed; treated or untreated. The seller's General Maximum Price Regulation price including delivery to destination shall apply.

(c) Maximum prices for distributors' sales to retail yards. On sales by a distributor to a retailer, the maximum prices for untreated posts shown in section 4 may be increased 15 percent, provided the sale is in less-than-carload quantity and the distributor's stock from which the sale is made is maintained outside the normal production area of the species sold.

NOTE: Retailers buying posts under this provision and reselling to consumers are still limited to resale prices determined according to paragraph (d) below.

(d) Maximum prices for retail yard sales. A "retail yard" under this regulation is a wholesale or retail lumber yard or other retail business which gets fence posts from producers, concentrators, or wholesalers; unloads, stores, and resells them to consumers; which regularly maintains a stock of merchandise including fence posts; which sells mostly for local delivery by truck; and which has been located at its particular site in order to be near a consuming area. The maximum prices for retail yard sales of fence posts, treated or untreated, shall be determined as follows:

(1) Listed species; untreated or treated by non-pressure methods. (i) The maximum price from section 4 for the same size and species of post, plus

(ii) An addition for inbound freight computed by multiplying the appropriate estimated weight given in section 4 by the carload freight rate from the basing point given for that species which produces the lowest rate to the seller's retail yard, plus

(iii) A mark-up of 33⅓ percent to the total of (i) and (ii).

(2) Listed species; pressure treated. (i) The maximum price from section 4 for the same size and species of post, plus

(ii) The appropriate addition for pressure treatment shown in Maximum Price Regulation 491, section 10 (c), Table 3, plus

(iii) An addition for freight computed by multiplying the appropriate estimated weight given in section 4 by the carload freight rate from the basing point given for that species which produces the lowest rate to the seller's retail yard, plus

(iv) A mark-up of 25 percent to the total of (i), (ii), and (iii).

(3) Species not listed; treated or untreated. (i) The General Maximum Price Regulation price of the supplier from whom the posts are bought, plus

(ii) Actual transportation costs from the supplier's shipping point to the retail yard, plus

(iii) A mark-up of 33⅓ percent to the total of (i) and (ii).

(4) Retail yard delivery charges. The maximum prices for retail yard sales established under this paragraph (c) include free delivery within the mileage limits and to those classes of customers to whom free delivery was extended in March 1942. On retail yard sales to those classes of customers to whom free delivery was not included in March 1942, or beyond free delivery limits, an additional charge for delivery may be made, according to (i) or (ii) below.

(i) Private truck. When delivery is by truck owned or controlled by the seller, the amount added for delivery may not be more than the actual cost to the seller of delivery by truck. This "actual cost" may not be higher than the over-all average trucking cost for a similar delivery arrived at as of the 12-month period ending December 31, 1942.

(ii) Common or contract carrier. When delivery is made by common or contract carrier only the actual amount paid to the carrier for transportation of the fence posts may be added.

(e) Sales by distributors or retail yards of posts priced in RMPR 324. The price and basing points to be used in computing prices under (c) and (d) above for all species priced in Revised Maximum Price Regulation 324 are set forth in section 4 of that regulation.

SEC. 4. Tables of maximum prices. The maximum prices for the species listed below are f. o. b. cars railroad loading-out point or f. o. b. trucks at the truck loading point as specified in the table headings. If a delivered price is to be quoted see section 5 for the permitted transportation addition.

SEC. 5. Transportation addition. Except as specially provided in section 3 (d) covering retail-yard sales and in paragraph (d) of this section for split redwood stakes hauled by trucks the following rules apply for computing transportation addition:

(a) Railroad or common carrier truck delivery. (1) The addition shall be computed from the applicable basing point specified in the heading of the appropriate price table. In the case of Western red cedar (Table 1) where more than one basing point is given, the applicable basing point is the one nearest the shipper's actual loading-out point. When the estimated weights in the tables of section 4 are used, the appropriate published rate times the estimated weight is the proper transportation charge, even though the estimated weights may be higher than actual. Estimated weights higher than those set forth in the appendices may not be used.

(2) When estimated weights are not used, the amount added for transportation must not be more than the amount actually paid to the common carrier.

(b) Contract truck delivery. When shipment is by "contract carrier" the proper addition is the estimated weight times the contract carrier's rate.

(c) Private truck delivery. When shipment is by truck owned or controlled by the seller the maximum permissible addition shall be computed as 5 cents per 100 pounds for hauls of not over 10 miles, 7 cents per 100 pounds for hauls of more than 10 but not over 20 miles, 9 cents per 100 pounds for hauls of more than 20 but not over 30 miles, and for each 10 miles over 30 miles, 1 cent per 100 pounds to be added to the 30-mile charge.

(d) In the case of split redwood stakes hauled by truck, the permissible transportation addition shall be computed by multiplying the amounts per M stakes shown in Table 3 by the actual highway mileage from the basing point (Scotia, California) to the point of delivery.

SEC. 6. Special specifications of listed species. Sizes, grades, or specifications of fence posts of the species and from the areas given in the headings of the tables, but not specifically priced in the tables, are nevertheless subject to this regulation. Maximum prices for such posts shall be determined as follows:

(a) The maximum price shall bear the October 1941 relationship between the special item to be priced and the most similar size or grade on which a specific maximum price is established in the tables. This relationship should be determined as it existed in October 1941 or in the first month before that in which sales of both items were made, and the price difference between the two items should be added to or subtracted from the maximum price in the price tables for the comparable item.

The tentative maximum price shall be submitted to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within 10 days of the use of the price, together with copies of the invoices of the sales which were used to determine it. If, within 30 days after receipt of the request for approval, the Office of Price Administration does not act on it, the price shall be considered approved and shall thereafter be the maximum price of that item for that seller. Pending approval or action by the Office of Price Administration, the seller may deliver the item and receive payment for it, subject to the condition that a refund will be made if the price is in excess of that finally approved by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) For any size, grade, or specification which cannot be priced under paragraph (a) of this section, the maximum price shall be the price established by the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., after full facts have been submitted in support of any request for the establishment of a maximum price. This maximum price may be established by a letter or telegram.

SEC. 7. Treated posts. Pressure-type preservative treatment additions are established by Maximum Price Regulation 491, section 19 (c), Table 3. On sales of posts of the listed species which are treated by methods other than pressure process, an addition may be made to the maximum prices contained in section 4, figured according to section 6 of this regulation. Posts of unlisted species, treated by any method, remain under the GMPR, except as covered in section 3 for retail-yard sales.

ARTICLE III—SPECIFIC DUTIES AND PRIVILEGES AND PROHIBITED PRACTICES

SEC. 8. Display of maximum prices. Any person selling fence posts at retail shall display in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public the maximum prices permitted under the regulation. The display shall be headed "Ceiling prices" and shall list the prices by diameter and length.

SEC. 9. Prohibited practices. Any practice which gets the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the price is as much a violation of this regulation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying-agreements, trade understandings, and the like.

Sellers must maintain cash discounts and credit terms no less favorable to buyers than the cash discounts and credit terms they allowed on October 1, 1941; except that a discount longer than 2 percent is not regarded as a cash discount under this rule.

It is a direct violation to buy or sell material as fence posts under and according to the provisions of this regulation, for use as saw-logs or for any other purpose than as support for fencing.

SEC. 10. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of shipment; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after shipment. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price or to give the authorization.

The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

SEC. 11. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of the regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[7] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 12. Records. Any person, other than a consumer, who buys or sells 200 or more fence posts in any one month must keep for a period of two years, records of items sold, names and addresses of buyers, date of sale, and price.

SEC. 13. Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for revocation of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 14. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[8] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended, may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 15. Exports and Imports. (a) The maximum price for export sales of all fence posts is governed by the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[9]

(b) The basic maximum price for imported fence posts of the listed species is the maximum price shown for the particular species in section 4. This basic maximum price applies f. o. b. cars at the port of entry, or if moving by truck the f. o. b. truck price applies. The f. o. b. cars price must be used, however, for computation of maximum resale prices under section 3. Transportation additions permitted by section 5 or section 3 must be computed from the basing point shown for the particular species in section 4. If more than one basing point is shown, the one nearest the point of entry must be used.

The maximum price for sales of imported fence posts of unlisted species is governed by the Maximum Import Price Regulation.[9]

This regulation shall become effective May 29, 1944.

NOTE: The reporting provisions of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 24th day of May 1944.

Utility Facilities: Sanitation facilities and facilities supplying electric power, gas, water and central steam heating which are an integral part of the housing project in cases where the owner of the facilities does not qualify as an "operator" under paragraph 1 of P–141 or as a "producer" under Paragraph (a) of U–1.

e. Roads and Other Land Improvements: All improvements which are accessory to and an integral part of a housing project, such as roads, driveways, walks, parking areas, terraces, retaining walls, fences, and private outdoor recreation facilities. Off-site access roads are not included.

f. Trailer Sites and Facilities, but not the construction of trailers (See Paragraph (e) of Schedule A).

g. Commercial Establishments: Land improvements, structures, facilities or fixed equipment for commercial establishments such as stores, restaurants, offices, theaters, and for public community buildings, only to the extent that such establishments are:

(1) An integral part of a project which is undertaken primarily for the purpose of construction, alteration or betterment of dwelling accommodations, and

(2) Specified in the application form WPB–2896, and

(3) Necessary for the utilization of the dwelling accommodations upon completion of the construction project.

Subchapter B—Executive Vice-Chairman

PART 3133—PRINTING AND PUBLISHING

Section 3133.9 Limitation Order L–241 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 3133.9 Limitation Order L–241—(a) The purpose of this order. This order does four things: First it limits the tonnage of paper which a printer may use for commercial printing. This is called his "consumption quota", and is based upon the tonnage of paper which he used for commercial printing in 1941. A printer may not exceed his consumption quota even though the paper is physically available to him. Second, it limits the tonnage of paper which may be accepted by or on behalf of a printer. This is based upon his inventory of paper. Third, it limits the basis weight of paper which may be used in printing certain items. Fourth, it limits the tonnage of paper which a person may cause to be consumed in printing certain items.

Definitions and Explanations

(b) Commercial printing. "Commercial printing" means all printing or duplicating produced by any type of printing machine covered by Order L–226 or any type of duplicating machine covered by Order L–54–c, List I, Item 5. However, this order does not affect printing which is covered by other orders of the War Production Board, as described in paragraph (j), and printing which is unrestricted, as described in paragraph (k). "Printed matter" includes duplicated matter as well as printed matter.

(c) Printer. The term "printer" is used throughout this order, for the sake of convenience and brevity, to include printers who operate printing machines and duplicators who operate duplicating machines. The order applies to every printer, including a printer who operates a private or "captive" plant as well as a printer who does work for the trade. The term does not include a publisher or a person who orders printing.

(d) Paper. "Paper" means any grade, quality, type, basis weight or size of paper, gummed paper, paperboard or bristol used in commercial printing. The term includes paper reclaimed wholly or partly from printed or unprinted waste, as well as paper made entirely from virgin fiber.

(e) Use. (1) Paper is "used" when ink is first applied to it by a printer. However, paper is not "used" under this order when ink is applied to it by penruling equipment. Sometimes paper is put through a press more than once, either by the same printer or by different printers—for instance, when several colors are used or when the imprint of a particular distributor is added after part of the printing is done. For the purposes of this order the paper is deemed to be "used" when the first application of ink is made by a printer. It makes no difference how many other applications of ink are put on the paper by the same or different printers.

(2) When a job is started in one calendar quarter and runs over into the next, the paper actually used during each quarter must be charged against the printer's consumption quota for that quarter. The entire job may not be regarded as if it were started and finished in the same quarter.

(f) Production waste. All production waste shall be included in determining the tonnage of paper which a printer uses in commercial printing.

(g) Inventory. "Inventory" means all the paper which is available for a printer's use. It is immaterial whether such paper is in the printer's hands or in the hands of a paper dealer or other person. Paper in transit is not included.

(h) Transfer of quotas. (1) Quotas provided by one War Production Board order may not be used for the purposes set forth in any other order. Thus, for example, a printer may not use for commercial printing any part of a consumption quota established under Order L–240 (Newspapers), Order L–244 (Magazines) or Order L–245 (Books and Booklets), and he may not permit any part of his consumption quota established under this order to be used for newspapers, magazines or books. An exception to this rule is stated in paragraph (o).

(2) It sometimes happens that one printer does work for another printer, and there is a question as to which one should deduct the paper from his quota. Printer A may "farm out" certain work by purchasing "press time" from printer B. This may be done, for example, where printer A cannot fill an order for a customer because he does not have available the right equipment, material, personnel, or facilities. In such a case, where the customer looks only to A for the finished product and where B acts merely as a sub-contractor, the paper may be charged against A's quota, even though B actually does the printing. This does not mean that A may assign his quota to B. The rules governing the assignability of quotas are stated in Priorities Regulation 7A.

(i) Exceptions. Certain paragraphs of this order contain exceptions to general rules. These exceptions apply only to the provisions to which they specifically refer. They do not apply to any other portions of the order.

Consumption Quota

(j) Printing which is covered by other orders. Certain types of printing are not covered by this order. When a printer adds up the weight of paper which he used in 1941, he may not count the paper which went into those items. Also, a printer may not use the consumption quota which he gets under this order for the printing of any of those items, except as provided in paragraph (o). They are:

(1) Newspapers (defined in Limitation Order L–240).

(2) Magazines (defined in Limitation Order L–244).

(3) Books (defined in Limitation Order L–245).

(4) Greeting cards and illustrated post cards (defined in Limitation Order L–289).

(5) Displays (defined in Limitation Order L–294).

(6) Wallpaper (defined in Limitation Order L–177).

(7) Boxes (defined in Limitation Order L–239).

(8) Converted products named in Lists A, B, C or D of General Conservation Order M–241–a, except gummed paper.

(9) Any other "converted products" defined in General Conservation Order M–241–a, except those which must be printed in order to serve the purpose for which they are made.

(k) Printing which is not restricted. (1) A printer is not limited in the amount of paper which he may use for printing which is ordered and paid for by a department or agency of the United States, its territories or possessions. This rule applies whether the printing is ordered as a separate item or is included in a contract for something else purchased by a government agency. Official Army or Navy post, camp, station or unit newspapers or news sheets are within this exception, and hence are not limited, if:

(i) They are ordered by the officer in command of the Army or Navy establishment on official War Department or Navy Department purchase orders, requisitions or contracts;

(ii) They contain no paid advertising; and

(iii) They are not owned, edited or operated by civilians but are run entirely by military personnel (although the printing may be done in commercial plants).

(2) Moreover, a printer is not limited in the amount of paper which he may use for official election forms, such as ballots and tally sheets, which are ordered and paid for by any State, County or Municipality of the United States.

(3) When a printer adds up the weight of paper which he used in 1941, he may not count the paper which went into the items described in paragraphs (k) (1) and (k) (2) above. Also, a printer may use an unlimited amount of paper for those items from now on.

(l) Computation of consumption quota. In the second calendar quarter of 1944 and in each calendar quarter after that, no printer may use for commercial printing any paper in excess of his quarterly consumption quota, which shall be computed as follows:

(1) Determine the printer's "quarterly base tonnage" according to either of the two following methods, depending on his individual needs. Having selected one method, the printer must use that method throughout the year.

First method:

(i) Add up the total pounds of paper used in 1941 for all types of printing;

(ii) Subtract the pounds of paper used in 1941 for the items covered by other orders, as listed in paragraph (j) above;

(iii) Subtract the pounds of paper used in 1941 for the unrestricted items listed in paragraph (k) above;

(iv) Divide by four. This is the printer's "quarterly base tonnage", from which the required reductions shall be made.

Second method:

(i) Add up the total pounds of paper used during the same calendar quarter of 1941 for all types of printing;

(ii) Subtract the pounds of paper used during that quarter of 1941 for the items covered by other orders, as listed in paragraph (j) above;

(iii) Subtract the pounds of paper used during that quarter of 1941 for the unrestricted items listed in paragraph (k) above.

(iv) The balance is the printer's "quarterly base tonnage", from which the required reductions shall be made.

(2) If the printer's quarterly base tonnage is not more than 1¼ tons, his quarterly consumption quota is 1¼ tons. Moreover, any person who used no paper whatever for commercial printing in 1941 may use a total of 1¼ tons per calendar quarter for commercial printing, beginning with the second quarter of 1944.

(3) If the printer's quarterly base tonnage is more than 1¼ tons, but not more than 5 tons, his quarterly consumption quota is the same as his quarterly base tonnage. Such a printer is not permitted to increase his quota to 5 tons in a quarter of 1944 if his quarterly base tonnage is less than 5 tons. For example, if a printer used 4 tons of paper in the second quarter of 1941, his quota for the second quarter of 1944 is 4 tons.

(4) If the printer's quarterly base tonnage is more than 5 tons but less than 6⅔ tons, his quarterly consumption quota is 5 tons. For example, if a printer used 6 tons of paper in the second quarter of 1941, the 25 percent cut would, if it were applicable, limit him to 4½ tons in the second quarter of 1944. However, he need not make this entire reduction, for his quota in that quarter is 5 tons.

(5) If the printer's quarterly base tonnage is more than 6⅔ tons his quarterly consumption is 75 percent of his quarterly base tonnage.

(6) In every case, the printer's quarterly consumption quota is subject to the borrowing and carry-over provisions contained in paragraph (n).

A printer may use his quarterly consumption quota for any type of printing which is not covered by other orders, as listed in paragraph (j). Also, he may use any amount of paper in addition to his quarterly consumption quota for the unrestricted items described in paragraph (k).

(m) Borrowing and carry-over. (1) A printer may add, under either method of computation, an extra 15 percent to his consumption quota in any quarter if he subtracts that amount from his consumption quota for the next quarter.

(2) If a printer uses less than he is allowed in any quarter, he may add the saving to his consumption quota in a subsequent quarter, or distribute the saving over several subsequent quarters.

(n) Total permitted consumption. A printer may use in any calendar quarter:

(1) His quarterly consumption quota as determined under paragraph (l);

(2) Plus permitted borrowing from his consumption quota for the next calendar quarter as provided in paragraph (m) (1);

(3) Plus any less-than-quota savings carried over from previous calendar quarters as provided in paragraph (m) (2); or minus any tonnage which had been borrowed during the preceding calendar quarter from his consumption quota for that calendar quarter, as provided in paragraph (m) (1);

(4) Plus ex-quota tonnage, if any, which may have been granted on appeal for consumption in that calendar quarter.

(o) Small magazine and book publishers. (1) If a magazine publisher's quarterly base tonnage is not more than 1¼ tons, or if a person has no quarterly base tonnage for the publication of magazines, he may cause up to a total of 1¼ tons of paper to be used for the printing of magazines in any calendar quarter, provided the tonnage in excess of his quarterly base tonnage, if any, is deducted from a commercial printer's consumption quota under Order L–241. Publishers who obtain a quota under this provision shall file with the War Production Board, within 15 days after such paper is used, a letter signed by the publisher and countersigned by the printer setting forth:

(i) The name and address of the publisher,

(ii) The name and address of the printer,

(iii) The title(s) of the magazine(s),

(iv) The publisher's base period consumption, if any, and

(v) The tonnage deducted from the commercial printer's quota under Order L–241.

(2) If a book publisher's base tonnage is not more than 5 tons, or if a person has no base tonnage for the publication of books, he may cause up to a total of 5 tons of paper to be put into process for the production of books in any year, provided the tonnage in excess of his base tonnage, if any, is deducted from a commercial printer's consumption quota under Order L–241. Publishers who obtain a quota under this provision shall file with the War Production Board, within 15 days after such paper is used, a letter signed by the publisher and countersigned by the printer setting forth:

(i) The name and address of the publisher,

(ii) The name and address of the printer,

(iii) The publisher's base period consumption, if any, and

(iv) The tonnage deducted from the commercial printer's quota under Order L–241.

(3) The above reporting requirements have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(p) Certification to printer. No printer may fill an order for (1) magazines, (2) books, or (3) any of the items listed in Schedule II of this order unless he receives, or has previously received, from the person who publishes or issues the item, a certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned publisher certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the printer and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with [insert the relevant provision: (1) Order L-244 (magazines), (2) Order L-245 (books), (3) Schedule II to Order L-241], and that all orders placed by the publisher with that printer for items regulated by that order [or schedule], as amended from time to time, will be in compliance therewith.

This is a one-time certification and need not accompany each individual order for printing.

Delivery Restrictions

(q) Limit on tonnage which may be accepted. No printer may accept, and no person may accept for a printer's use, delivery of any quantity of paper if his total inventory of all kinds of paper for use in commercial printing exceeds a 60 consecutive days' supply, or if acceptance of the delivery will bring his inventory above this level. The number of days' supply shall be computed at the average daily rate of allowable consumption for the current calendar quarter.

(r) Increase of deliveries. A printer may accept delivery of paper which would increase his inventory to more than a 60 consecutive days' supply of paper only in the following two circumstances:

(1) If the amount of a particular item in the printer's inventory is less than 30 days' supply, he may accept delivery of not more than an additional 30 days' supply of that item, provided the amount purchased is required for his production within 30 days of acceptance.

(2) Regardless of the quantity of a particular item, or of all items, in a printer's inventory, he may accept delivery of any item which he is entitled to accept under paragraphs (q) and (r) (1) in the unit quantity (e. g., full carload, full truckload, 10,000 pounds, 5,000 pounds, 4 cases) in which he accepted delivery of that item in 1941.

(s) Certification to paper dealer or mill. No printer may order or accept delivery of paper, and no person may deliver paper to a printer, unless the printer furnishes, or has previously furnished, to the person making the delivery, a certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned printer certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with Order L-241 and that all purchases by him of items regulated by that order, as amended from time to time, will be in compliance therewith.

This is a one-time certification and need not accompany each individual order for paper.

Issuance of Schedules

(t) Prohibited and restricted uses of paper and paperboard. The War Production Board may issue, from time to time, schedules which will prohibit the use of paper in certain items, limit the basis weight of paper which may be used in other items, and limit the tonnage of paper which a person who publishes or issues certain items may cause to be consumed in the printing of those items.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(u) Records. In order to assure compliance with this order, every printer must calculate, as accurately as he can, the tonnage of paper which he used during each quarter of 1941 for the items covered by this order. He must also keep accurate records of this type of information for each calendar quarter beginning with January 1, 1943. He must preserve these figures and his work sheets, subject to inspection by War Production Board officials as long as this order remains in force and for 2 years after that.

(v) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected by it are subject to all present and future regulations of the War Production Board.

(w) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal, or by filling in the pertinent information on Form WPB-3605.

(x) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to: War Production Board, Printing and Publishing Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-241.

(y) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

SCHEDULE I

(a) Limits on basis weights. No person may manufacture and no person may cause to be manufactured any of the items listed in this schedule in a basis weight, thickness, area or weight per unit greater than the maximum specified for such use.

(1) Art reproductions, without advertising—basis weight 25 x 38—120 #.

(17) Transportation and admission tickets—basis weight 22½ x 28½—90#.

(b) Exceptions to limits on basis weights. The above restrictions do not apply to paper which has been manufactured before October 21, 1943.

(c) Exceptions to Order L-120. Schedules I and III to Order L-120 provide:

Paper or paperboard may be manufactured for a particular use in any basis weight or thickness permitted for such use by this or any other order of the War Production Board, provided the basis weight or thickness does not exceed the maximum specified by the War Production Board for such use, and provided all other provisions of this or such other orders are fully complied with.

Pursuant to this provision the manufacture of paper in the basis weights specified in this list for items 1, 6, 7 and 16 is hereby permitted.

SCHEDULE II

(a) Commercial printing which is charged against the quota of both the printer and the person who issues the item. Certain items of commercial printing are subject to a "two-sided" limitation. As is the case with all types of commercial printing covered by this Order, the paper consumed in printing such items must be deducted from the commercial printer's quota; however, in the case of the items covered by this Schedule II, the same paper must also be deducted from the quota of the person who causes the items to be printed. In other words, the publisher or issuer of the item must reduce his consumption of paper for that item by the required percentage and he must also have the printing done by a printer who will debit his quota under paragraph (1) of this order.

If a person did not publish or issue, in 1941, a particular item listed in this Schedule, he has no quota for the publication or issuance of that item after January 1, 1944.

Any paper which a commercial printer consumed in printing these items in 1941 shall be included in computing his quota under paragraph (1) whether or not he prints any of these items after January 1, 1944. The paper which a commercial printer consumed in printing such items after January 1, 1944, must be deducted from his quota, whether or not he printed such items in 1941.

(b) Catalogs, directories, school yearbooks, music, song sheets, comic publications—(1) Consumption quota. During the year 1944, and each year after that, no person may cause to be consumed in the printing of any item listed in this paragraph (b) (1) more than 75%, by weight, of the paper which he caused to be consumed in the printing of that item in 1941. It is not necessary for the weight of each copy or edition to be reduced, as long as the total weight of the paper consumed in the printing of all copies or editions of that item is reduced by the required amount.

(i) Catalogs (including supplements) of 12 or more bound pages issued by a person who manufactures, distributes or offers for sale the products, commodities or services listed therein, except catalogs issued at intervals of more than 3 years.

(ii) Directories (except telephone directories) of 12 or more bound pages issued by a person whose primary business is not publishing.

(iii) School and college annuals and yearbooks.

(iv) Sheet music, music folios and song sheets which are not "books" as defined in Order L-245 or "magazines" as defined in Order L-244.

(v) Comic or cartoon publications which are not "books" as defined in Order L-245 or "magazines" as defined in Order L-244.

(2) Definition of "item". Each of the numbered subdivisions of paragraph (b) (1) is a separate "item", not individual publications covered by a particular subdivision. Thus, for example, a person who issued one type of comic book in 1941 may use his 1944 quota for the publication of any other type of comic book, but he may not use it for the publication of catalogs, directories, school yearbooks or song sheets.

(3) Carry-over. If a publisher or issuer of any of the items listed in paragraph (b) (1) uses less paper than he is allowed in 1944, he may add this saving to his consumption quota for the production of such items for 1945.

(c) Shopping guides, free distribution newspapers, want ad publications, free distribution publications in newspaper format—(1) Consumption quota. In the second calendar quarter of 1944, and in each calendar quarter after that, no publisher or other person may cause to be consumed in the printing of any shopping guide, free distribution newspaper, want ad publication or free distribution publication in newspaper format any paper in excess of his quarterly consumption quota, which shall be determined as follows:

(i) Ascertain the tonnage of paper consumed in printing that particular publication in the corresponding quarter of 1941, including all supplements, inserts and other printed matter physically incorporated into such publication or delivered together with it. This is the publisher's "quarterly base tonnage", from which the required reductions shall be made.

(ii) If the publisher's quarterly base tonnage in any calendar quarter is less than 25 tons, his consumption quota for that quarter is the same as his base tonnage. He need not use less than he used in the corresponding quarter of 1941, but he may not use more.

(iii) If the publisher's base tonnage in any calendar quarter is 25 tons or more, the following sliding scale of percentage cuts shall be applied:

Deduct 13% of the amount over 125 tons but not over 250 tons.

Deduct 17% of the amount over 250 tons but not over 500 tons.

Deduct 25% of the amount over 500 tons but not over 1000 tons.

Deduct 29% of the amount over 1000 tons.

The balance remaining after subtraction of the above reductions from the publisher's quarterly base tonnage is his consumption quota for that quarter. For example, if the publisher consumed during the third quarter of 1941 340 tons, his consumption quota for the third quarter of 1944 would be determined as follows:

125 tons 13% cut	106.75	tons
90 tons 17% cut	74.7	tons
340 tons quarterly base tonnage	299.45	tons quarterly consumption quota

(2) Carry-over. If the publisher or issuer of a shopping guide, free distribution newspaper, want ad publication or free distribution publication in newspaper format uses less paper than he is allowed in any quarter, he may add the saving to his consumption quota in a subsequent quarter or distribute the saving over several subsequent quarters.

(3) Transfer of quotas. Where two or more shopping guides, free distribution newspapers, want ad publications, or free distribution publications in newspaper format are published by the same person and are distributed primarily in the same city or trading area, he may combine or distribute his consumption quotas among his publications in that city or trading area. However, after May 24, 1944, no such publisher may transfer any part of his consumption quota to a different city or trading area.

(d) Certification. No person may order any of the items listed in this schedule to be printed unless he furnishes or has previously furnished to the printer, a certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned publisher or issuer certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the printer and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with Schedule II to Order L-241 and that all orders placed by the publisher or issuer with that printer for items regulated by that schedule, as amended from time to time, will be in compliance therewith.

This is a one-time certification and need not accompany each individual order.

PART 3133—PRINTING AND PUBLISHING

[Limitation Order L-244, as Amended May 24, 1944]

MAGAZINES

Section 3133.15 Limitation Order L-244 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 3133.15 Limitation Order L-244—(a) The purpose of this order. This order does two things: First it limits the tonnage of paper which a magazine publisher may cause to be used for printing magazines. This is called his "consumption quota", and is based upon the tonnage of paper which he caused to be used for printing magazines in 1942. A publisher may not exceed his consumption quota even though the paper is physically available to him or his printer. Second, it limits the tonnage of paper which may be accepted by or on behalf of a magazine publisher. This is based upon his inventory of paper.

Definitions and Explanations

(b) Magazine. A "magazine" is any periodical or "one-shot" generally recognized as a magazine in the magazine industry. The term includes all supplements, inserts and other matter physically incorporated into a magazine or delivered with it, and reprints containing 40 percent or more of the editorial content appearing in any issue of a magazine.

(c) Publisher. The "publisher" of a magazine is the person who causes it to be printed and undertakes the ultimate risk of the publishing venture. The term includes an individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not. Where a group of magazines is under common control, but each magazine is published by a separate business entity, a separate consumption quota and a separate delivery quota shall be established for each magazine. It makes no difference if several of these operating entities are subsidiaries of the same parent corporation, or are controlled by the same individual or group of individuals.

(d) Paper. "Paper" means any grade, quality, type, basis weight or size of paper used in the printing of a magazine. The term includes paper reclaimed wholly or partly from printed or unprinted waste as well as paper made entirely from virgin fiber.

(e) Use. (1) Paper is "used" when ink is first applied to it. The date of issuance carried on the magazine is immaterial.

(2) When the printing of an issue is started in one calendar quarter and runs over into the next, the paper actually used during each quarter must be charged against the publisher's consumption quota for that quarter. The entire printing may not be regarded as if it were started and finished in the same quarter.

(f) Production waste. All production waste shall be included in determining the tonnage of paper which a publisher causes to be used in printing magazines.

(g) Inventory. "Inventory" means all the paper which is available for a publisher's use. It is immaterial whether such paper is in the publisher's hands or in the hands of a printer, paper dealer or other person. Paper in transit is not included.

(h) Transfer of quotas. (1) Quotas provided by one War Production Board order may not be used for the purposes set forth in any other order. Thus, for example, a publisher may not cause to be used for the printing of a magazine any part of a consumption quota established under Order L-240 (Newspapers), L-241 (Commercial Printing and Duplicating), or L-245 (Books and Booklets), and he may not permit any part of his consumption quota established under this order to be used for newspapers, commercial printing or books. An exception to this rule is stated in paragraph (j) (2).

(2) No publisher may cause to be used in printing magazines any part of a consumption quota arising from the previous publication of another magazine by another publisher. No publisher may permit any part of the consumption quota arising from the publication of a magazine by him to be used in printing another magazine published by another person.

(3) The rules governing the assignability of quotas are stated in Priorities Regulation 7A.

(i) Exceptions. Certain paragraphs of this order contain exceptions to general rules. These exceptions apply only to the provisions to which they specifically refer. They do not apply to any other portions of the order.

Consumption Quota

(j) Computation of consumption quota. In the first calendar quarter of 1944, and in each calendar quarter after that, no publisher may cause to be used for the printing of magazines any paper in excess of his quarterly consumption quota, which shall be computed as follows:

(1) Determine the gross tonnage of paper consumed in printing the publisher's magazines in the calendar year 1942, and divide by four. This is the publisher's "quarterly base tonnage" from which the required reductions shall be made.

(2) If the publisher's quarterly base tonnage is not more than 1¼ tons, or if a person has no quarterly base tonnage, he may cause up to a total of 1¼ tons of paper to be used for the printing of magazines in any calendar quarter, provided the tonnage in excess of his quarterly base tonnage, if any, is deducted from a commercial printer's consumption quota under Order L-241. Publishers who obtain a quota under this paragraph (j) (2) shall file with the War Production Board, within 15 days after such paper is used, a letter signed by the publisher and countersigned by the printer setting forth:

(i) The name and address of the publisher;

(ii) The name and address of the printer;

(iii) The title(s) of the magazine(s);

(iv) The publisher's base period consumption if any, and

(v) The tonnage deducted from the commercial printer's quota under Order L-241.

This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(3) If the publisher's quarterly base tonnage is more than 1¼ tons but not more than 5 tons, his quarterly consumption quota is the same as his quarterly base tonnage. He need not use less than his quarterly base tonnage, but he may not use more.

(4) If the publisher's quarterly base tonnage is more than 5 tons but not more than 27.8 tons, his quarterly consumption quota is 90 percent of his quarterly base tonnage or 5 tons, whichever amount is larger.

(5) If the publisher's quarterly base tonnage is more than 27.8 tons, his quarterly consumption quota is 75 percent of his quarterly base tonnage or 25 tons, whichever amount is larger.

(6) In every case the publisher's quarterly consumption quota is subject to the borrowing and carry-over provisions contained in paragraph (k).

(k) Borrowing and carry-over. (1) A publisher may add an extra 15 percent to his consumption quota in any quarter if he subtracts that amount from his consumption quota for the next quarter.

(2) If a publisher uses less paper than he is allowed in any quarter, he may add the saving to his consumption quota in a subsequent quarter, or distribute the saving over several subsequent quarters.

(l) Total permitted consumption. A publisher may use in any calendar quarter:

(1) His quarterly consumption quota, as determined under paragraph (j);

(2) Plus permitted borrowing from his consumption quota for the next calendar quarter, as provided in paragraph (k) (1);

(3) Plus any less-than-quota savings carried over from previous calendar quarters as provided in paragraph (k) (2), or minus any tonnage which had been borrowed during the preceding calendar quarter from his consumption quota for that calendar quarter, as provided in paragraph (k) (1);

(4) Plus ex-quota tonnage, if any, which may have been granted on appeal for consumption in that quarter.

(m) Allotment to Army and Navy. (1) The War Production Board may from time to time allot to the Army and the Navy a specified tonnage of paper to be consumed in printing special "pony" editions of magazines which will be furnished to United States Armed Forces personnel overseas.

(2) From this allotment the Army and the Navy, under a delegation of authority from the War Production Board, may grant to individual publishers the right to add to their consumption quotas the tonnage of paper consumed in such special "pony" editions acquired by the Army and the Navy for distribution outside the continental limits of the United States. This allotment does not cover purchases of magazines by military exchanges or service departments as defined in Priorities Regulation 17 for distribution within the continental limits of the United States. All magazines sold to the military shall be charged against the publisher's consumption quota unless the publisher has received a specific grant from the Army or the Navy pursuant to this paragraph.

(n) Certification to printer. No publisher may order magazines to be printed, and no person may print such magazines, unless the publisher furnishes, or has previously furnished, to that printer a certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned publisher certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the printer and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with Order L-244, and that all orders placed by the publisher with that printer for items regulated by Order L-244, as amended from time to time, will be in compliance therewith.

This is a one-time certification and need not accompany each individual order for printing.

Delivery Restrictions

(o) Limit on tonnage which may be accepted. No publisher may accept, and no person may accept for a publisher's use, delivery of any grade of paper if the publisher's inventory of that grade exceeds a two-months' supply, or if acceptance of the delivery will bring his inventory above this level. The number of months' supply shall be computed at the average monthly rate of allowed consumption during the last six months of 1943. Grades of paper include, but are not limited to, the following: newsprint, novel-news, rotogravure, cover paper (all kinds), and the following grades of book paper: antique, English finish, machine finish, supercalendered, bulking, offset, and coated (machine- or brush-).

(p) Increase of deliveries. A publisher may accept delivery of paper which would increase his inventory to more than a two-months' supply only in the following two circumstances:

(1) If a publisher's total inventory of any grade exceeds a two-months' supply, but his inventory of a particular item is less than one-month's supply, he may bring his inventory of that item up to a two-months' supply.

(2) Regardless of the quantity of a particular item, or of all items, in a publisher's inventory, he may accept delivery of any item which he is entitled to accept under paragraphs (o) or (p) (1) in the unit quantity (e. g., full carload, full truckload, 10,000 pounds, 5,000 pounds, 4 cases) in which he accepted delivery of that item in 1942.

(q) Certification to paper dealer or mill. No publisher may order or accept delivery of paper and no person may deliver paper to a publisher unless the publisher furnishes, or has previously furnished, to the person making the delivery a certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned publisher certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with Order L-244 and that all purchases by him or items regulated by that order, as amended from time to time, will be in compliance therewith.

This is a one-time certification and need not accompany each individual order for paper.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(r) Records. Every publisher must keep accurate records, by calendar quarters, of the number of copies of each magazine which he caused to be printed, the tonnage of paper which he caused to be used for each magazine, the tonnage of paper of each grade and item of paper received during the quarter, and the tonnage of paper in inventory at the time of each delivery, subject to inspection by the authorized representatives of the War Production Board. These records must be preserved as long as this order remains in force, and for two years after that.

(s) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected by it are subject to all present and future regulations of the War Production Board.

(t) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in duplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(u) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to: War Production Board, Printing and Publishing Division, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: L-244.

(v) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 24th day of May 1944.

PART 3133—PRINTING AND PUBLISHING

[Limitation Order L-245, as Amended May 24, 1944]

BOOKS AND BOOKLETS

Section 3133.17 Limitation Order L-245 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 3133.17 Limitation Order L-245—(a) The purpose of this order. This order does two things: First, it limits the tonnage of paper which a book publisher may cause to be put into process in the production of books. This is called his "consumption quota," and is based upon the tonnage of paper which he caused to be put into process in the production of books in 1942. A publisher may not exceed his consumption quota even though the paper is physically available to him or his printer. Second, it limits the tonnage of paper which may be accepted by or on behalf of a book publisher. This is based upon his inventory of paper.

Definitions and Explanations

(b) Book. "Book" means any bound or loose-leaf collection of 32 or more pages. It also means any school workbook, educational test, or book intended for juvenile use, irrespective of the number of pages. Advance parts and supplements of books are included. For the sake of convenience the word "book" is used throughout this order, even though the order also covers items which are more commonly referred to as "booklets" or "pamphlets". Excluded from the definition of "book" and hence from the provisions of this order are the following:

(1) Magazines as defined in Order L-244 and newspapers as defined in Order L-240;

(2) Diaries, date books, memorandum books, address books, blank books, accounting books, sales books, business-entry books, ledgers, journals, and other items in book format (except school workbooks and educational tests) whose primary function is to provide space for the entry of data rather than instructional material, reading matter or illustrations;

(3) Albums less than half of whose pages contain reading matter or illustrations;

(4) Catalogs or advertising brochures issued by or for persons who manufacture, distribute, or offer for sale the products, commodities or services listed or illustrated therein, including inserts supplied by manufacturers or distributors to publishers who distribute them collectively in "catalog files," "cooperative files," "condensed catalogs," "catalog yearbooks," or similar reference volumes; Provided, however, That the paper used in the production of all editorial material contained in such volumes, such as prefaces, forewords, indices, blank pages, textbook data, classified directories, information, condensed and typographically standardized pages of product or service data, and display and all other advertisements shall be charged to the quota of the publisher under this order;

(5) Directories issued by a person whose primary business is not publishing;

(6) Printed matter of which no copies of any edition are offered for sale, either singly or in bulk, at any level of distribution. Printed matter is "offered for sale" if it is offered either in consideration of a monetary payment, as a premium, bonus or dividend, in connection with a correspondence course, in part consideration of society membership dues, or for any other consideration direct or indirect. Printed matter is "offered for sale" if the publisher receives any compensation for the inclusion of material therein.

(7) Instructional manuals concerned exclusively with the specific brand of products manufactured or distributed by the person issuing the manuals. (Instructional manuals applicable to other brands of the same or similar products are not within this exception.)

(8) School or college annuals and yearbooks;

(9) Cut-out or other game books covered by Order M-241-a, List D.

NOTE: Items (2) to (8) inclusive are "commercial printing" under Order L-241. Schedule II of that order limits the tonnage of paper which a publisher or issuer of certain of these items may cause to be used. Also, Schedule II of Order L-241 limits the tonnage of paper which a publisher or issuer may cause to be used in sheet music, music folios, song sheets, and comic and cartoon books which are not "books" as defined in this order or "magazines" as defined in Order L-244.

(c) Publisher. The "publisher" of a book is the person who performs, with respect to that book, the functions of a publisher as that term is generally understood in the book publishing industry.

(d) Paper. "Paper" means any grade, quality, type, basis weight or size of paper used in the production of a book, including end papers, labels, paper covers and jackets. The term includes paper reclaimed wholly or partly from printed or uprinted waste as well as paper made entirely from virgin fiber.

(e) Put into process. All the paper consumed in a single, complete, continuous printing of a book is "put into process" when the press run is commenced. Paper "put into process" includes paper printed by letter-press, offset or any other process.

(f) Production waste. All production waste shall be included in determining the tonnage of paper which a publisher causes to be put into process in the production of a book.

(g) Inventory. "Inventory" means all the paper which is available for a publisher's use. It is immaterial whether such paper is in the publisher's hands or in the hands of a printer, paper dealer or other person. Paper in transit is not included. When paper is put into process in the production of a book it ceases to be in inventory.

(h) Transfer of quotas. (1) Quotas provided by one War Production Board order may not be used for the purposes set forth in any other order. Thus, for example, a publisher may not use for the production of books any part of a consumption quota established under Order L-240 (newspapers), L-241 (commercial printing) or L-244 (magazines) and he may not permit any part of his consumption quota established under this order to be used for newspapers, commercial printing, or magazines. An exception to this rule is stated in paragraph (j) (2).

(2) This order does not prohibit the established practice in the book publishing industry whereby one publisher occasionally undertakes the sale and distribution of an edition or part of an edition of books published by another person. It does not sanction the acquisition by one publisher of another publisher's consumption quota. Quotas established by this order may not be bought or sold under any guise. The transfer of quotas is prohibited, except under the circumstances stated in Priorities Regulation 7A. The use by one publisher, directly or indirectly, of a consumption quota provided for another publisher is a violation, punishable in accordance with paragraph (x).

Except where specific authorization is granted by the War Production Board upon application in writing, paper which is put into process in the production of a book may be charged only against the quota of the person:

(i) Who is the publisher of the book; and

(ii) Who owns the copyright or the publication rights under copyright by assignment from the copyright owner; and

(iii) Whose publishing imprint appears on the title page; spine and jacket of the book to the exclusion of any other imprint or colophon of any kind; and

(iv) Who undertakes the ultimate risk of the publishing venture.

(i) Exceptions. Certain paragraphs of this order contain exceptions to general rules. These exceptions apply only to the provisions to which they specifically refer. They do not apply to any other portions of the order.

Consumption Quota

(j) Computation of consumption quota. In the calendar year 1944, and in each calendar year after that, no publisher may cause to be put into process for the production of books any paper in excess of his consumption quota, which shall be computed as follows:

(1) Determine the gross tonnage of paper consumed in the production of the publisher's books in the calendar year 1942. This is the publisher's "base tonnage" from which the required reductions shall be made.

(2) If the publisher's base tonnage is not more than 5 tons, or if a person has no base tonnage, he may cause up to a total of 5 tons of paper to be put into process for the production of books in any year, provided the tonnage in excess of his base tonnage, if any, is deducted from a commercial printer's consumption quota under Order L–241. Publishers who obtain a quota under this paragraph (j) (2) shall file with the War Production Board, within 15 days after such paper is used, a letter signed by the publisher and countersigned by the printer setting forth:

(i) The name and address of the publisher; and

(ii) The name and address of the printer; and

(iii) The publisher's base period consumption, if any, and

(iv) The tonnage deducted from the commercial printer's quota under Order L–241.

This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(3) If the publisher's base tonnage is more than 5 tons but not more than 20 tons, his consumption quota is the same as his base tonnage. He need not use less than he used in 1942, but he may not use more.

(4) If the publisher's base tonnage is more than 20 tons but not more than 100 tons, his consumption quota is 20 tons plus 85 percent of that part of his base tonnage in excess of 20 tons.

(5) If the publisher's base tonnage is more than 100 tons his consumption quota is 75 percent of his total base tonnage, or 88 tons, whichever is larger.

(6) In every case, the publisher's consumption quota is subject to the carry-over provisions contained in paragraph (k).

(k) Carry-over. (1) If a publisher used less paper than he was allowed in 1943, he may add this saving to his consumption quota for 1944.

(2) If a publisher uses less paper than he is allowed in 1944 he may add this saving to his consumption quota for 1945.

(l) Total permitted consumption. A publisher may cause to be put into process in any calendar year:

(1) His yearly consumption quota as determined under paragraph (j);

(2) Plus any less-than-quota savings carried over from previous years, as provided in paragraph (k);

(3) Plus ex-quota tonnage, if any, which may have been granted on appeal for consumption in that year.

(m) Restriction on paper for reprinting. No publisher may use in the reprinting of any book printed before May 24, 1944, paper of a basis weight heavier than that used in the last printing of the book before May 24, 1944, except that paper which was in the publisher's inventory on or before May 24, 1944 may be used for reprintings, irrespective of the basis weight. A publisher "reprints" a book if he uses any part of the type or plates used in a previous printing of that book or if he reproduces any part of it by offset or any similar process.

(n) Breach of contracts. As provided in Title III of the Second War Powers Act, no person shall be held liable for damages or penalties for any default under any contract which shall result directly or indirectly from compliance with this order.

(o) Allotment to Army and Navy. (1) The War Production Board may from time to time allot to the Army and the Navy a specified tonnage of paper to be consumed in printing books which will be furnished without charge to United States Armed Forces personnel in the continental United States, and to United States Armed Forces personnel outside the continental limits of the United States whether such books are sold or not.

(2) From this allotment the Army and the Navy, under a delegation of authority from the War Production Board, may grant to individual publishers the right to add to their consumption quotas the tonnage of paper consumed in such books acquired by the Army and the Navy. This allotment does not cover purchase of books by military exchanges or service departments, as defined in priorities Regulation 17 for distribution within the continental limits of the United States. All books sold to the military shall be charged against the publisher's consumption quota unless the publisher has received a specific grant from the Army or the Navy pursuant to this paragraph.

(p) Certification to printer. No publisher may order books to be printed, and no person may print such books, unless the publisher furnishes or has previously furnished to that printer a certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

> The undersigned publisher certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the printer and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with Order L–245 and that all orders placed by the publisher with that printer for items regulated by Order L–245, as amended from time to time, will be in compliance therewith.

This is a one-time certification and need not accompany each individual order for printing.

Delivery Restrictions

(q) Limit on tonnage which may be accepted. No publisher may accept, and no person may accept for a publisher's use, delivery of paper if the publisher's inventory exceeds one-fourth of his yearly consumption quota, or if acceptance of the delivery will bring his inventory above this level. This restriction applies to a publisher's total inventory of all grades, qualities, types, basis weights, and sizes of paper, regardless of the quantity of any particular item in his inventory.

(r) Increase of deliveries. A publisher may accept delivery of paper which would increase his inventory to more than one-fourth of his yearly consumption quota only in the following three circumstances:

(1) If a publisher's total inventory of all paper exceeds one-fourth of his yearly consumption quota and his inventory of a particular item (grade, basis weight and size) of paper is less than one-eighth of his yearly consumption quota, he may bring his inventory of that item up to one-eighth of his yearly consumption quota.

(2) If a publisher's inventory of an item is insufficient for a single complete printing of a particular book, he may accept delivery of a sufficient additional supply of that item in that grade, basis weight, and size for the printing of the book, provided it is put into process within 30 days after receipt of the paper.

(3) Regardless of the quantity of a particular item, or of all items, in a publisher's inventory, he may accept delivery of any item which he is entitled to accept under paragraphs (q), (r) (1), or (r) (2) in the unit quantity (e. g. full carload, full truckload, 10,000 pounds, 5,000 pounds, 4 cases) in which he accepted delivery of that item in 1942.

(s) Certification to paper dealer or mill. No publisher may order or accept delivery of paper, and no person may deliver paper to a publisher, unless the publisher furnishes, or has previously furnished, to the person making the delivery a certification in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

> The undersigned publisher certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board that he is familiar with Order L–245 and that all purchases by him of items regulated by that order, as amended from time to time, will be in compliance therewith.

This is a one-time certification and need not accompany each individual order for paper.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(t) Records. Every publisher must keep accurate records of the tonnage of paper which he causes to be put into process for books, the tonnage of each item of paper received by him and the tonnage of paper in inventory at the time of each delivery, subject to inspection by the duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board. These records must be preserved as long as this order remains in force, and for two years after that.

(u) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected by it are subject to all present and future regulations of the War Production Board.

(v) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of the order shall be made by filing a letter referring to the particular provisions appealed from, and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(w) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to: War Production Board, Printing and Publishing Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L–245.

(x) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

PART 3207—INDUSTRIAL TYPE INSTRUMENTS, CONTROL VALVES AND REGULATORS SIMPLIFICATION

[Limitation Order L–272, Schedule IV, as Amended May 24, 1944]

INDICATING DIAL PRESSURE GAUGES

§ 3207.5 Schedule IV to Limitation Order L–272—(a) Definition. A "gauge" is any instrument which measures and indicates, but does not record, any pressure or vacuum (regardless of the units specified on the dial) by means of a bourdon spring or springs, a diaphragm, or a bellows; or is any complete element assembly of such an instrument without a case. The following items are excluded, however, and are not gauges subject to this order:

(1) Airborne gauges.

(2) Any pressure regulator which consists of an enclosure containing a bourdon tube and a relay used for the control of an electric motor starter.

(3) Gauges for absolute pressure measurement which are compensated for barometric pressure changes.

(4) Liquid level gauges using diaphragm boxes or equivalent devices as primary elements, and suitable for level measurement in either open or closed containers or both.

(5) Automotive type gauges with dial diameter of three and one-half inches or less, either panel or engine mounted, which are used to indicate either oil or air pressure as they may be related to the operation of internal combustion engines, or to the air brake systems on construction machinery, passenger, industrial or farm vehicles.

(6) Gauges of a dial diameter of twelve inches or larger, having an accuracy of ¼ of 1% or better.

(7) Gauges sold as indicating controllers in cases which are normally used to house recording or pneumatic control instruments. If the manufacturer of these gauges buys the gauge elements from a dial pressure gauge manufacturer, however, the pressure ranges must conform to those prescribed in paragraph (b) (2) of this schedule.

(8) Draft gauges which are sold as such.

(9) Railroad gauges, which are covered by Schedule VIII to Limitation Order L–272.

(b) Specifications. (1) Gauges shall be manufactured only in the following sizes (expressed in inches-dial diameter for round dials and inches-horizontal width for square or rectangular dials): 1½, 2, 2½, 3½, 4½, 6, 8½, 12. This restriction on sizes does not apply, however, to the following gauges:

(i) Inspectors test gauges in the 3-inch size.

(ii) Submarine gauges and testing machine gauges in the 16-inch size.

(iii) [Deleted May 24, 1944]

(iv) Special gauges for specific Navy applications, the manufacture of which may be authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(2) Gauges shall be manufactured only in the following pressure ranges: 0–30 in. vac.; 30 in.–15 lb.; 30 in.–30 lb.; 30 in.–60 lb.; 30 in.–100 lb.; 30 in.–150 lb.; 30 in.–200 lb.; 30 in.–300 lb.; 0–15 lb.; 0–30 lb.; 0–60 lb.; 0–100 lb.; 0–160 lb.; 0–200 lb.; 0–300 lb.; 0–400 lb.; 0–600 lb.; 0–800 lb.; 0–1,000 lb.; 0–1,500 lb.; 0–2,000 lb.; 0–3,000 lb.; 0–5,000 lb.; and 0–10,000 lb. There are, however, certain exceptions to these limitations. The exceptions are:

(i) Ranges are not limited for pressures lower than 15-lb. or higher than 10,000 lb. p. s. i.

(ii) Ranges are not limited for gauges manufactured for use as pneumatic receivers in conjunction with remote instrument transmitters.

(iii) Gauges used on fire fighting equipment only may be supplied with pressure ranges of 30 in.–400 lb.; 30 in.–600 lbs.; and 30 in.–800 lbs. in dial sizes of 2½ inches, 3½ inches and 4½ inches only.

(3) Altitude and metric graduations shall be limited to the equivalents of the ranges specified in paragraph (b) (2) hereof.

(4) The following items, features and devices shall be eliminated in the manufacture of gauges:

(i) Retard and suppressed scale gauges, except where required by Army or Navy specifications.

(ii) Brass cases, except where required by Army or Navy specifications, or for 4½ in. and 6 in. gauges which are manufactured with a solid or reinforced front for use in plants manufacturing compressed gases, such as, but not limited to, oxygen, hydrogen, nitrogen, helium, acetylene and carbon dioxide.

(iii) Polished rings, except where required by Army or Navy specifications.

(iv) Plated rings.

(v) Inside case illumination.

(vi) Electric contacts on gauges larger than 2½ inches dial diameter.

(vii) Outside adjustable maximum pointers, or other outside operable pointers, except for testing machine gauges or where required by Army or Navy specifications.

(viii) Customer's name on dial.

(x) Duplex gauges, except in 4½-inch dial size.

(5) Gauges in sizes 4½-inch dial diameter, or larger, shall be manufactured with the following connections only, except where otherwise required by Navy or Maritime Commission specifications:

(i) Bronze bourdon tube gauges—¼-inch pipe thread only.

(ii) Steel bourdon tube gauges—¼-inch pipe thread from 0 to 1,000 lbs. p. s. i. dial graduation inclusive; ½-inch pipe thread from 1,000 lbs. to 10,000 lbs. p. s. i. dial graduation inclusive.

[Limitation Order L–272, Schedule VIII, as Amended May 24, 1944]

RAILROAD GAUGES

§ 3207.9 Schedule VIII to Limitation Order L–272—(a) Scope of this schedule. This schedule sets forth certain special rules which must be followed in the manufacture of "railroad gauges" which means gauges specially designed and manufactured for use on locomotives, railway rolling stock, subway trains or trolleys. Airbrake gauges are included, but gearless crank type movement gauges are not included. A gauge is any instrument which measures and indicates, but does not record, any pressure or vacuum (regardless of the units specified on the dial) by means of a bourdon spring or springs, a diaphragm, or a bellows; or any complete element assembly of such an instrument without a case. Schedule IV to this order, which applies to indicating dial pressure gauges, generally, no longer applies in any respect to railroad gauges, so Schedule IV need not be considered at all in connection with this schedule. Schedule IV continues to apply, however, to other gauges, even when they are purchased by railroad, subway or traction companies.

(b) Size specifications (expressed in inches-dial diameter). Railroad gauges shall be manufactured only in the 3½, 5 and 6¾ inch sizes, subject to the following special size limitations:

(1) Tank-level gauges shall be manufactured in only one size by each producer, and each producer may select the one size which he wishes to manufacture.

(2) Quadruplex gauges shall be made in only one size of casing, and each producer may select the one size of casing which he wishes to manufacture.

(3) Double-dial gauges and boiler gauges shall be made in the 6¾ inch size only.

(4) Duplex gauges shall be made in the 3½, and 5-inch sizes only, except that steam chest and back pressure gauges may also be made in the 6¾ inch size.

(5) Steam heat, booster, stoker, feed water heater and injector gauges shall be made in the 5-inch size only.

(6) Single pointer airbrake gauges shall be made in the 3½ and 5-inch sizes only.

(c) Range specifications. Railroad gauges shall be manufactured only in the following pressure ranges (or their metric equivalents): O–30 in. vac.; 30 in.–15 lb.; 30 in.–30 lb.; 30 in.–60 lb.; 30 in.–100 lb.; 30 in.–150 lb.; 30 in.–200 lb.; 30 in.–300 lb.; 0–15 lb.; 0–30 lb.; 0–60 lb.; 0–100 lb.; 0–160 lb.; 0–200 lb.; 0–300 lb.; 0–400 lb.; 0–600 lb.; 0–800 lb.; 0–1,000 lb.; 0–1,500 lb.; 0–2,000 lb.; 0–3,000 lb.; 0–5,000 lb.; and 0–10,000 lb. There are however certain exceptions to these limitations. The exceptions are:

(i) Ranges are not limited for pressures lower than 15-lb. or higher than 10,000 lb. p. s. i.

(ii) Boiler gauges shall be manufactured only in pressure ranges of 0–400 lb.; 0–500 lb.; and 0–600 lb.

(d) Design limitations. (1) Railroad gauges shall be furnished with bottom connection only.

(2) The following items and special features shall be eliminated:

(i) Ribbed or lugged back construction, except for bosses on the back of the flange at bolt holes.

(ii) Customer's name on dial.

(iii) Illuminated dial construction or attachments, except for quadruplex and double dial gauges.

(iv) Cases of copper base alloy. The bezel is not considered part of the case.

(3) Bezels shall be furnished in either the flared or close flat knurled types and shall be limited for each producer to his standard bezel in each type.

(4) Dials shall have a dull black background only, except that duplex airbrake gauges, quadruplex and double dial gauges may be furnished with white or silvered background dials.

(5) There shall be only one type of bourdon tube design for each specific service, and that shall be as follows:

(i) Double bourdon tubes for boiler, steam heat and booster gauges.

(ii) Either single or double bourdon tube design for single pointer stoker gauges. No manufacturer shall make single pointer stoker gauges in both designs.

NOTE: Subdivisions (iii) and (iv), formerly (ii) and (iii), redesignated May 24, 1944.

(iii) Single bourdon tube design for all other services.

(iv) Duplex construction shall be of the single bourdon tube design.

(6) Railroad gauges shall be manufactured with the following connections only:

(i) Bronze bourdon tube gauges—¼-inch pipe thread only.

(ii) Steel bourdon tube gauges—¼-inch pipe thread from 0 to 1,000 lbs. p. s. i. dial graduation inclusive; ½-inch pipe thread from 1,000 lbs. to 10,000 lbs. p. s. i. dial graduation inclusive.

(7) Railroad gauges shall be furnished with flanged cases only, and the bolt circle diameter and bolt hole drillings, if furnished, shall conform to the specifications in the following table (quadruplex and double dial gauges may be furnished with bracket feet for mounting):

GAUGE MOUNTING SPECIFICATIONS (IN INCHES)

Nominal size of gauge	Diameter of bolt circle	Size of bolt holes
5	5⅞	9/32

Holes shall be located at the third points on the bolt circle (120 degrees apart), with one hole at the top center. Sheared flange case gauges, however, shall be furnished with four holes for single pointer gauges, and three holes for the duplex types. Slotted openings for dial illumination shall be furnished in only one position and size for each quadrant.

PART 3291—CONSUMERS DURABLE GOODS[1]

[Limitation Order L-176, as Amended May 24, 1944]

DOMESTIC AND COMMERCIAL ELECTRIC FANS

Section 3291.135[2] Limitation Order L-176 is hereby amended to read as follows:

[2] Formerly Part 3029, § 3029.1.

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of materials and facilities for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3291.135 Limitation Order L-176—(a) What this order does. This order controls the manufacture and delivery of certain types of electric fans. It provides for the resumption of production of a limited quantity of 12 inch and 16 inch fans. Generally, it does not control heavy industrial type fans which are controlled by Limitation Order L-123.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Electric fan" means any propeller type fan designed for desk, pedestal, wall bracket, ceiling, or portable window mounting, which is powered by a fractional horsepower motor drawing 200 watts or less. It includes such fans whether completely assembled or assembled in knocked down form. It does not include any centrifugal fan or blower, propeller type attic fan, industrial propeller type exhaust fan or any fan which is a functional part of any equipment or device having a primary use other than ventilation.

(2) "Base period" means the aggregate of the years 1938, 1939 and 1940.

(3) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in the business of manufacturing or assembling any electric fan or parts for an electric fan, including a person who assembles parts of an electric fan for sale in knocked down form, or any person engaged in that business during the base period.

(4) "Special order" means any purchase order, contract or subcontract for delivery of an electric fan to or for the account of the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration if (i) the fan ordered conforms to applicable specifications for marine fans issued by the Navy or Maritime Commission, and (ii) the order, contract or subcontract states that the fan is for use on a combat or marine vessel.

(c) Permitted manufacture of electric fans. (1) No manufacturer shall make or assemble any electric fans except in models and quantities specifically authorized by the War Production Board on CMPL-150-b. Application should be made by filing Form WPB-3700 with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which the plant where the fans are to be made is located.

(2) Manufacture of electric fans will be authorized so that the total production will not exceed the approved War Production Board program and so that the production in any one plant, or labor requirements therefor, will not interfere with war production in that plant, or in any other plant located in the same area. Each manufacturer permitted to produce electric fans under paragraph (c) (1) will be given two separate quotas, one for military and export requirements other than special orders and another for other orders. Wherever practical each manufacturer will be permitted to make his pro rata share of the total production authorized based on his production in the base period. However, to insure full production of approved requirements, additional quotas may be assigned to qualified manufacturers. In general, the War Production Board will only authorize the production of 12 inch and 16 inch electric fans, and no single manufacturer will be authorized to produce more than one model 12 inch fan and one model 16 inch fan. Approval of models will be based largely on economy of production and the volume of production of individual models by a manufacturer in the base period. The War Production Board will from time to time or on request of any manufacturer give notice to all manufacturers of the total production authorized and the percentage of base period production authorized to each individual manufacturer.

(3) Manufacturers who are unable to produce in their own plant because of interference with war production may apply to the War Production Board for permission to have another person make fans for them. Each application should be made by filing Form WPB-3700 in accordance with its instructions.

(d) Certain production exempt. The restrictions contained in paragraph (c) do not apply to the production or assembly of electric fans to fill special orders.

(e) Effect on outstanding authorizations. All authorizations for manufacture or assembly of electric fans issued by the War Production Board before May 24, 1944, on appeals or otherwise are hereby cancelled as of May 31, 1944.

(f) Restrictions on deliveries of electric fans. No manufacturer shall transfer or deliver any electric fan except:

(1) To fill special orders;

(2) To other manufacturers;

(3) As authorized by the War Production Board on Form WPB-1319 for hospital, institutional or essential industrial purposes in response to an application in quadruplicate filed with the nearest field office of the War Production Board; or

(4) As authorized by the War Production Board on Form WPB-1319 in response to an application filed in quadruplicate with the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L-176, (i) to fill Army and Navy orders other than special orders; (ii) for export; (iii) in all other cases not covered by paragraph (f) (3).

(g) Restrictions on production of parts. No manufacturer shall make any parts for an electric fan (including repair and replacement parts) if by making those parts he would have more parts of that type in his inventory than a three months' supply. However, a manufacturer is not required to make less than a minimum practical run of any part (including repair and replacement parts) in order to comply with the provisions of this paragraph.

(h) Restriction on the use of copper and copper base alloy. No manufacturer shall use copper or copper base alloy in the manufacture of electric fans or parts for electric fans except in current carrying parts; motor bearings; and for identification, instruction and data plates on fans made to fill special orders as permitted by M-9-c.

(i) Preference ratings for purchase of electric fans prohibited. No preference rating for electric fans shall be valid for any purpose. All orders bearing preference ratings may be filled as unrated orders. This does not apply to any rating carried by a purchase order or contract calling for delivery (1) to fill special orders, or (2) to or for the account of the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration when authorized on Form WPB-1319, pursuant to paragraph (f) (4).

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Appeals. Any appeal from this order should be made on Form WPB-1477 and should be filed with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant to which the appeal relates.

(l) Applicability of other orders and regulations. This order and all transactions affected by this order are subject to the applicable regulations of the War Production Board. If any other order of the War Production Board limits the use of any material in the production of electric fans to a greater extent than does this order, the other order shall govern unless it states otherwise.

(m) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers Durable Goods Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-176.

(n) Reports. Every manufacturer producing or shipping electric fans shall file Form WPB-1600, executed in accordance with the instructions for filing that form, with the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: Order L-176, on or before the 15th day of July, October, January and April. This form is a report of the number of electric fans made and shipped during the preceding quarter.

NOTE: The reporting and application requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 24th day of May 1944.

REROUTING OF FREIGHT TRAFFIC BETWEEN GRAND TOWER AND GALE, ILL.

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 22d day of May, A. D. 1944

It appearing, that flood conditions and a washout between Grand Tower, Illinois, and Gale, Illinois, on the Murphysboro district, St. Louis division of the Illinois Central Railroad Company are interrupting transportation service upon that railroad so that it is unable to transport the traffic offered to it for movement over that route and thereby is unable properly to serve the public; in the opinion of the Commission an emergency exists requiring immediate action to avoid congestion of traffic, and in order to best promote the service in the interest of the public and the commerce of the people: it is ordered, That:

Flood conditions and washout between Grand Tower, Illinois, and Gale, Illinois. (a) Rerouting of freight traffic. Effective at once and until the further order of the Commission the Illinois Central Railroad Company, a common carrier by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act is hereby directed to forward freight traffic now routed over its line between Grand Tower, Illinois, and Gale, Illinois, via routes most available to expedite its movement and prevent congestion, without regard to the routing thereof made by shippers or by carriers from which the traffic is received, or to the ownership of cars: Provided, That the billing covering all cars rerouted shall carry a reference to this order as authority for the rerouting. All rules, regulations, and practices of said carriers with respect to car service are hereby suspended and superseded insofar only as conflicting with the directions hereby made.

(b) Rates to be applied. That inasmuch as such disregard of routing is deemed to be due to carrier's disability, the rates applicable to traffic so forwarded by routes other than those designated by shippers, or by carriers from which the traffic is received, pursuant to this order, shall be the rates which were applicable at date of shipment over the routes so designated.

(c) Division of rates. In executing the orders and directions of the Commission provided for in this order the common carriers involved shall proceed even though no contracts, agreements, or arrangements now exist between them with reference to the divisions of the rates of transportation applicable to said traffic; such divisions shall be, during the time this order remains in force, voluntarily agreed upon by and between said carriers; and upon failure of the carriers to so agree, said divisions shall be hereafter fixed by the Commission in accordance with pertinent authority conferred upon it by the Interstate Commerce Act. (40 Stat. 101, sec. 402, 418; 41 Stat. 476, 485; sec. 4, 10; 54 Stat. 901, 912; 49 U.S.C. 1 (10)-(17), 15 (4))

It is further ordered, That copies of this order and direction be served upon the Illinois Central Railroad Company and upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of all railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement; and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy thereof in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.
